WEEK 7: RAVENS (3-3) AT STEELERS (1-4)

SUNDAY, OCT. 20, 2013 • 4:25 P.M. ET • HEINZ FIELD (65,050)

JUST THE FACTS

- For the third time in four weeks, the Ravens will play on the road. This time it's the annual trip to Pittsburgh, where they will battle the Steelers this Sunday, Oct. 20, at Heinz Field. Kickoff is 4:25 p.m. ET. The Ravens, winners in three of their last five games, take a 3-3 record to Pittsburgh. The Steelers, meanwhile, earned their first victory of the season last Sunday and have a 1-4 mark.
- While the Steelers won the last time these two rivals met (23-20 on 12/2/12 at M&T Bank Stadium), Baltimore has earned victories in three of the last four games against Pittsburgh. The Ravens have also won the last three regular season visits to the confluence, each by three points: 13-10 on 11/18/12, 23-20 on 11/6/11 and 17-14 on 10/3/10. Pittsburgh did stop the Ravens, 31-24, in the Divisional Round of the 2010 playoffs on 1/15/11 at Heinz Field.
- Last Sunday, the Ravens' attempt at a dramatic come-from-behind win came up short, as they dropped a 19-17 decision to the Packers at M&T Bank Stadium. Green Bay took a 16-3, third-quarter advantage after leading 6-0 at the half. Baltimore, however, bounced back to come within 2 points at 19-17 with 2:04 left in the contest and with three timeouts remaining. QB Aaron Rodgers, on a third-and-3 on the next series, hit TE Jeremiae Finley with a 52-yard reception to keep possession of the ball. QB Joe Flacco was valiant in the comeback effort, completing 20 of 34 passes for 342 yards with 2 TD passes and 0 INTs. The Steelers, meanwhile, won their first game of the season, a 19-6 triumph in New Jersey over the Jets.
- After the trip to Pittsburgh, the Ravens will enjoy their bye weekend before another road game when they play at Cleveland on Nov. 3.

HARBS SAYS

"If you love football, then you love Ravens against the Steelers. We bring out the best in each other. Both teams know what's coming, and the football is tough and hard-nosed. We have tremendous respect for them and love playing against them. I suspect they feel the same way. In many seasons, we define who we are when we play each other. We know they will get after us and that their crowd will be waving the towels, the music will be blaring, and the atmosphere will be electric. We're excited about Sunday's game."

INJURY REPORT

Four Ravens missed the game vs. Green Bay with injuries: DT Terrence Cody (knee), C Ryan Jensen (foot), DE Marcus Spears (knee) and WR Brandon Stokley (thigh). There were no new injuries reported following last Sunday's contest against the Packers. TE Dennis Pitta (hip), OLB D.J. Bryant (knee), OLB Adrian Hamilton (wrist) and WR Aaron Mellette (knee) are on Injured Reserve. (Pitta is designated for return.) Former starting ILB Jameel McClain (spine) is on the Physically Unable to Perform list, and rookie sixth-round pick DE Kapron Lewis-Moore (knee) is on the Non-Football Injury list.

WHAT'S GOING ON?

One thing is certain: When Baltimore and Pittsburgh battle, it's likely to be a close game. Dating back to 2008, when John Harbaugh became head coach, the Ravens and Steelers have each won five regular season series games. Incredibly, eight of the last 10 contests between these teams have been decided by 3 points, including seven of the last eight games. Below is a statistical breakdown of the series since '08:

BALTIMORE-PITTSBURGH BREAKDOWN (Last 10 Regular Season Games / Since 2008)

Stats	Ravens	Steelers
Wins	5	5
Points Per Game	18.7	16.3
Total Yards Per Game	297.9	300.9
Rush Yards Per Game	103.0	86.5
Pass Yards Per Game	194.9	214.4
Turnover Ratio	+9	-9

Ravens-Steelers Quick Hits:

- The last five regular season games played in Pittsburgh have all been decided by 3 points, with the Ravens outscoring the Steelers 93-90.
- The Ravens have won three-straight games at Heinz Field, all by a 3-point margin.

NOTE THE QUOTE

CHRIS CANTY ON THE RAVENS' WORK ETHIC

"This is the hardest-working team I have been around. And, the speed and tempo of our practices have us ready for games. The work pays off. The way we practice makes us feel uncomfortable at times, but that's what happens in games. Games aren't scripted. Coach [Harbaugh] wants us to be battle-hardened. He wants a tough-minded team. The kind of rigorous work we do produces that kind of team. Now that I'm a Raven, I see why it works."

NOTE OF THE WEEK I

Entering Week 7, the Ravens have posted the NFL's second-most sacks (22), including 7 QB drops by OLB Terrell Suggs (fifth most in the league). The 22 sacks are tied (1998) for the most Baltimore has ever produced through the first six games in franchise history. On pace to record 59 sacks this season, the Ravens could match the team record of 60 set during 2006's 13-3 campaign.

NFL SACKS LEADERS (2013 Season)

Rk.	Team	Sacks	Yards
1.	Kansas City Chiefs	31	198
2.	Baltimore Ravens	22	152
3.	Buffalo Bills	21	129
4.	New Orleans Saints	20	148
	New York Jets	20	116

Sacks Quick Hits:

- Nine different Ravens have recorded a sack this season, led by OLB Terrell Suggs (7), OLB Elvis Dumervil (5) and DT Arthur Jones (3).
- Nine of Baltimore's 22 sacks have come on third down, tying (Cin.) for the NFL's third most.
- Sixteen of the Ravens' 22 sacks have come when opponents are in the shotgun formation, tying (NO) for the NFL's third most.

SPOTLIGHT: HALOTI NGATA

Pos: DT Ht: 6-4 Wt: 335 Exp. (Ravens/NFL): 8/8
College: Oregon Hometown: Salt Lake City, UT

You've been a Raven for life. What do you like most about this organization? "I really like the way we play. We're a tough, physical, relentless team. We're not the prettiest, but we get things done a lot of the time when we need it to get done."

What does the Steelers rivalry mean to this team? "It's huge. I think the last couple of years that we've been playing, we've been teams that are very alike. Our defenses are dominant, and our offenses are usually putting enough points on the board. It's a huge rivalry, and it's great. I love playing against the Steelers, a team I really get up for, and I always want to play well against them."

Do you have any favorite moments from past Steelers games? "Anytime we win is my favorite moment."

The Ravens have won their last three games at Heinz Field. How do you prepare for that tough environment? "Our offense is definitely prepared for the noise there. Their fans do a great job of getting loud when it's time. We just try to quiet them down with our defense by making plays and try to get off the field to let our offense score points."

What makes Ben Roethlisberger so hard to take down? "His size. When you're about to hit him, you think you're about to give him a good hit, but then he's more fluid and slippery than you think. He bends in different ways, or you'll hit him, and he just bounces off in different ways. He's big and can use his weight to stay up. He's great at playing backyard football and finding the open receiver and getting him the ball."

What is your strategy for containing Roethlisberger? "Once you get that open shot to get him down, make sure you have a solid wrap and try to get him down instead of trying to knock the ball out or trying to make the big hit. Just make sure you're balanced and take him down when you have that shot."

Which Raven is the... Strongest: "Me" Most athletic: "Me (laughter), but Sam Koch is pretty athletic." Best tackler: "Daryl Smith." Most likely to be a coach: "Marcus Spears."

