NFL WEEK 16: GIANTS (8-6) VS. RAVENS (9-5)

DEC. 23, 2012 • 4:25 P.M. ET • M&T BANK STADIUM (71,008)

JUST THE FACTS

- Earning the playoffs for an NFL-best five years in a row, the Baltimore Ravens will try to secure a second-consecutive AFC North title when they host the New York Giants this Sunday, Dec. 23. Kickoff has been changed by the NFL to 4:25 p.m. ET. The Ravens, now 9-5 after losing their last three games, need to win one of their final two contests to win the division. The Giants, who have lost two of their last three, are 8-6 and tied for the top spot in the NFC East with Dallas and Washington.
- Playing with a depleted defense and without two offensive starters, the Ravens struggled in a 34-17 loss to the visiting Broncos last Sunday at M&T Bank Stadium. It marked just the third time in John Harbaugh's five seasons as the Ravens' head coach that the team has lost three in a row. The key play in the game came with 30 seconds left in the first half when Denver CB Chris Harris stole a QB Joe Flacco pass intended for WR Anquan Boldin and raced 98 yards for a TD. Baltimore had a first down at the Denver 4-yard line with three timeouts remaining, trailing 10-0 at the time. The Broncos led 17-0 at the half and 31-3 after three quarters. Flacco hit TE Dennis Pitta for 2 TDs in the fourth quarter, the first for 31 yards and the second for 61, with Pitta breaking three tackles on the Ravens' longest play from scrimmage this season. The Giants were stunned at Atlanta, 34-0.
- To win the AFC North, the Ravens must win one of their final two games. The Bengals, a team Baltimore beat at M&T Bank Stadium, 44-13, in the season opener, is in second place at 8-6. Cincinnati won at Philadelphia, 34-13, last Thursday and plays at Pittsburgh this Sunday. The Steelers, who have lost four of their last five, are 7-7. The Browns, a 38-21 loser to the Redskins in Cleveland, are 5-9.
- Baltimore concludes the regular season at Cincinnati on Dec. 30. If the Ravens win the AFC North, they'll host a playoff game at M&T Bank Stadium the first weekend in January.

HARBS SAYS

"If you ask me to give you three words to describe this team, I'll use three that Ray Lewis used a few weeks ago: faith, hope and love. Those are biblical words, but those are probably the three most important words in the English language. Faith in each other and in whatever greater thing you believe. Always hopeful. You can be discouraged, but there is no such thing as being disheartened. Love is what holds the universe together. It's a selflessness that you put others before yourself. That's the ultimate team quality. We'll need a lot of all three to get us where we want to go."

INJURY REPORT

Five starters, three on defense and two on offense, did not play last Sunday against the Broncos: ILB Jameel McClain (neck), ILB Dannell Ellerbe (ankle), SS Bernard Pollard (chest), Pro Bowl G Marshal Yanda (ankle) and TE Ed Dickson (knee). WR Torrey Smith and RB Bernard Pierce each left the game with concussions. Starting defenders ILB Ray Lewis (triceps) and CB Lardarius Webb (knee) are on Injured Reserve, but Lewis is designated for return and is eligible for that move to the active roster.

NOTE THE QUOTE

QB JOE FLACCO ON BEING TESTED

"We're all being tested right now. It tests our leaders and our locker room, but we're a tight group. We'll all look into the mirror and see what each of us can do to get that next win. We're a 9-5 team right now, but it kind of feels like 0-14 after losing the last three. We believe we're a tough team with tough guys and guys with character. I think everyone will see that over the next few weeks and beyond that into the playoffs. It's going to take toughness. It's going to take putting these losses behind us. It's going to take us playing better and moving forward."

WHAT'S GOING ON?

RAVENS OWN AN NFL-BEST

Earning the playoffs for a fifth-consecutive season, the Ravens are the only NFL team to accomplish that feat. Baltimore has not only made the postseason each of the last five seasons (2008-12), but John Harbaugh is the only head coach in NFL history to go to and win a playoff game in each of his first four seasons. Here are the teams who have earned the playoffs the most in the last five seasons:

College: Rutgers Hometown: New Rochelle, NY

What has been your favorite moment on the field so far? "It happened this year, on my fourth-and-29 moment in San Diego. I know myself as being a playmaker, so when I got the ball, I just felt like it was time for me to make a play. I felt an emotion come over me like never before. After I found out we got the first down, there was definitely a 'wow' feeling."

If you had a time machine that would work only once, what sporting event would you want to visit? "I would have to go back and watch Michael Jordan play. Doesn't matter the year, I would just want to watch one of his games in the NBA Finals."

