IN LOVING MEMORY

STEVE BISCIOTTI

OWNER

COLLEGE: SALISBURY STATE UNIVERSITY

BORN: 4/10/60, PHILADELPHIA, PA

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 25/25

STEVE BISCIOTTI wants consistency. His goal is to have the Ravens in the playoff hunt every season, avoiding dips that plague some franchises.

The Ravens are one of only four teams (Green Bay – 12, New England – 12, Baltimore – 11, and Kansas City – 11) to earn at least 11 postseason berths in the last 16 years (2008-23), with Baltimore winning at least one game in eight of those 11 playoff campaigns. Additionally, during this span, the Ravens have compiled the NFL's fourth-most postseason victories (12, tied with Green Bay), and they have advanced to four AFC Championship games (2023, 2012, 2011 and 2008), winning Super Bowl XLVII in 2012.

"We're proud of what we're giving to Baltimore," Bisciotti says. "You have to make the playoffs to have the opportunity to compete for championships, and championships are our goal. We want to be a consistent winner that avoids big lulls and not being in the playoffs for any length of time."

The Ravens are part of an elite group: They are one of 15 NFL teams with multiple Super Bowl victories. Five franchises have won one title. Eight others have earned a berth in the game and lost, while four teams have never advanced to the Super Bowl. More importantly, with the Super Bowl XLVII Championship, the Ravens (two), the Patriots (six), the Chiefs (three) and the Buccaneers, Giants and Steelers (also two each) are the only teams that have won more than one NFL title since the turn of the century in 2000.

The passionate Bisciotti, who at 64 is the NFL's fourth-youngest majority owner (Kansas City's Clark Hunt, 59, Arizona's Michael Bidwill, 59 and Washington's Josh Harris, 59), bought a minority interest in the Ravens from Art Modell in 2000, completing the purchase of the franchise on April 9, 2004.

Steve's initial investment to the team provided funds to secure free agents for the 2000 Super Bowl XXXV Championship team. Today, his influence in the NFL continues to rise. He served for several years on two important ownership committees: Broadcast and Digital Media.

When Bisciotti, now in his 25th year as an owner of the Ravens, hired Harbaugh as the team's head coach in January of 2008, some eyebrows were raised. Harbaugh had never been a head coach at any level. In fact, he had not been an offensive or defensive coordinator in the NFL. It was obviously the right choice. Along with the Super Bowl XLVII victory during the 2012 season, Baltimore advanced to the playoffs in its first five years with Harbaugh, who is the only modern-day (since 1970) head coach to win a playoff game in each of his first four and five seasons. He is also the only head coach in NFL history to win a playoff game in six of the first seven seasons, while his 12 playoff victories tie (Tom Coughlin and Bill Cowher) for the fifth most ever by a head coach in the first 16 seasons of an NFL coaching career.

"We all saw something in John. And, you have to be willing to separate yourself from the masses – take some chances – to achieve great success," Bisciotti says of Harbaugh, who in 2019 was named NFL Coach of the Year after guiding Baltimore to a franchise-best 14-2 record. "There's probably a little bit more perception that we took a risk with John. We don't think we did."

Since taking over as the Ravens' full owner (2004), Bisciotti's teams have earned the playoffs a total of 12 times, including the AFC's No. 1 seed in both 2019 (14-2 record) and 2023 (13-4 record). His 2004 (9-7), 2013 (8-8), 2017 (9-7) and 2021 (8-9) teams were in playoff contention heading into the season's final week. Baltimore has also captured six division crowns under Steve's leadership, and with Harbaugh at the helm (since 2008), has produced the league's third-most total victories (172, including playoffs).

QUOTE THE RAVEN: STEVE BISCIOTTI

"My responsibilities are not only to my family and the people who work for the Ravens. There are over a million stakeholders in the Baltimore area who we have an obligation to. They're the fans who invest more than three hours on Sunday to watch, listen to or attend our games. That's a big difference from owning a non-sports company."

– Steve Bisciotti on owning the Ravens

"What really strikes me about Steve is his loyalty to the friends he's had forever. A lot of people, when they become very successful like Steve, they move on. His friends are the same ones he grew up with. That's one of his strengths."