NOTE OF THE WEEK II

The Ravens' defense has been dominant in the red zone this season, limiting foes to a 25.0% TD success rate once inside the 20-yard line. Baltimore's mark ties 6-0 Kansas City for first in the NFL.

RED ZONE DEFENSE / TD PERCENTAGE (2013 Season)

Rk.	Team	RZ Drives	RZ TDs	RZ TD Pct.
1.	Baltimore Ravens	16	4	25.0
	Kansas City Chiefs	8	2	25.0
3.	Tampa Bay Buccaneers	17	6	35.3

Red Zone Quick Hit:

- The Ravens have allowed opponents to convert only 3 of 12 third-down attempts inside the red zone (NFL's sixth-best mark).

NUMBERS TO RAVE ABOUT

20.3

Yards-per-catch average by WR Torrey Smith (28 catches for 568 yards), ranking as the NFL's No. 1 mark. Smith's 568 yards stand as the league's fourth most.

18.4

Yards per touch by WR/RS Tandon Doss this season, who has posted 459 combined yards (255 punt return and 204 receiving) on 25 touches (14 PRs and 11 catches).

100

Consecutive games (including playoffs) QB Joe Flacco will have played when he starts Sunday at Pittsburgh. Flacco has never missed a start (86 regular season and 13 playoffs), totaling the most starts in the first five-plus seasons by a QB in NFL history.

QUOTH THE RAVENS

FOOTBALL

“The best player on the Ravens this year is also my current pick for Defensive Player of the Year. One year removed from the Achilles injury and now the undisputed leader of the unit, Suggs is having as good a season as he’s ever had in his 10-year Baltimore career. That includes his 2011 Defensive Player of the Year season. Known as ‘Sizzle’ and nothing else in that Ravens locker room, Suggs has picked up the leadership role that [Ray] Lewis and [Ed] Reed left behind and has been a beast on the field. J.J. Watt has the blood-covered face and the headlines, and Justin Houston has all the sacks, but Suggs’ work in both the run and pass game has been second to none this season.”

– Fox Sports’ Peter Schragger on OLB Terrell Suggs

The Baltimore Sun’s Peter Schmuck on Ravens QB Joe Flacco:

“The guy was a small-school wunderkind with a big body and a great football IQ, but somebody was smart enough to foresee that he could be one of the winningest and toughest quarterbacks in the NFL. That toughness showed up early when he played through that horrible thigh bruise [in 2009] early in his pro career, and it has shown up throughout this season while he takes a weekly pounding behind the Ravens’ struggling O-line. But the thing you have to love the most is the way he shrugs it all off, which is just more proof that he’s a solid guy who – despite his New Jersey roots – personifies Baltimore football in much the same way Johnny Unitas did.”

Ravens DE Marcus Spears on OLB Terrell Suggs:

“He’s an extraordinary pro. Being close to him, you realize how smart he is. That’s something you wouldn’t know playing against him. He’s a smart football player, and it’s not a coincidence that he’s been playing well for a long time, because his brain matches up with his body. He’s a lethal guy out there.”

OLB Elvis Dumervil on OLB Courtney Upshaw:

“He does the dirty work as you would put it. He knocks the tight ends around, he sets the edges for us, and that’s important. Whenever you want to be a good run defense, you have to be able to set the edge and allow the runners to stay within the confines of the defense. He’s one of the best in the league who does it.”

QB Joe Flacco on WR Torrey Smith:

“You look at [games early in his career], he had the ability to make all kinds of plays, and he would make a lot of plays, but he’d put the ball on the ground here and there. Sometime last year, he became that guy that caught really everything you threw to him. It’s just a matter of being comfortable with the atmosphere of everything and who he is, and not worrying about the little things and just being able to go out there and play football. Now he’s able to catch those things like it’s just second nature.”

Head coach John Harbaugh on what it’s like playing in the Baltimore-Pittsburgh rivalry:

“It’s almost surreal. All of a sudden, everything’s different. You go into this dark place. It’s like you’re in this globe, in a good way, and suddenly there’s nothing outside of that moment, outside of that stadium. It’s unique to these games, and yet, both teams are so comfortable in that place. It’s where we’re supposed to be; it’s where they’re supposed to be. It’s hard to describe.”

NFL Network’s Willie McGinest on the Ravens-Steelers rivalry:

“When you talk about a rivalry, you talk about the Pittsburgh Steelers and the Baltimore Ravens. The one thing you talk about is trash-talking, smash-mouth, hard-hitting football games. These guys are going out there, and they genuinely do not like each other. So, you know that these games are going to be action-packed from the start to the end.”

NFL.com’s Ian Rapoport on the Ravens and Steelers drafting to their style of play:

“Both teams essentially play street fights on the field. Legally and without weapons and all, but you know what I mean. I basically cringe most of the time watching them play because of how hardcore it is, especially when they’re playing one another. And they draft into it. They know that’s their identity and go over it.”

GM & executive VP Ozzie Newsome on the season outlook after trading for LT Eugene Monroe:

“Our No. 1 goal is to win the AFC North – get to the playoffs – and Eugene can help us do that. With the changes we’ve made and the injuries we’re dealing with, we’re still in a good spot in the division. That’s fortunate. We need to improve, and I think we will, and then fight to make the playoffs. Then we’ll see what happens in January.”

Giants GM Jerry Reese on Ozzie Newsome’s accomplishments:

“We’re all chasing Ozzie.”

LAST WEEK VS. GREEN BAY

Green Bay Packers 19, Baltimore Ravens 17 M&T Bank Stadium • Baltimore, MD • Week 6: Oct. 13

A Ravens' comeback came up short when the Packers stopped Baltimore, 19-17. After Green Bay took a 6-0 halftime lead that was increased to 9-0 in the third quarter on 3 K Mason Crosby field goals (45, 31 and 50 yards), the Ravens finally got on the board with K Justin Tucker's 23-yard FG. QB Aaron Rodgers, who made key third-down completions several times, found WR Jordy Nelson with a 64-yard scoring strike to give the Packers a 16-3, third-quarter lead. Baltimore battled back when QB Joe Flacco found WR Jacoby Jones in the back of the end zone with an 11-yard TD throw that made it 16-10 early in the fourth quarter. Another Crosby FG (31 yards) gave the Packers a 19-10 advantage with just 4:17 left in the contest. On the Ravens' next possession, faced with a fourth-and-21 on their own 19, Flacco hit WR Tandon Doss for 63 yards and a first down. The Ravens' QB then found TE Dallas Clark, who made a spectacular one-handed catch, in the end zone on the following play to get Baltimore within 2 (19-17) with 2:04 remaining. On a third-and-3 on the Packers' next series, Rodgers hit TE Jermichael Finley with a 52-yard completion to keep the ball. The Packers' ability to sustain drives in the second half was a key to the Green Bay victory. The Ravens had a chance to take a 7-3 lead in the second quarter, but failed on a fourth-and-goal at the Packers' 1 when RB Bernard Pierce was stopped for no gain. With 12 seconds left in the first half, Flacco was stripped of the ball, and DE Datone Jones ran 20 yards to the Ravens' 13, where Crosby hit a 31-yard FG. While Green Bay's RB Eddie Lacy rushed 23 times for 120 yards, the Ravens managed just 47 yards on 22 carries. However, Flacco was impressive, completing 20 of 34 for 342 yards and 2 TD throws and 0 INTS (112.6 rating). Doss and Clark each caught 4 for 99 and 81 yards, respectively. Rodgers was 17-of-32 for 315 with 1 TD and 1 INT. Baltimore's OLB Elvis Dumervil produced 2 sacks and 2 FFs, while Flacco was taken down behind the line of scrimmage 5 times - 3 by ILB A.J. Hawk.