Was there a running back that you admired while growing up? "I grew up liking Emmitt Smith and Barry Sanders. Barry was the shiftest guy. I would watch how he would cut back across the field and make big plays. I try to model my play after several different backs now. People think because of my size I can't run between the tackles. But, I've proven I can. However, I also like to show my elusiveness in open spaces, too."

What has been your favorite community event that you do? "Thanksgiving at the Helping Out Mission, where you help feed families. All the Thanksgiving events really are my favorite."

What are the top three goals on your bucket list? "First one is to win a Super Bowl. The second one would be to go to Bora Bora, and somewhere down the line, I want to buy a new Lamborghini."

What is one activity from your childhood that you are excited to do with your daughter? "I can't wait to teach her how to play basketball. I'm pretty sure the one-on-one games will get pretty competitive, because I don't like to lose – even to my little girl. She's going to have it the roughest. I'm not going to take it easy on her. She can't win."

If you could have a superpower, what would it be? "I want to be telepathic. I would be able to read everybody's mind. I think that's very powerful. I could tell if they had good or bad intentions."

If you could paint a scene that you've imagined, what would the picture be? "It would be at the Super Bowl with the confetti dropping. Roger Goodell would be there, and the Baltimore Ravens are Super Bowl Champions. I've painted that picture in my mind so many times. I'm holding the Lombardi Trophy and just accepted the MVP award."

QUOTE THE RAVENS

BALTIMORE

FOOTBALL

“The most important thing to understand is that – and our guys understand this – every goal that we have, starting with our first goal, which is to win the AFC North, is in front of us. It’s still there, and every dream that we have, which is the ultimate dream, is still available to us. And that’s what you keep in mind. It’s a tough league for tough guys, and you have to find a way to put it behind you, improve, address the issues, own them and move on. That’s what we plan on doing. That’s really the message. It’s going to be the message now. It’s going to be the message next week. It’s going to be the message going forward.”

- John Harbaugh on Week 16’s message and moving forward

Pro Football Weekly’s Eric Edholm on the Ravens:

“It’s far too soon to write the Ravens’ obit. They can get hot offensively. The highly confident [Joe] Flacco believes it. [Ray] Rice can be reintroduced to the fourth quarter. The defense could get [Terrell] Suggs and [Ray] Lewis back on the field. Haloti Ngata could pull a 2011 Vince Wilfork and just will his team to a Super Bowl. Maybe Ed Reed can summon up one more great January. The pieces are there. [John] Harbaugh knows it. The problem is not enough people are recognizing it now. The Ravens have one gasp left. Expect it to be a pretty big one.”

Broncos QB Peyton Manning on S Ed Reed:

“I thought you said he was one of the best safeties, and I was going to correct you. He is the best safety in the league and has been really for this past decade. You can kind of go on and on. [He has] unbelievable ball skills, unbelievable range, great hands. You can tell what kind of athlete he is by what he’s done once he’s got the ball in his hands – returning [turnovers] for touchdowns. [He’s a] smart player. The list goes on and on.”

Jim Caldwell on being elevated to the Ravens’ offensive coordinator and play-caller:

“The reason why I coach and the reason why I’m involved in [football] is because I have a great passion for the game. I love a challenge. There is nothing about professional football that’s easy. It’s going to require everything you have and then just a little bit more. That’s what makes me excited about what we are doing. I get a chance to step in. The situation is tough. You hate to see a colleague lose his job. When you’ve been around as long as I have ... I’ve been fired a few times as well. That’s the tough part of it. But nevertheless, I certainly am excited about having an opportunity to work with some outstanding men in a great organization with outstanding people surrounding me. Let’s see what we can do.”

RB Ray Rice on FB Vonta Leach:

“He’s a bruiser. He wants to do one thing – he wants to destroy linebackers, and that’s all he thinks about doing. He’s like my armed security guard. I feel like I can go anywhere with Vonta, even if it wasn’t playing football.”

QB Joe Flacco on resilience and being competitive:

“I don’t think being competitive is hating to lose. I think being competitive is your will to win. Part of playing and part of doing what we do is losing and losing in very tough situations and losing very tough games. Being competitive is saying, ‘Hey, I’ve got to get back up, and we’ve got to do it all over again, and it’s going to take a lot of work, but we should be able to do it.’”

ESPN.com’s Jamison Hensley on John Harbaugh:

“Harbaugh’s greatest strengths as a coach are his attention to detail, motivation and focus, all of which are vital after an off-season like this one. Walk the halls of Ravens headquarters, and you’ll see one of Harbaugh’s favorite slogans throughout the building: W.I.N. (What’s Important Now). ‘You try to take care of business today, what’s important right now,’ Harbaugh said. ‘Today, let’s do our job, and then the future takes care of itself. That’s how it applies.’”

