JIM HOSTLER WIDE RECEIVERS COACH

COLLEGE: INDIANA UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA
BORN: 11/7/66, PITTSBURGH, PA
EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 14/6

Jim Hostler is in his sixth year as the team's wide receivers coach. Hostler, a former NFL offensive coordinator, guides a young unit led by third-year standout WR Torrey Smith. Under Hostler's guidance, the 2011 second-round pick has quickly made a name for himself in the NFL. In last year's Super Bowl season (2012), Smith's team-leading 8 TD receptions contributed to the most points (398) scored in single-season franchise history. The Ravens also posted the second-most total yards (5,640) in a season. In his rookie year (2011), Smith set Ravens first-year standards in receptions (50), receiving yards (841) and TDs (7). His 841 receiving yards were third in the NFL among rookies. Smith also became the first rookie in NFL history to record 3 TD receptions in a first quarter. WR Anquan Boldin, who spent three years (2010-12) with the Ravens, made an immediate impact following his trade from Arizona. In his first Baltimore campaign (2010), he became the fastest player in NFL history to record 600 career receptions (98 games). Also in 2010, WR Derrick Mason became the Ravens' all-time leading receiver in catches (471) and receiving yards (5,777). Hostler joined John Harbaugh and the Ravens in 2008 after a three-year stint with the San Francisco 49ers, serving as offensive coordinator in his final year (2007). As WRs coach for the New York Jets (2004) and assistant WRs coach for the Saints (2001-02), the former college cornerback helped develop players like Santana Moss, Wayne Chrebet, Justin McCareins and Donte' Stallworth.