LAST GAME VS. PITTSBURGH: STEELERS 23, RAVENS 20

Dec. 2, 2012 • M&T Bank Stadium • Baltimore, MD

For the seventh time in the last eight regular season meetings between the Ravens and Steelers, the game was decided by 3 points. This time Pittsburgh won, 23-20, at M&T Bank Stadium. The Steelers' win was the first loss at home for the Ravens since Mike Tomlin's team stopped Baltimore, 13-10, on Dec. 5, 2010. The defeat halted a 16-game M&T Bank Stadium (including playoffs) Ravens' winning streak, plus a 12-game, AFC North run without a loss. This battle was tied three times, including at 20-20 when Pittsburgh K Shaun Suisham kicked a 42-yard game-winning FG as time expired. Suisham gave the Steelers a 3-0, first-quarter lead on a 46-yard FG, but the Ravens rallied with 13-consecutive points. K Justin Tucker connected on back-to-back 45- and 23-yard FGs in the second quarter before QB Joe Flacco threw a 28-yard TD to WR Anquan Boldin. Suisham's 41-yard FG made the score 13-6 at the half. On the opening drive of the third quarter, the Steelers tied the game when RB Jonathan Dwyer scampered 16 yards for a TD. Still in the third period, RB Ray Rice gave the advantage (20-13) back to the home team with a 34-yard TD sprint. With 7:24 left in the game, QB Charlie Batch found TE Heath Miller for a 7-yard TD to tie the contest at 20-20. Batch was impressive throughout the game, completing 25 of 36 passes for 276 yards. Flacco finished with 16 completions on 34 attempts for 188 yards, including 5 for 81 to Boldin. Rice rushed for 78 yards on 12 carries. S Ed Reed produced two take-aways (FR and INT), and CB Corey Graham also stole a Batch pass. Both of Baltimore's TDs came after Steelers' turnovers. OLB James Harrison had a key play late in the game when he sacked Flacco and caused a fumble that was recovered by DE Ziggy Hood. Miller's TD followed that take-away.

STEELERS SNAPSHOT

Overview: After a 19-6 victory at the NY Jets on Sunday, Pittsburgh improved to 1-4 and remains in fourth place in the AFC North. Coming off consecutive road clashes, Pittsburgh is in the midst of playing four of five games away from home. Following this week's contest in Pittsburgh, the Steelers will travel in consecutive weeks when they play at Oakland (10/27) and at New England (11/3).

Mike Tomlin: In his seventh season as head coach of the Steelers, Tomlin has amassed a 64-37 regular season record. Under his guidance, the Steelers have never finished below .500. Tomlin has coached Pittsburgh teams that have earned four playoff berths, three division titles and advanced to two Super Bowls. He became the youngest head coach (36 years) in NFL history to both coach in and win a Super Bowl when he led the Steelers to victory over the Arizona Cardinals in Super Bowl XLIII (2008 season).

Offense: Pittsburgh is 18th in total offense (338.6 ypg), posting the seventh-best passing attack (277.6 ypg) and the 31st-ranked run game (61.0 ypg). QB Ben Roethlisberger has completed 126 of 192 passes for 1,495 yards, 6 TDs and 5 INTs, while WR Antonio Brown has posted team highs with 41 catches (second in NFL) for 498 yards and 2 TDs. RB Felix Jones has a team-best 92 rushing yards on 24 carries, with the Steelers being the league's only club to not have a back with 100 total rushing yards.

Defense: Having boasted the NFL's top-ranked "D" in consecutive years (2011-12), the Steelers are currently ranked sixth (310.8 ypg), producing the fourth-best pass defense (196.0 ypg) and the 22nd-ranked run stop (114.8 ypg). The unit has forced 2 turnovers (both INTs). S Ryan Clark has a team-high 37 tackles, while LB Lawrence Timmons has 34 stops (22 solo) and 1 INT. OLB LaMarr Woodley has led the pass rush with 4 sacks, while the unit has caused 7 total QB drops.

KEY CONNECTIONS

Pro Connections

• Ravens C A.Q. Shipley was originally selected by the Steelers in the seventh round (226th overall) of the 2009 NFL Draft and spent his entire rookie season on the team's practice squad.

• Both Ravens head coach John Harbaugh and Steelers defensive coordinator Dick LeBeau began their NFL coaching careers as special teams coaches for the Philadelphia Eagles – Harbaugh from 1998-2006 and LeBeau from 1973-75.

• Steelers defensive assistant Jerry Olsavsky finished his NFL playing career as a LB with the Ravens in 1998. Steelers DBs coach Carnell Lake was a member of the Ravens in 2001, his final NFL season.

• Ravens Northeast area scout Andy Weidl spent two years (1998-99) with the Steelers as a player personnel assistant.

• Steelers WRs coach Richard Mann (1982-83) served in the same role with the Baltimore Colts before the franchise relocated to Indianapolis in 1984. Mann (1985) later was hired as the WRs/TEs coach for the Cleveland Browns, where he tutored current Ravens GM and executive VP and Hall of Fame TE Ozzie Newsome (1978-90).

College Connections

• When Ravens general manager and executive vice president Ozzie Newsome played college football at Alabama (1974-77), Steelers assistant head coach John Mitchell was the D-line coach for the Crimson Tide (1973-76). Mitchell was also the first African American to play for Alabama, earning All-American honors. Mitchell then recruited Newsome to the Tide.

• Ravens C A.Q. Shipley (2005-08), offensive coordinator Jim Caldwell (1986-92), secondary coach Teryl Austin (1991-92) and strength & conditioning coach Bob Rogucki (1981) all spent time at Penn State. Shipley was teammates with Steelers T Levi Brown (2002-06) for two seasons.

• Ravens head coach John Harbaugh coached the tight ends at the University of Pittsburgh during the 1987 season. Ravens WRs coach Jim Hostler played collegiately (1986-89) for Indiana (PA) before coaching there from 1990-92 and 1994-99.

• Ravens QB Joe Flacco played at the University of Pittsburgh from 2003-04 before transferring to the University of Delaware.

Hometown/High School Connections

• Several Ravens hail from the state of Pennsylvania: owner Steve Bisciotti (born in Philadelphia), team president Dick Cass (Mercersburg), secondary coach Teryl Austin (Sharon), WRs coach Jim Hostler (Pittsburgh), director of player development Harry Swayne (Philadelphia), G/C Gino Gradkowski (Pittsburgh), LB Jameel McClain (Philadelphia) and RB Bernard Pierce (Ardmore).

• Ravens C Gino Gradkowski is the younger brother of Steelers QB Bruce Gradkowski.

• Steelers LB Terence Garvin is a Baltimore native and graduate of Loyola Blakefield High School, where he was an All-State DB (2008).

DEFENSIVE TRADITION

Since John Harbaugh became head coach of the Ravens in 2008, the respective defenses of the Steel City and Charm City have ranked among the NFL's top units.