RB Ray Rice on LB Ray Lewis working to return to the active roster after tearing his triceps in Week 6:

“The guy, to me, is my modern day Superman. ... Why is he coming back? People ask that question all the time. He’s coming back because he firmly believes that this is a team that can go ahead and [make a playoff run]. He does it for us. He’s not doing it for the stats. He’s not doing it for the fame. He’s doing it solely because he loves the Ravens, he loves his teammates, and he loves this organization.”

Broncos CB Champ Bailey on WR Anquan Boldin:

“He’s a handful. You’ve always got a handful with that offense. It’s one of those things, you’ve got to stop their run game and a guy like Boldin to have a chance to beat this team. [Boldin is] physical, tough. He’s actually like a running back out there, but with receiver skills. It’s crazy, because he creates some matchup problems. He’ll do everything to get open. ... He’s not the only one to worry about. He’s definitely their go-to guy for the most part. But Torrey Smith is a guy you can’t sleep on. You’ve got your hands full across the board, but Anquan kind of stands out because of what he’s done over time.”

LAST WEEK: DEN. 34, BAL. 17

Two of the AFC's best squared off last Sunday with the Broncos cruising to a 34-17 victory over the host Ravens at M&T Bank Stadium. It was the Broncos' ninth-consecutive win, while the Ravens lost a third straight for just the third time in the five-year John Harbaugh era. Denver led from start to finish with the biggest blow coming at the end of the first half. Trailing 10-0, Baltimore drove to the Broncos' 4-yard line with 30 seconds and three timeouts left near the end of the second quarter. CB Chris Harris, in a momentum-turning play, grabbed a QB Joe Flacco pass intended for WR Anquan Boldin and raced 98 yards to the end zone with the INT to give the Broncos a 17-0 halftime lead. The Ravens played with a depleted defense, missing four of their top five tacklers (S Bernard Pollard, LB Jameel McClain, LB Dannell Ellerbe and LB Ray Lewis). Offensive first-teamers, Pro Bowl G Marshal Yanda and TE Ed Dickson, also were sidelined. The Broncos took a 3-0 first-quarter lead on K Matt Prater's 27-yard field goal. RB Jacob Hester's 1-yard TD run gave the Broncos a 10-0 second-quarter lead. The Ravens opened the second half with a K Justin Tucker 45-yard FG before QB Peyton Manning hit WR Eric Decker with a 51-yard TD throw that gave Denver a 24-3 advantage. Two minutes later, following a Baltimore three-and-out, RB Knowshon Moreno made it 31-3 with a 6-yard TD sprint. TE Dennis Pitta, who enjoyed a career-best day with 125 yards (on 7 receptions), made the score respectable with 2 TD catches from Flacco. The first was for 31 yards, while Pitta's second was a spectacular 61-yard catch and run that saw him break three tackles. Flacco completed 20 of 40 passes for 254 yards, and Manning was 17-of-28 for 204. Decker caught 8 of those for 133 yards. Moreno rushed for 118 yards on 22 carries. Denver held the ball 38:34 of the contest, limiting Baltimore to just 21:26. The Broncos' defense limited the Ravens' offense, playing its first game under new coordinator Jim Caldwell, to 1-of-12 on third down.

RAVENS WINNING WAYS

2012 ESPN FRANCHISE RANKINGS

ESPN The Magazine's Ultimate Standings ranked the Baltimore Ravens as America's 11th-best U.S. professional sports franchise (and third-best NFL franchise). Using a four-part process to rank MLB, NBA, NFL and NHL franchises, ESPN conducted a fan survey that covered 25 topics, from "has players who act professionally on and off the field" to "makes it easy to buy tickets through the team website." Through ESPN.com and NetReflector (a Seattle opinion research company), fans of the four major leagues were then asked to rate their favorite clubs in each of these 25 areas. Receiving more than 56,000 responses, every franchise was rated on seven categories: title track, ownership, coaching, players, fan relations, affordability and stadium experience. Lastly, ESPN determined how efficiently teams convert dollars from fans into on-field performance, including postseason victories. These calculations were the basis for an eighth category: bang for the buck.

COORDINATORS NOTES

CALDWELL ELEVATED

Jim Caldwell, a 35-year coaching veteran, joined the Ravens as the team's QBs coach in February 2012 and was elevated to offensive coordinator on Dec. 10, replacing Cam Cameron. Caldwell arrived in Baltimore after coaching the last 10 seasons with the Indianapolis Colts, including the previous three as head coach. In his first year at the helm (2009), he led the Colts to the AFC Championship and a berth in Super Bowl XLIV.