2013 ESPN FRANCHISE RANKINGS

Every year, ESPN The Magazine compiles the results of fan surveys and financial analysis to determine which teams in the NFL, NBA, MLB and NHL offer the greatest rewards for all the emotion, money and time that fans invest in them. The rankings are determined by a multi-tiered analysis that examines a team's efficiency in spending fan money as compared to its on-field performance. It also factors in feedback in 25 sub-categories from more than 60,000 fans nationwide, both online at ESPN.com and in polling conducted by both independent third parties. In 2013, the Baltimore Ravens ranked as the 10th-best overall sports franchise and the second-best NFL franchise.

COACH HARBAUGH / ROSBURG NOTES

OVERHEARD ABOUT HARBS

ESPN.com's Herm Edwards on John Harbaugh:

"Going into his sixth season in Baltimore, all John Harbaugh has done is win. He's made the playoffs every year, won at least one playoff game every year, and of course, won a Super Bowl. He's instilled toughness in his team, which will carry over after the losses of [Ed] Reed and [Ray] Lewis. This team is a perennial playoff contender with a great coach at the helm."

ProFootballTalk's Mike Florio on John Harbaugh and the Ravens:

"The Ravens consistently have been underrated and overlooked in recent years. Even after winning the Super Bowl, many think that the Ravens are destined to collapse. Sorry, but it's impossible to ignore five-straight postseason appearances, a great head coach, a great quarterback and a front office that knows when to hold 'em and when to fold 'em. The Ravens won't be folding 'em anytime soon. Though a repeat could be too much to expect, it's not nearly as out of the question as many presume."

CBSSports.com's Pete Prisco on John Harbaugh:

"John has that Super Bowl victory now, and his team has been a Super Bowl contender for much of his stay with Baltimore. I continue to say that his coaching job in 2012 exceeded the talent level on the field. It was a heck of a job. He's been to the postseason all five of his years with the Ravens, and he's 9-4 in 13 postseason games."

SPECIAL FORCES

Assistant head coach/special teams coordinator Jerry Rosburg, a 35-year coaching veteran, has guided a strong special teams group since arriving in Baltimore in 2008. In 2012, the Ravens' special teams units excelled. Led by Pro Bowl RS Jacoby Jones, Baltimore ranked first in the NFL in kickoff return average (27.3), also setting a team record. Jones, who became the first player ever to record dual KORs of at least 105 yards in a career, tied for a league-leading 3 kick return TDs (2 KORs & 1 PR) and averaged an NFL-best 30.7 yards per kickoff return. Jones also tied an NFL record for longest KOR in Super Bowl history with his 108-yard KOR-TD in Super Bowl XLVII.

Rosburg's kickers were special in 2012, too: P Sam Koch set Ravens single-season punting records with a 47.1 gross average and a 40.8 net average, shattering career bests. K Justin Tucker made 30 of 33 FGAs (90.9%), producing the second-best success rate in Ravens single-season history and also the second-best mark by a rookie kicker in NFL history.

Prior to Baltimore, Rosburg built a successful NFL special teams resume both with the Browns (2001-06) and Falcons (2007). Under his leadership, Cleveland's special teams units were consistently ranked among the NFL's best. Over a five-year span (2002-06), the Browns' special teams were ranked as the top NFL unit in Rick Gosselin's annual comprehensive special teams report.

SPECIAL TEAMS STANDOUTS

In 2012, senior NFL writer Rick Gosselin of The Dallas Morning News ranked the Ravens' special teams unit No. 2 in the league in his annual comprehensive ratings system that's based on 22 categories, assigning points according to each standing — 1 for best, 32 for worst. The Vikings finished first in Gosselin's special teams rankings, followed by the Ravens and the Bengals.

A STRONG RETURN

Dating back to the 2008 season when Jerry Rosburg became the Ravens' special teams coordinator, Baltimore has produced the NFL's No. 1 kickoff return average (24.9).

NFL KICKOFF RETURN AVERAGE (Since 2008 / Rosburg's Baltimore Tenure)

Rk.	Team	KOR	Yards	Avg.	Long	TD
1.	Baltimore Ravens	279	6,950	24.9	108t	4
2.	New York Jets	292	7,253	24.8	107t	6
3.	Atlanta Falcons	214	5,237	24.5	102t	1

2013 Return Quick Hits:

- The Ravens' 27.4 KOR average entering Week 7 ranks sixth best in the NFL, while their 16.8-yard punt return average stands No. 2 (Dal. - 20.4).

Tennessee Titans	2

- The Ravens' 5 total return TDs (KOR and PR) over the past three seasons rank as the NFL's third most. Only Tennessee & Denver (6 each) have more.

COORDINATORS NOTES

CALDWELL'S ATTACK

Jim Caldwell, a 36-year coaching veteran, joined the Ravens as the team's QBs coach in February 2012 and was elevated to offensive coordinator on Dec. 10, replacing Cam Cameron. Caldwell arrived in Baltimore after coaching 10 seasons with the Indianapolis Colts, including the three (2009-11) as head coach. In his first year at the helm, he led the Colts to the AFC Championship and a berth in Super Bowl XLIV. Caldwell, who earned a Super Bowl ring (2006) with Indy, spent six seasons tutoring one of the NFL's all-time greats in QB Peyton Manning. During the course of Caldwell's time in Indianapolis, the Colts achieved much success, tying an NFL record with nine-straight playoff appearances and winning six AFC South division titles.

CALDWELL FIRES UP "O"

Under Jim Caldwell, who was elevated to offensive coordinator prior to the Ravens' Dec. 16, 2012 game vs. Denver, Baltimore averaged 400.6 yards of offense per contest (146.4 rushing & 254.1 passing) and 27.3 points per game to close out last season.

OFFENSIVE QUICK HITS

- Since John Harbaugh's arrival (2008), two of the Ravens' Top 3 single-game scoring outputs have occurred: 55 vs. Oak. (11/11/12) and 48 vs. Det. (12/13/09). (Baltimore also scored 48 on 12/19/05 vs. GB.)
- Under Harbaugh, the Ravens have totaled at least 400 yards 19 times, producing an 18-1 mark in those games. Baltimore has piled up at least 375 net yards 27 times since '08, producing a 24-3 record in those contests.

PEES LEADS THE "D"

Dean Pees, a 10-year NFL-coaching veteran, was promoted to defensive coordinator on Jan. 27, 2012, after guiding the Ravens' LBs for two seasons. He is the sixth "D" coordinator in franchise history. Pees, who was New England's "D" coordinator from 2006-09, leads a Baltimore unit that finished as the NFL's third-best scoring defense four-consecutive years (2008-11) and tied (NYG) for 12th in 2012, allowing 21.5 points per game.

Pees leads a unit that during the John Harbaugh Era (2008-12)...

- Has allowed the NFL's second-fewest points (17.6) and the third-fewest net yards (307.4) per game during this span.

2013 NUMBERS TO RAVE ABOUT

3.6

Yards per rush opponents have gained vs. the Ravens this season, ranking as the NFL's sixth-best defensive mark.

22

Sacks by the Ravens this season, the NFL's second most (KC - 31).

25.0

Red zone TD percentage by Ravens opponents this season (4-of-16), tying (KC) for the NFL's best defensive mark.

31.2

Third-down success rate by Ravens opponents this season, ranking as the NFL's fourth-best defensive mark.