Caldwell, who earned a Super Bowl ring (2006) with Indy, spent six seasons tutoring one of the NFL's all-time greats in QB Peyton Manning. During the course of Caldwell's time in Indianapolis, the Colts achieved much success, tying an NFL record with nine-straight playoff appearances and winning six AFC South division titles. The Colts annually had one of the NFL's most prolific offenses, finishing in the Top 3 in scoring offense for five-straight seasons (2003-07). Caldwell, who also has an extensive background on the collegiate level, spent eight years as Wake Forest's head coach.

Caldwell leads a unit that during the John Harbaugh Era (2008-12)...

- Has rushed for 126.6 yards per game, fifth most in the NFL. Baltimore also has 82 rushing TDs, tying (Min.) for fifth most.
- Baltimore has committed only 102 turnovers during this span, tied (Atl.) for the NFL's third fewest. (Ravens set a team record with just 20 give-aways in 2010 and are +10 in 2012.)
- The Ravens' 23.8 points per game during this span rank ninth.

PEES LEADS THE "D"

Dean Pees, a nine-year NFL-coaching veteran, was promoted to defensive coordinator on Jan. 27 after guiding the Ravens' LBs for two seasons. He is the sixth "D" coordinator in franchise history. Pees, who was New England's "D" coordinator from 2006-09, now leads the Baltimore unit, which has finished as the NFL's third-best scoring defense four-consecutive years (16.6 ppg in 2011). The four-straight years tie an NFL record for consecutive seasons of being in the Top 3 for points allowed.

Pees leads a unit that during the John Harbaugh Era (2008-12)...

- Has allowed the NFL's second-fewest points (17.3) and the third-fewest net yards (307.0) per game during this span.

NFL'S TOP 100

It can be argued that the 100 best NFL players, as voted by the players in 2011, doesn't really represent the best. Maybe coaches or scouts have a different list. Certainly, there are reporters who compiled rankings of their own. Still, it's special for the Ravens to post seven players overall (tied with Phi. and SF for the NFL's most) – including five standouts in the Top 25.

NOTE THE NEWSOME QUOTE

"Three guarantees in life: Death, taxes and the Ravens ruling the draft. General manager Ozzie Newsome, [assistant general manager] Eric DeCosta and a great scouting department comprise a front office that always seems to be three steps ahead."

- FoxSports.com's Adam Schein, 2010

WINNING WAYS

The Ravens are the only NFL team to win a playoff game in each of the past four full seasons (2008-11) – and the only NFL club to earn a postseason berth in each of the last five seasons (2008-12).

MOST NFL PLAYOFF BERTHS / PAST FIVE SEASONS

Berths	Team
5	Baltimore Ravens
4	Atlanta, Green Bay, New England

• The Ravens' five playoff wins over the past four seasons tie Pittsburgh for most in the NFL. Four of the Ravens' victories have come on the road, tying the Jets for the NFL's most.

• All four of the Ravens' playoff losses over the past four seasons have come at the hands of the team that represented the AFC in the Super Bowl. One of those teams (2010 Steelers) captured the Super Bowl Championship.

• The Ravens have played an NFL-high 12 road playoff games since 2000. Baltimore's seven postseason road wins during this span are the most in the league.

20/20 CLUB

The Ravens' "20/20 Club" includes members of the team's personnel staff who started with the Ravens as young assistants and grew into evaluators with more input. The term "20/20" refers to hiring 20-year-olds for $20,000. According to Ozzie Newsome: "The guys actually started when they were a little older than 20 and for more than $20,000, but that's what we call them."

MILESTONES IN REACH

BALTIMORE RAVENS

- With a victory on Sunday, the Ravens will post their 150th regular season win in franchise history (149-120-1 record).
- With a win Sunday, the Ravens will clinch their second-straight AFC North title and their fourth overall (2003, 2006 & 2011).

WR ANQUAN BOLDIN

- Boldin (58 catches for 828 yards) needs 7 more catches and 60 yards to set single-season career highs as a Raven (he had 64 catches in 2010 and 887 yards in 2011).
- Boldin is also just 2 receiving TDs shy of 60 for his career and 172 yards short of reaching the 1,000-yard milestone for the sixth time.

QB JOE FLACCO

- Flacco (3,474) needs 149 passing yards to set a season career high (3,622 in 2010). With 6 TD passes, he'll set another career high, breaking his 25 mark from 2010.
- With 2 more starts, Flacco (78) will tie for the most consecutive starts in team history. (OLB Jarret Johnson is first with 80.)

LB RAY LEWIS

- Lewis, currently on IR - Designated to Return (arm), needs 28 INT return yards to pass Derrick Brooks (530) for the most all-time INT return yards by a LB. Lewis has 503 return yards on 31 INTs.

TE DENNIS PITTA

- Owing 7 TD catches, Pitta needs 1 more to set the Ravens' single-season mark by a TE. He's currently tied with Todd Heap (2005).

S ED REED

- Reed (61) needs 2 INTs to move past Dave Brown and Dick LeBeau for eighth most all time. Reed's 1,541 career INT return yards already stand as an NFL record, which he set in Week 1 vs. Cincy. (Reed has 4 thefts for 78 return yards this season.)
- Reed is tied with Everson Walls (3) for the most seasons leading the league in INTs and can become the first player in NFL history to lead the league in INTs four times.

RB RAY RICE

- Rice (38 career TDs) needs 3 more to tie Todd Heap (41) for the second most in team history. (Jamal Lewis is first with 47.)
- Rice needs 73 receiving yards to post his fourth-straight 500-yard season. If he reaches this milestone, he'll join Marshall Faulk as the only players in NFL history to produce four-consecutive 1,000 rushing/500 receiving seasons. Rice currently has 1,031 rushing yards and 427 receiving yards.

WR TORREY SMITH

- Smith (7 TD catches in 2012) needs 2 more to tie Derrick Alexander (1996 & 1997) for the second most in Ravens single-season history. Smith (94) also needs 6 catches to reach 100 for his career.

THAT M&T MAGIC

THE M&T ADVANTAGE

For the first time in team history, the Ravens went undefeated at home (8-0) in 2011, becoming just one of three NFL teams (GB and NO) to accomplish the feat last year. Under John Harbaugh (since 2008), the Ravens have won 23 of their last 26 regular season home games and are 32-7 in games played in Baltimore, ranking as the NFL's third-best home mark since 2008.

• The defeat marked the Ravens' first loss at home since 12/5/10, which also came against the Steelers (13-10).

• Pittsburgh's win in Week 13 snapped another streak: The Ravens had won 12-straight AFC North games, tying Indianapolis for the longest division winning streak since the NFL's 2002 division realignment.

• With Week 15's loss to Denver, the Ravens have dropped back-to-back home games for the first time under John Harbaugh. The last time Baltimore lost consecutive home games was in 2007 (12/3 and 12/9), a stretch that spanned 39 home games leading into Week 15's defeat.

The Ravens have held opponents to under 4.0 yards per rush in each year of their existence (an amazing 16-straight seasons from 1996-2011), ranking as the longest streak in NFL history.

MOST CONSECUTIVE SEASONS ALLOWING LESS THAN 4 YARDS PER RUSH

Team	Seasons	Years

LIMITING THE 100s

Dating back to the 1999 season, the Ravens have allowed the second-fewest 100-yard rushers (31) in the NFL. (Pittsburgh ranks first with 26.) The top teams stack up as follows:

STRONG SPECIAL TEAMS PLAY

Much of Baltimore's success this season can be attributed to the strong performances of the special teams units. In addition to posting a league-best 3 kick return TDs (108- & 105-yard KORs and 63-yard PR by WR/RS Jacoby Jones), scoring a TD off a fake FG (7-yard run by P Sam Koch) and being nearly perfect on FG attempts (K Justin Tucker is 25-of-27), Baltimore's return blocking and coverage teams have excelled. The Ravens rank second in the NFL in average starting position after a KO (24.9-yard line) and stand fourth in opponent average starting field position following a kickoff (20.3-yard line).

HEAD COACH JOHN HARBAUGH MONDAY PRESS CONFERENCE

Opening statement: “Good to see everybody. Thanks for coming. The injury thing, we have an announcement: Jameel McClain has a spinal cord contusion from last week. He has seen two specialists now. He will be done for the season on that. That will not have time to heal before the end of the season. We had a couple of concussions with Bernard [Pierce] and Torrey [Smith]. We’ll see as the week goes on how those guys progress from those things. Obviously, those things are unpredictable. All the rest of it from the game is all stuff that guys should be working on this week, and we’ll just see if they can practice and how much they can practice. We have some optimism with that. The guys that are out from last week, Marshal [Yanda] and Bernard [Pollard], we’ll see how they go as the week goes along. Ed Dickson, [is] the same. That’s really it on injury stuff.”