TURNING AWAY THE TDs

After allowing 7 TDs to Denver in Week 1, the Ravens did not permit a TD in their next two games, holding the Browns to 6 points on 9/15 and the Texans to 9 on 9/22. Since 2008, the Ravens have allowed the NFL's second-fewest TDs (151) and also produced the NFL's third-most games (12) of not allowing a TD to be scored (SF - 17 & Pit. - 13).

"D" COORD. BREAKDOWN

Four "D" coordinators in Ravens history have gone on to become NFL head coaches: Marvin Lewis (1996-2001), Mike Nolan (2002-04), Rex Ryan (2005-08) and Chuck Pagano (2011). Former Jaguars head coach Jack Del Rio was the Ravens' LBs coach from 1999-2001, while Atlanta's Mike Smith also coached on the "D" from 1999-2002.

MILESTONES / RANKINGS / TEAM NOTES

MILESTONES IN REACH

WR MARLON BROWN

• With 1 more TD, he'll tie Clarence Moore (2004) for the third-most TDs by a Ravens rookie. Jamal Lewis (6 in 2000) and WR Torrey Smith (7 in 2011) rank second and first, respectively.

TE DALLAS CLARK

• Clark (494 receptions) needs 6 more catches to reach 500, which would make him the ninth TE in NFL history to accomplish the feat.
 • Clark (51) also needs just 1 receiving TD to tie Dave Casper for the sixth most all time by a TE (Wesley Walls is fifth with 54).

OLB ELVIS DUMERVIL

• Dumervil (68.5) needs 1.5 sacks to reach 70 for his career and 1 more forced fumble to have 20.

QB JOE FLACCO

• With this Sunday's game at Pittsburgh, he will have started in 100-consecutive games. Flacco has never missed a start (86 regular season and 13 playoffs) during his career, totaling the most starts in the first five-plus seasons by a QB in NFL history.
 • With three more 300-yard passing games, Flacco (3 in 2013) will set the Ravens' single-season standard (record is five by Flacco in 2012 and Vinny Testaverde in 1996).

DT ARTHUR JONES

• With 1.5 more sacks, he (3.0) will tie his career high from 2012 (4.5).

DT HALOTI NGATA

• Ngata (462) needs 11 tackles to pass Ed Hartwell (472) for 10th on the Ravens' all-time list.

RB RAY RICE

• Rice (42 career TDs) needs 6 more to pass RB Jamal Lewis, who ranks first in Ravens history with 47 TDs.
 • Rice (5,717) needs 283 rushing yards to reach 6,000 for his career.
 • Rice needs 200 receiving yards to hit the 3,000 milestone. He also needs 20 receiving yards to move into fourth on the Ravens' all-time list, passing Qadry Ismail (2,819).
 • With 650 yards from scrimmage, Rice will pass Jamal Lewis (9,166) for the most yards from scrimmage in team history.

LB DARYL SMITH

• Smith (23 sacks) needs 2 more to reach 25 for his career.

WR TORREY SMITH

• With 5 more receptions of 25-or-more yards, Smith (31) will break Derrick Mason's franchise record of 35 such catches.

OLB TERRELL SUGGS

• Suggs (91.5) needs 8.5 more sacks to reach 100 for his career.
 • Suggs (29) is also just 1 FF shy of 30.

IMPRESSIVE STREAKS FROM '12

- In 2012's Week 13 division battle against the Steelers, Baltimore's home winning streak was snapped. The Ravens entered the game having won 15-consecutive games at M&T Bank Stadium (16 including playoffs), the NFL's longest active home streak at the time.

- The defeat marked the Ravens' first loss at home since 12/5/10, which also came against the Steelers (13-10).

- Pittsburgh's win in Week 13 (2012) snapped another streak: The Ravens had won 12-straight AFC North games, tying Indianapolis for the longest division winning streak since 2002 division realignment.

- With 2012's Week 15 loss to Denver, the Ravens dropped back-to-back home games for the first time under John Harbaugh. The last time Baltimore lost consecutive home games was in 2007 (12/3 and 12/9), a stretch that spanned 39 home games leading into Week 15's defeat.

DEFENSIVE NOTES

WR Torrey Smith has posted at least 85 receiving yards in five of the Ravens' six games this season, averaging 94.7 ypg.

NOTE THE SMITH QUOTE

S Michael Huff on WR Torrey Smith:
"He does it all. He catches, he runs, he blocks, and he runs reverses. He's a No. 1 receiver that you can put out there and not have to worry about. I didn't know he could catch the little hitches and run precise routes like that until I got here and saw how much work he puts in and how hard he works every day in practice, but he's incredible."

TORREY'S COURAGEOUS NIGHT

WR Torrey Smith played in the 2012 Week 3 Sunday night victory over New England after his brother, 19-year-old Tevin Jones, passed away in a motorcycle accident that morning. Smith posted 6 catches for 127 yards and 2 TDs in the come-from-behind win, producing the third 100-yard game of his young career. Additionally, he eclipsed the 1,000-yard receiving milestone for his career.

SMITH BIG IN '12 PLAYOFFS

In the 2012 thrilling, double-overtime Divisional Playoff win at Denver (38-35 on 1/12/13), WR Torrey Smith caught 59-yard and 32-yard TD passes, helping mark the first game in NFL playoff history that a QB (Joe Flacco) threw 2 TDs of 59-plus yards (the other being to WR Jacoby Jones on a 70-yarder). In the 2012 postseason, Smith recorded a 21.2 yards-per-catch average, reeling in 11 passes for 233 yards.

LONG BALL LOVE

WR Torrey Smith ranks first in Ravens franchise history in yards-per-catch average, posting a 17.8 mark over the three seasons in which he's caught 127 passes for 2,264 yards and 16 TDs. Dating back to his rookie campaign of 2011, Smith's 17.8 average also ranks second in the NFL.

IMPRESSIVE SINCE DAY ONE

In 2011's Week 11 game vs. Cincinnati, WR Torrey Smith set a Ravens' single-season and single-game record for receiving yards by a rookie, totaling a career-high 165 yards on 6 catches (27.5 avg.). In 2011, the first-year Smith had 50 catches for 841 yards and a Ravens' rookie-record 7 TDs.

Smith Quick Hits:

- During the 2011 campaign, Smith ranked 13th in the NFL with a stout 16.8 yards-per-catch average.
- Smith's 26-yard TD catch with 8 seconds remaining in Week 9 at Pit. capped a 92-yard drive and sealed the Ravens' 23-20 win.
- Impressively, 5 of his 7 TD receptions in 2011 covered at least 25 yards (74, 41, 38, 36, 26, 18 and 8 yards), and he averaged a sensational 34.4 yards-per-TD catch.
- Never before has a Ravens' wideout registered dual 150-yard receiving games in a season (165 vs. Cin. and 152 at STL). Smith also posted the Top 2 receiving yards outputs by a rookie in the NFL in 2011.
- In 2011's Week 11, Smith joined Ken Burrow (2 in 1971) and Randy Moss (3 in 1998) as the only rookies in NFL history to have multiple games with at least 150 receiving yards and a TD catch.

DEFENSIVE PLAYER NOTES

DEFENSIVE PLAYER OF THE YEAR

OLB Terrell Suggs, the 2011 AP Defensive Player of the Year, owns a franchise-record 91.5 sacks in 11 seasons. "Sizzle," who ranks fifth in the NFL with 7 sacks this season, has at least 1 sack in five of Baltimore's six games. In Week 5 at Miami, he tied a Ravens' franchise record by notching a sack in his fifth-consecutive contest. (Paul Kruger - 2012 & Adalius Thomas - 2005 & 2006 also each had five-game-sack stretches.)

SACKS OF "DOOM"

This past spring, the Ravens signed free agent OLB Elvis Dumervil, who spent his first seven seasons with Denver. Though he missed the entire 2010 campaign with a pectoral injury, Dumervil has totaled 280 tackles (202 solo), 68.5 sacks, 19 FFs, 9 FRs, 1 INT and 13 passes defended during his career. Last season, he recorded 54 tackles (32 solo), 11 sacks, 6 forced fumbles and 1 pass defended, earning his third Pro Bowl honor.

Since entering the NFL in 2006, Dumervil's 68.5 sacks tie for seventh most among active players. His 17 quarterback drops during the 2009 campaign ranked first in the NFL that season.

TANGLED IN THE WEBB

Ravens CB/RS Lardarius Webb missed 10 games in 2012 after tearing his ACL on 10/14 vs. Dallas. The fifth-year pro worked hard in training camp to return for the Ravens' 2013 Week 1 opener, when he had 1 tackle and 1 PD at Denver. In 2011, Webb produced a career year, becoming the NFL's only player that season to have an INT-TD & a PR-TD. Webb also tied to post the NFL's fourth-most pass defended (20) in 2011, finishing with a career-best 68 tackles and a team-high 5 INTs on the season.

GRAHAM STEPS UP

CB Corey Graham, who signed with the Ravens as a free agent in 2012, was a standout for Baltimore during its Super Bowl XLVII journey. Starting eight games in the regular season after CB Lardarius Webb's knee injury and every playoff contest, Graham finished the year with 54 tackles, 2 INTs and 8 PD. In the postseason, he had 32 tackles, .5 sacks, 2 INTs (1 for a TD in the 2OT Divisional win at Denver) and a team-high 7 PD.

THE DOMINANT DT

One of the NFL's most disruptive forces, DT Haloti Ngata was named to his fourth Pro Bowl in 2012. Perhaps the NFL's most athletic defensive tackle, Ngata stops the run (462 career tackles), rushes the passer (23 career sacks) and even drops into coverage (3 career INTs).

Baltimore has a history of strong run defense, and with Ngata's help since 2006, has been consistently sturdy on the ground.

- Ngata ranks 11th on the Ravens' all-time tackles chart (462).

NGATA SCORES

In the 2011 Week 3 win at St. Louis, DT Haloti Ngata scooped up a Sam Bradford fumble and returned it 28 yards for his first-career TD. Ngata's scamper is the third-longest FR-TD in Ravens history, shy of OLB Adalius Thomas' 57- and 35-yarders.

SPECIAL TEAMS PLAYER NOTES

JACOBY'S JAUNTS

Pro Bowler WR/RS Jacoby Jones ranked first in the NFL with a 30.7-yard KOR average in 2012. Jones, who posted 2 KOR-TDs (108 yards and 105 yards), was the only player with dual KOR-TDs in 2012 and the first Ravens player to ever have multiple KOR-TDs in a single season and a career. With a 30.2 career return mark in Baltimore, Jones is the Ravens' all-time leader in KOR average (listed below).

• The Ravens' 5 total return TDs (KOR and PR) over the past three seasons rank as the NFL's third most. Only Denver & Tennessee (6 each) have more.

• With WR/RS Tandon Doss' PR-TD in Week 3, the Ravens have scored a PR-TD in three-straight seasons, with WR/RS Jacoby Jones' 63-yarder at Pittsburgh on 11/18/12 serving as the most recent before Doss.

2012 SPECIAL TEAMS UNIT RECEIVES HIGH MARK

In 2012, longtime NFL writer Rick Gosselin of The Dallas Morning News ranked the Ravens' special teams unit No. 2 in the league in his annual comprehensive ratings system that's based on 22 categories, assigning points according to each standing — 1 for best, 32 for worst. The Vikings finished first in Gosselin's special teams rankings, followed by the Ravens and the Bengals.

RAVENS IN OUR COMMUNITY

PLAY 60 KICKOFF ASSEMBLIES

For the fourth-consecutive year, the Ravens partnered with the Carroll County school district to execute the Play 60 Challenge through the school system's existing Project ACES (Active Children Excel in School) program. On Tuesday (10/8), Ravens TE Ed Dickson, S Michael Huff and LB Jameel McClain hosted an event with students at Spring Garden (Hampstead, Md.) Elementary School to kick off the Play 60 Challenge/Project ACES. By combining forces, the Play 60 Challenge/Project ACES program will reach 26 elementary schools throughout Carroll County, totaling over 14,000 students.

The Baltimore Ravens and Mid-Atlantic Dairy Association continued their promotion of the in-school Play 60 Challenge on Tuesday (10/8) as part of the national NFL Play 60 campaign aimed at getting children active for at least 60 minutes a day. Ravens FB Kyle Juszczyk and DT Brandon Williams, along with Ravens cheerleaders and mascot Poe, hosted an assembly for students at Essex (Baltimore, Md.) Elementary School to discuss the importance of physical activity in their everyday lives.

BCA INITIATIVES

During the month of October, the Baltimore Ravens support Breast Cancer Awareness Month through a variety of initiatives, highlighted by last Sunday's Ravens vs. Packers game at M&T Bank Stadium. The initiatives incorporated at that game included the distribution of over 50,000 pink ribbons to fans who entered the stadium, an on-field ceremony honoring 22 women – a combination of breast cancer survivors and those currently undergoing treatment – prior to kickoff and the numerous pink elements worn by players, coaches, cheerleaders and mascot Poe during the game. The merchandise worn was collected after the game and will be auctioned off at www.nfl.com/auction, with proceeds benefitting the American Cancer Society. Breast Cancer Awareness Month was also recognized on the high school level when the Catonsville Comets hosted the Milford Mill Millers at their homecoming game on Friday (10/11). Both varsity teams sported pink gear, and the field was decorated with breast cancer awareness banners, all donated by the Ravens.

HEAD COACH JOHN HARBAUGH MONDAY PRESS CONFERENCE

Opening statement: “Good to see everybody. Injury-wise, everybody finished the game. [There’s] nothing new to report there. We may have some more information on Wednesday, we’ll see, but we didn’t have anything major, injury-wise, happen to us in the game, so that’s a plus. We spent a lot of time, obviously, studying this game – coaches, players and coaches – together up until right now. A lot of good things were accomplished in the game, and many not so good things were accomplished in the game. So, we’ll go to work collectively and try to make the best of all those things going forward and try to be at our best when our best is needed in Pittsburgh on Sunday. So, that’s where we are.”

There has been a lot of talk about the play just before halftime where Eugene Monroe got beat, and the fumble led to the field goal. Now that you’ve had a chance to watch the film, how do you feel Monroe played overall? (Joe Platania) “Overall, Eugene [Monroe] played well. He played a good game, pass protection and run. That was an unfortunate play, obviously. He got beat there by a good pass rusher, but he played a good game.”