When things are going as they’ve been going, there are all sorts of speculation and blame that could be thrown all over the place, but do you make a concerted effort to shield or deflect it away from players and coaches? Do you want to have it all on you? (Joe Platania) “We don’t get into all the blame stuff. Ultimately, it’s all on me, yeah, sure. As a head coach, that’s your responsibility. So, it’s my job to get us in the best position to play the best we can and get our team ready and motivated. Just like all of it, we own that, I own that. I’m disappointed with how we played the last couple of weeks, because it hasn’t been good enough to find a way to win. But, I’m proud of the way we fight. I’m proud of the way our guys compete. I’m proud of the way they overcome adversity. And, we’ll take all that into the next week and see how we do.”

In terms of Bernard Pollard, was he close this week? (Aaron Wilson) “I’m not getting into all that. Close, not close ... What difference does it make?”

Talk about your decision to not go for two points down 18 with about four minutes left in the game? (Jerry Coleman) “To me, it’s a simple decision. Your chances of making three two-point conversions in a row are lower than your chances of scoring two touchdowns and getting a field goal.”

John, has anyone stepped up, specifically any one player, during this three-game streak leading that we wouldn’t necessarily know from outside the locker room? (Drew Forrester) “A lot of young guys have stepped up really well. Through all of this, some unexpected guys have stepped up and played exceptionally well. I don’t have that list in front of me right now, but I can give you one name that just pops into my head – it’s Corey Graham. Corey Graham has really played well. He’s played at a really high level. I am really proud of how he has done. Josh Bynes really played well yesterday. He stepped in and played well. When I start mentioning names, I feel like I am going to leave guys out. Pernell McPhee, who had the groin pull earlier in the week, got ready for Sunday and stepped in there and played really well. Our defense did a really nice job for a good stretch of the game. We had a number of three-and-outs in the first half, which is pretty impressive when you are playing that offense and you’re playing that quarterback. There are many things to improve upon, but there are also many things to build on, and that’s what I’m excited about. So, how far away are we and how much better do we need to get? We say we need to find a way to get just a little bit better in everything we are doing. Will that be the difference to make us the kind of team that we want to be when we hit the playoffs? That’s the goal right now. We have two things we are looking at: Our No. 1 objective right now is to win the AFC North. That is a mighty accomplishment. And with the adversity that we face, we are going to be darn proud of that, but we have to earn that. And that’s in front of us. That’s a goal that’s right in front of us. And then our dream is to win the ultimate prize. That’s a possibility, too; that’s an opportunity that we have. So, how good can we get? We need to get healthy and we need to get better. If we can do those two things, we give ourselves a chance.”

You are a playoff team, yet the aura around here doesn’t seem like that. How do you guys take it? I realize your goal is to win the AFC North, but you are in there for the fifth-straight year. Is there any feeling of accomplishment thus far? (Dave Ginsburg) “Sure. We’re proud of the fact [that we’ve made the playoffs]. We’ve owned our five losses, or we’ve owned the last three loses. We also own the nine wins, so we are what we are. We are what our record says we are, and we’re in contention, and we’re proud of that. But, we know we have to get better, and we have to get healthy. We go to work; that’s what we do. So, any aura ... I haven’t noticed an aura. We’re not looking for auras.”

Terrell Suggs kept coming in and out of the game and looked like he was in a lot of pain. How did you guys manage what he was able to do, and do you feel like it is something that can improve going forward? (Aaron Wilson) “With regards to what? (Wilson: “Terrell, he was in obvious pain. He kept coming in and out of the game.”) Was he in obvious pain? Did you ask him about it? (Wilson: “I tried to. He was pretty quiet after game.”) I’m not aware of that. (Wilson: “He left the game several times.”) I’m not aware of the pain. I’m not sure what you’re talking about. (Wilson: “Just about his biceps ...”) Just give me a better question. Give me a question that doesn’t assume certain things that aren’t true.”

How did you feel like Terrell Suggs played? (Aaron Wilson) "I thought he played well. I thought he fought and battled out there. He has a lot of courage. He is a fighter. I like Terrell Suggs. He is a warrior."

What are some of the other positive things that you can take away from the game? Obviously, the defense stepping up there, particularly in the beginning, but what are some of the other assessments after watching the tape? (Kris Jones) "Our special teams played well. We had the one punt return that slid up the sideline that we could have covered a little better, but to take that returner and bottle him up the way we did, both in kickoff and punt return, was really good. Our kickoff returns were out a couple of times. We were actually close on a couple punt returns. Offensively, there were some good things in there, as far as throwing the ball, especially towards the end of the game. We'd like to run the ball a little better than we did. I am a little disappointed in that. We tried to get that going, and there just wasn't much happening there. We need to sustain. We need to be a little more consistent, make a few more plays and get first downs. It's been the thing, really, that's been the same issue all year. We understand that. We're struggling with consistency. That's something that we have to find between now and when the playoffs start. We are going to work hard to do that. I don't think we're that far away. I really believe we're close, and we'll keep fighting for that. We have really good players and hard workers. When you take it in perspective, put it in perspective, you look around the league, and there are only a few teams right now that are clicking on all cylinders. And even sometimes, they don't click on all cylinders when you watch. You watch last night, and you watch the week before and the week before that. It's a tough league. It's a tough league for tough people. We have a bunch of tough men, so that's what we'll do."