You’ve said several times that you feel the team is practicing very well. Does that make the slow starts in games harder to understand because you’ve felt the team was practicing so well in the week leading up to games? (Jeff Zrebiec) “That’s been an issue most of the year, obviously. We need to start faster. We’d love to start with the lead and try to build on that. We haven’t done that as often as we need to. But I also believe that when you practice well, you play well. And ultimately, that is going to show up. So, we’ve just got to continue to practice well and do everything we can to take it to the game and find a way to do that.”

Did it appear on the film that the backs were in the backfield immediately, or was that not a problem? (Aaron Wilson) “We had too many negative-yard plays on the run. That’s what you are referring to, I think. You can’t have negative-yard plays in the run game. We had some mental mistakes, some errors that just cost us. You need no runs for negative yards. There has got to be at least a gain of some kind moving forward. We’ve got to get a lot better at that.”

Ray Rice has vented some frustration with the running game. Is it a lot of moving parts to get it fixed, or is it more of an easy fix to get things going? (Aaron Wilson) “Well, nothing is simple. But, it can be fixed, and we have the guys to do it. I really feel strongly about our offensive line. I think we’ve got the men for the job – coaches and players. We’ve got a great group. We’ve got some depth in there, too, and there are some things we need to clean up [and] some things we can do better. Frustration can be a great motivator. I like that; let’s be frustrated, and let’s go to work and see if we can get better.”

You talked about the percentage of success in deciding to go for it on fourth down. On the three plays previous, you had a gain of 2 yards, 1 yard and no gain whatsoever. Does that defy the percentages in that case when you look back after viewing the film? (Jerry Coleman) “I don’t think so when you look at the numbers, statistically. I don’t have that in front of me right now, but I feel pretty good about our chances of scoring from the 1-yard line. And when you look at the percentages overall, leaving a team on the 1-inch line is never a bad thing either. I’d rather have seven than three there. I’d rather have three than none, but when you back a team up to the zero – right on the goal line – you’ve got a pretty good chance of forcing a punt and getting that three at least right back and maybe a seven. We saw that play out a little bit in the Super Bowl, too, with the fake field goal. And the field position wasn’t even as good. So, that’s the thinking there.”

Ryan Jensen is working his way back from injury. What role do you see for him when he returns to play? (Garrett Downing) “He’ll be a backup to start with, and then we’ll see what he does from there. We haven’t seen much of him yet. So, developmental backup – that will be his role.”

Is it just a statistical coincidence that the three games this season where Joe Flacco has thrown multiple touchdowns and had 300 yards ended up being losses? (Mark Zinno) “I’d have to do some study on that. I don’t have that answer.”

Joe Flacco said after the game that the Ravens need more yards on first and second down. Is that something that can be fixed by getting better runs on first down, or is it a deeper problem than that? (Dave Ginsburg) “It’s probably deeper than that. Getting more yards in the run game would be big. That would help us a lot. We sure expect to do better with the run game and we need to. You can’t consistently run for two yards a carry and be what you want to be as an offense. It makes it hard to stay with it. But, we need to do a better job of passing on first down, too. We need to pass well on first and second down. We need to keep ourselves out of third-and-long as much as possible. Early downs have not been good to us, and we’ve got to improve that.”

With the penalty situation on offense, is it something where it's cadence or something else in particular? (Aaron Wilson) "It's just having success. We get backed up, everybody is hyped up and trying to make something happen. Your offensive line, especially, can get a little anxious. Until this game, I don't think we had any of that. We didn't in Miami and we were on the road down there. It's not something that should happen back to back. That's really where it hurt us most, when we backed ourselves up to a first-and-20."

Specifically with the offensive line, penalties against them on hands-to-the-face penalties, are they doing something different or is that something that the NFL is keying on? (Brett Hollander) "I don't know, because [Green Bay] had one where their left tackle didn't get called. They might be keying on it; I know Marshal [Yanda] mentioned that. We just told our guys that all we can do is what we can do, which is keep our hands down. It seems like every time we've been up in the face area it's been called. We just have to get them off the facemask."

Aaron Rodgers says the hit that Matt Elam put on [Randall] Cobb was a questionable hit. What are your thoughts on what Matt did in that situation? (Matt Vense) "I think Matt [Elam] made a tackle. He was scrambling to catch up with that route as best he could to make the tackle. To say that it could have been more 'artistically palatable' is pretty hard for me to understand. That's a fast route; they ran a very good route there. Aaron [Rodgers] made a good quick throw in there, and Matt did the best he could to try and stop that play. I have no idea what he's talking about."

Did Lardarius [Webb] get hit in the head at one point? At one point he was a little "woozy." It looked like he got kneed in the head at one point by [John] Kuhn, and the Packers went after him offensively. (Jerry Coleman) "No, I'm not aware of that."

What happened with the breakdown in blocking [on the punt block?]. Is that a concern? (Clifton Brown) "That's definitely a concern. Our punt protection has never been a problem, and now we've got two punts blocked. It should have never happened; it was a missed call. We just called the protection incorrectly. They moved their No. 2 man out there off the slot. We changed the protection – we probably shouldn't have done it that way – and that's what happened."

So much attention has been put on the offensive line in terms of the run game. How have the running backs performed in terms of seeing the hole and explosiveness through the hole? (Luke Jones) "It's all a part of it. It's collective. We all have to do a better job. We have to game-plan it better, we have to structure it better, and we have to call it better. Let's look at ourselves first as coaches and then as players. Everybody [will] look at their own position and see where they can get better. Our guys do a great job of that. We've got a bunch of guys, that if you talk to them, you'll see that's the case. Our guys want to know what they can do better. They're not worried about everybody else, and they're certainly not worried about pointing the finger at anybody else. The running backs are going to acknowledge what you just said. The offensive line is going to take responsibility. The coaches are going to take responsibility. To me, that is part of who we are, and I'm proud of that."

Can you talk a little bit about the stretch that's coming up here, the AFC North battle with three-straight AFC North battles coming up? (Ryan Mink) "How about we talk about the one-game streak coming up?"

How big is this [game] against the Steelers? (Ryan Mink) "It's big. It's big. It's AFC North, of course. It's Pittsburgh in Pittsburgh. It's a game that we've longed for, all of us here in Baltimore. We've always felt it's a big rivalry. It's certainly become that, and we look forward to playing it – we always do. We have tons of respect for them. We know what they're about. We enjoy playing in the game, and I believe they do, too. It should be a heck of a battle."

Speaking of Pittsburgh, a lot of fans take delight in the fact that the Steelers have struggled, but you always seem to respect the opponent as much as you can. Is there anything you want the fans to know about the 2013 Steelers? (Joe Platanica) "I'll let the 2013 Steelers speak for themselves. How about that? They're a good football team, very good."

Do you ever hear the criticism when a decision goes not the way that you had planned? (Jamison Hensley) "Well, I hear it from you guys, so sure."

And when you watch the film, I know you're evaluating players, but do you ever do self-scouting? (Jamison Hensley) "Of course. How many times have I stood up here and said, 'That was a mistake. We should have done that better, would have done that differently.'? That's got to be part of it. We look at the way we've organized the run game. We've looked at the way we've organized that. How can we do that better? You look at every aspect of what you do, how you practice, what you say to guys, what we serve in the cafeteria. It's all important. So, most certainly, those strategic or tactical decisions that you're talking about, you look at really hard. Just answering Jerry [Coleman]'s question over here, that was the right decision to do at that point. I believe that. Going back to that in front of that decision, we'd do it the same way. You have to stand strong."