John, I know you addressed this yesterday a little bit, but after you watched the tape and you saw how the end of the first half broke down, do you wish you would have taken a timeout there? (Mark Zinno) "It's always a good question. The question is from what perspective? From a strategy standpoint generally, or from an outcome standpoint? (Zinno: "Obviously, from an outcome standpoint, you want it to be different. When you look back at the tape, is there anything that when you looked at and said one of these options would have worked or maybe if I would have thought about it a little longer, as opposed to just kind of being in the moment?") That's a split-second decision that you make. The idea there – and we've done that before – it's a strategy choice that we make to keep them on their heels. It has nothing to do with how many timeouts we have. We made a decision there that they were on their heels, they were trying to make a substitution, and we noticed that, so we wanted to get on the ball and run a play. That's what we tried to do. Hindsight, outcome? Absolutely. Huddle-up and regroup. That's a pretty easy assessment at this point. So, absolutely, from an outcome standpoint, I wish we would have done it differently. But, it's not something we're going to throw out of the playbook. It's something that we feel good about, and it's had a lot of success in the past, and we'll have success with that in the future. We'll mix it in. That's a good question."

It looked like the offensive line really struggled with both run blocking and pass blocking yesterday. How would you assess the offensive line's performance yesterday and kind of progression over the last few weeks? (Brett Hollander) "[Denver has] a really good front, first of all. We knew we had to find a way to minimize the damage done by those two defensive ends. We did that to a large extent. We didn't have a sack until late when we were kind of in desperation mode, and we were just trying to make a statement maybe. Those sacks are on me, because that's the way I wanted to play the game at the end. So, I don't put that on the offensive line. That being said, we need to run the ball better. We need to be able to run the ball against the front – any front – and that's something that we have to do a better job with."

Does the linebacker position – now with Jameel [McClain] out – is that something that you are going to need to address this week in terms of bringing somebody in for the open roster spot? (Jeff Zrebiec) "We might need to, yeah. We will have to see how that goes – see what's available."

Coach, how involved was [offensive coordinator] Jim Caldwell in terms of the game plan and you in terms of coordinating. It looked like there were a couple of sets there that we had never seen with him in Indianapolis. Just wondering on your input versus his because of the short span [since he became offensive coordinator]. (Jerry Coleman) "Jim [Caldwell] and our staff – I would say – collaborated really well to coordinate a game plan and put a game plan together. I was real pleased with the game plan. We've had a lot of great game plans. We have had great game plans here for five years. Some have worked out better than others. They're always based on the things that you think are going to work and are going to give you a chance for success. The game plan was really good. It was little bit different than what we've had before in some ways, but it was all within the system that has been built here. It wasn't anything completely different than what we've had. We're going to try to do a better job with it in the future."

Does it look like Joe [Flacco] is pressing to you? (Drew Forrester) "I hope everybody is pressing. I really do. I hope we are all pressing. I hope we are all doing everything we can do to get a little bit better. Where the line is between that and overdoing it, I don't know. We are all going to press. I'm for pressing."

Do you think some of the struggles with the run game early on were just the Broncos picking up certain tendencies? I know out of the seven drives that you had the first half, besides two passes to [Vonta] Leach, they were all runs on first-and-10. Is that something that you saw them picking up on and adjusted the second half? (Kris Jones) “Our goal is always going to be to mix the ball on first down. We probably could have mixed in more passes there on first down on that stretch – no question. But you want to be committed, and you want to try to get something going in the run game, too. If we get a few more yards in the run game, then those second downs and those third downs, you have a little better of a chance of accomplishing converting on third down. Third-and-8, third-and-9, third-and-10 is a little bit tougher. That’s a balance, but sure, that’s something that we can do a little better job of balancing.”

How did you think Jimmy Smith looked? He played about a dozen plays. Do you anticipate a bigger workload for him this week? (Luke Jones) “We’ll just have to see. That’s a type of an injury where you ... He wasn’t a 100 percent out there, and that’s something that you really don’t know until you get into the game. Unfortunately, he wasn’t as quick as I would have hoped he would be. We’ll just have to see how he does this week. Sometimes in practice it’s a little harder to judge that.”