We don't get to speak to Juan Castillo a lot. Just a question about the techniques you said he was bringing in with the run game and the scheme: Has it been the scheme? Has it been the players holding things back to this degree so far? I'm not pointing the finger – just an assessment of where things are with the changes with Juan. (Jerry Coleman) "It's collective. There are not that many things that are different. We are who we are as far as what we do, but we've got to do things better – all of us. That's really the best answer I can give you. There are a lot of specifics within that, but that's not for this format. But those are all things we're looking at. Those are things we're studying very hard. There are plenty of specific things that we need to do differently or we need to do better. And those are things that we'll do. We're not stuck on any particular scheme or any particular technique or any particular way of doing something. We want to find the best way to do it, and we work hard at that, and we'll continue to do that. We're going to find our way into our run game. It's a process. We're fairly early on. I would have sure liked for it to have happened sooner – I thought it would – but that doesn't mean we're not going to keep going after it. We're going to. And that's not just the run game. That's a part of everything we do, all three phases."

Torrey Smith had the least amount of catches he's had this season. What did the Packers do to try to take him away? If a team does that in the future, what are some things you can do to try to keep him involved? (Aaron Wilson) "Sometimes, it's just the way it reads out. The ball went to some other guys. They played a little bit of quarter-half coverage sometimes. They pressed him every now and then. They had a safety on top of him sometimes, [and] sometimes they didn't. The guy is not going to catch eight balls for 120 yards every single week. It'd be great if he did, but that's why we have other guys. Other guys need to step up, and some other guys did."

How good was it to have Jacoby Jones back on the field? (Bill West) "It was great. Jacoby [Jones] gave us a speed element out there, and he'll probably play more and more offensively as we go forward. Tandon Doss played well. Marlon [Brown] played well. Dallas Clark had a bunch of catches. That's what you try to do – you try to have enough guys in different spots where you can move the ball around and keep them honest. I believe our pass game is moving in that direction. We did a good job with the pocket compared to previous weeks. We did a good job. The depth of the pocket was better, the width of the pocket was better. We had some errors in terms of who we blocked, especially on their pressures. That really hurt us. And I think we got beat one-on-one maybe twice. So, all those things have to be better, but we're headed in the right direction."

With the passing game, is it starting to come together as the group you envisioned when you started the season and you're getting pieces back on the field? (Garrett Downing) "We've been in flux. Personnel-wise, we've been in flux – there's no question. We've got a few new pieces on the offensive line. There's some development going on there. But we've never had our receiving group together yet. So, to have all those guys active, except for [Brandon] Stokley, was a plus for us. I really think we can build on that."

You talk about the run game being a process and going through it. How hard is it for you not to get frustrated that it's not going as quick as you like? At what point in time as a coach do you say, "Either the process needs to change because the results aren't there, or we need to make some changes personnel-wise because we're not getting the results we need?" (Mark Zinno) "You do all that. We're definitely making changes. We're not going to sit there and just stand pat with what we're doing. It may not be visible from the outside looking in, but they're visible to the people we play against, and they're definitely visible to us. We know what changes we're making. So, whether it's personnel changes, or more likely, scheme changes – not major things, just things that will give our guys a better chance to be on the same page – that's what we need to do. We've got too many situations where we don't have a hat on a hat. When you don't have a hat on a hat, that's a problem. That's just not acceptable. And there are reasons for that. That's what we're looking at – the reasons for that. How do we make sure that doesn't happen? Well, it's easy to go back and say, 'OK, if we'd have done this, if we'd have done that, that wouldn't happen,' and make the correction and walk back through it or whatever. But you have to go forward [and] anticipate the problems, and that's what we try to do. How do we organize and structure the system so our guys can be on the same page against who we're playing against? That's what we've got to figure out. It's a little more complicated at this level because of what you see from the other team. They're always going to give you things that are different, and you've got to anticipate well. And even when you anticipate well, sometimes you don't always execute as well as you can. We've just got to do a better job of that."

John, how much did Brandon Stokley's health factor into him being inactive, or was it a case of having your full array of receivers available? (Luke Jones) "It was just a decision [at] game time. I don't know exactly where he was at – probably not 100 percent – just like the week before. But we thought that was our best combination of guys for this game given all the circumstances."

Last year when you played the Steelers, they were without Ben Roethlisberger for both games. It's been two years since you last faced him, so I guess just your thoughts on facing him this week and having Roethlisberger back in this rivalry? (Matt Vensel) "Ben is a great player. We always get a chance to shake hands and chat before the game, because we're both Miami [OH] guys – The Miami University. (laughter) So, we're both proud of that, and then once the game starts, it'll be high competition. But he's a great player. He's always been the straw that stirs the drink in Pittsburgh, and it's a big challenge when you play him."

In the first quarter when you opted to punt instead of sending Justin Tucker out to try a 55-yard field goal ... Was it anything other than elements? Or was it just distance, was it wind? (Mark Zinno) "There was a little wind up there, and I was worried about the field position. I thought we were in a field position battle at that point in time of the game, and it felt like pinning them back would be ideal [with] the way our defense was playing. We would have liked to have gotten them inside the 10- [yard line], which we didn't do. We could have kicked a field goal there, and I think Justin would have had as good a chance or better than most in the league at making that field goal. So, that was kind of a 50-50 call there, but it felt like it was a field position game at that point."

John, as you try to work through the running game, would you like to see Ray Rice a little more involved as a receiver out of the backfield, just because you know what kind of playmaking ability he has? (Luke Jones) "I want all of our guys involved. Sure, Ray getting receptions is a good thing. When he gets the ball in space and makes plays, it's positive for us. He had a few yesterday – had the one in the flat [and] their linebacker made a nice play. He had a couple in the check-down area where he made some nice plays. So, that's always a good thing, especially when they push their coverage out a little bit underneath some of our routes. That should open up for us."

John, was Bryant McKinnie a healthy scratch yesterday? (Jerry Coleman) "Yes."

Because he had talked about a knee injury after the game, or having his knee drained ... (Jerry Coleman) "He had his knee drained on Wednesday. That's not the first time; that's been kind of a regular thing. Bryant is tough, Bryant is tough. He's a guy that'll play through those kinds of things."

You said after the game you didn't want to play nervous. Is some of that just situational? Does it change from game-to-game with how aggressive you're going to be? (Mark Zinno) "Yes. One thing about us is, historically, we've had a very good defense. And I always want to give our defense a chance and try to be aggressive on offense, because we think we can make those plays. There are plenty of times when you see a team that's back in their own end – even deeper than the 34- [yard line] with 20 seconds, 10 seconds, 30 seconds – complete a pass and kick a field goal; make a play. And I feel like we can do that. I feel like we've got a lot of speed out there, and we can make plays and put pressure on people. Hey, can you put a knee on the ground right there? Absolutely, you can. And there will be times where that'll be the right thing to do. But at that point in time, I believed that we could make a play right there. They were pushing the coverage deep, we had three timeouts, and I felt like we could do it. Same thing for the fourth-and-1 that you asked about – I felt like we would score there. If we didn't score, I felt like our defense would keep them in there and we'd force a punt. That's why you do those things. Generally speaking, we're going to be aggressive – yes."