Are the unsportsmanlike conduct penalties bother you – either Anquan’s [Boldin] or Cary’s [Williams]? (Drew Forrester) “Anquan’s [Boldin] does not bother me at all. Anquan was blocking back. It was a legal block. I saw it on tape today. It was a block when Joe [Flacco] was running out and a guy was pursuing to tackle Joe, and it was a perfectly legal block. What was the other one? Cary [Williams]? Cary’s was late. Cary’s was out of bounce and late. Cary would be the first to tell you that was a mistake.”

Much is made about fans booing the home team, especially given the performances you’ve had in your career at home. Were you shocked a little bit at the reaction of the crowd? (Kris Jones) “No, where I come from, that’s a pretty normal occurrence. (laughter) [I have] heard that before. That to me is painful. There’s no question about it. It stings, but rightfully so. That’s the way that we had played. We had done things that you just can’t do if you want to win a football game against a good team, and we did it in the most inopportune times. We did it early – the first drive – and we did it right around halftime. Those are the two situations where you really don’t want those things to happen more than any other situation. We deserved it. We’ve got to go earn those cheers. That’s up to us.”

Was Joe [Flacco] left in the game because you wanted him to get familiarized even more with Jim [Caldwell]? (Jerry Coleman) “We aren’t into taking guys out of the game. All that stuff, that’s not what we do. Anybody can debate that all they want. Look around the league. See what other coaches do. That’s not what they do either. I’m not even getting into that conversation.”

Is this the toughest three-game stretch you’ve had in your career? I know you’ve had three-game losing streaks before, but... (Mark Zinno) “We had one early on [in both 2008 and 2009] – this is the [third] one. I am counting. (laughter) We do know. This has been difficult. It’s been challenging. But to me, any adversity, any challenge presents an opportunity. It’s an opportunity for our guys to demonstrate – for all of us – to establish who we are [and] what we’re about. It’s a little easier when things are going well for people to see good, for people to be in a good place. It’s a little tougher when things get tough. [There’s] the old saying, ‘When the going gets tough, the tough get going.’ We’ve got some tough guys, mentally-tough guys, and I’m looking forward to seeing how we respond to it.”

John, do you see any similarities to you and your brother and what the Manning brothers are to the NFL? (Joe Platanía) “Jim and I are older, so we probably have more years behind us, right? Oh, you mean closer age-wise? Do we see similarities there? Well, they’ve got two talented throwers ... I guess I’m the black sheep there; I wasn’t a very good athlete compared to all those guys, so maybe that’s the biggest difference. It’s something that ... I’m proud of it. I’m proud of the fact that Jim is doing well. I was proud of Jim last night – his football team going in that building in there and playing the way they played and winning that game. I’m sure the Mannings feel the same way when they see each other.”

John, what was the message to the team today? (Aaron Wilson) “Get healthy, get better. We’ve got work to do, and like we always do, we’re going to try to become – we’re going to do everything we can do and fight like crazy to become – the team that we’re capable of becoming. And we’re not that team yet. It’s a long season, but all of our goals and all of our dreams are squarely in front of us. And that’s what we’re shooting for.”

Is it hard to get that message across when you’re riding a three-game losing streak? (Jerry Coleman) “Not to our players it’s not. Coaches and players, we all understand that.”

Coach, the last two Super Bowl champions kind of stumbled a little bit down the stretch. Is that something that you can say to your players, or does everybody already know that? (Ryan Mink) “We have mentioned that. We do give history lessons quite often; sometimes it’s National Football League history and sometimes it’s real history. But it depends where you want to dwell, what you want to dwell on. You can dwell on those things that aren’t so helpful, or you can choose to dwell on hope. And that’s what we do. You can’t do it any other way when you’ve got to line up and play next week against another team that’s contending for the playoffs and for a division championship. How many games has it been in a row that we’ve been in dogfights with teams that have everything at stake when we play them? We’ve played overtime games; we’ve played overtime games that have gone almost the whole overtime; we’ve been in physical games; we’ve been in heartbreaking losses; and we’ve been in exhilarating victories at the end. We’ve seen it all this year. We’ve had injuries, we’ve had adversity, we’ve had exhilaration, and we’ve had great moments. So, that’s what a season is made of, and the team that navigates all these things the best in the end will be the one true champion. That’s in front of us. That’s what we’re looking to accomplish. So, make no mistake about it; we’re not backing down from that. All the other stuff, it’s just noise to us. It doesn’t mean much. We know what our goals are.”