– Longtime Maryland basketball coach Gary Williams

"[Steve] is a great leader. The players love him. They love when he's around. He's an inspiration to all of our guys, to me, to this organization. He sets the tone here. It's a great organization because of his vision."

– John Harbaugh on Steve Bisciotti

STEVE BISCIOTTI

MOST SUPER BOWL TITLES SINCE 2000 SEASON

Titles	Team	Seasons
6	New England Patriots	2001, '03, '04, '14, '16, '18
3	Kansas City Chiefs	2019, 2022, 2023
2	Baltimore Ravens	2000, 2012
2	New York Giants	2007, 2011
2	Pittsburgh Steelers	2005, 2008
2	Tampa Bay Buccaneers	2002, 2020

Born in Philadelphia on April 10, 1960, Bisciotti moved with his family to Baltimore (Severna Park) in March of 1961 when Steve, the youngest of three children, was 11 months old. His father, Bernard, took the children to Orioles and Colts games. Sadly, Bernard died of leukemia when Steve was 8. His mother, Patricia, a huge Ravens fan, then raised the children.

After graduating from Salisbury (Md.) State University in 1982 with a degree in liberal arts, Bisciotti worked in the temporary help industry. In 1983 (at age 23), he started Aerotek with his cousin, Jim Davis. They offered aerospace and technology companies access to skilled temporary employees.

Aerotek is part of Allegis Group, the largest staffing firm in the United States and the largest privately held talent management firm in the world. The company, headquartered just outside Baltimore, has offices throughout North America, Europe and Asia Pacific. Allegis Group has over 16,000 internal employees and 130,000 employees assigned to client locations. These include engineers, scientists, IT professionals, accountants, attorneys and industrial workers.

Before purchasing the Ravens, Bisciotti's business success was not well known to the general public on a national level, or even notable in the Baltimore area, where he and his partners kept a low profile. "I'm OK if I'm one of the least known owners in pro sports," Bisciotti says.

Steve, an energetic visionary, is quietly dedicated to several important causes and projects, some associated with his deep Catholic faith. He is a board member for Catholic Charities and created The Stephen and Renee Bisciotti Foundation. Most of Bisciotti's extensive charity work and generous giving are done without public notice, although, in 2020, it was announced that the foundation and the Ravens combined to donate $5 million to assist vital programs supported by Catholic Charities from more than 200 locations in Baltimore City and nine Maryland counties.

In August of 2020, the foundation and the Ravens also jointly distributed $1 million to support social justice reform in Baltimore, with a committee of current and former Ravens players determining the 28 programs chosen to receive funds from the contribution.

Additionally, at the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic, Steve and Renee's foundation and the Ravens combined to donate $1 million to support four nonprofit organizations – the Fund for Educational Excellence, the United Way of Central Maryland, the Baltimore Community Foundation and the Maryland Food Bank – in their efforts to combat the public health crisis.

In June of 2021, Steve and Renee honored Ozzie Newsome – the Ravens' longtime personnel executive and Pro Football Hall of Famer – by making a $4 million gift in his name to Maryland's Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs). Through their foundation, the $4 million donation created the Ozzie Newsome Scholars Program, which funds scholarships for Baltimore City Public Schools graduates who attend an HBCU in Maryland.

In January of 2023, The Stephen and Renee Bisciotti foundation and the Ravens made a $20 million commitment to the Boys & Girls Clubs of Metropolitan Baltimore to create the Baltimore Ravens Boys & Girls Club at Hilton Recreation Center. The previously-closed center will undergo a comprehensive renovation resulting in a space where hundreds of children ages 6-18 will participate daily in youth development programs. In April of 2024, Steve and Renee's foundation and the Ravens announced a $10 million donation to help form the Baltimore Ravens College Track Center, targeted to open in the fall of 2025. The new academic facility is being created to help Baltimore City Public School students advance through high school, college and into the workforce.

Bisciotti enjoys golfing and boating. He and his wife, Renee (Foote), are the parents of two sons: Jason and Jack, both of whom reside with their families in the Baltimore area.

(Bisciotti is pronounced: bih-SHAH-tee.)

QUOTH THE RAVEN: STEVE BISCIOTTI

"I remember going to a couple of Colts games every season with my dad or mom and brother (Mike) and sister (Cathy Thomas). We were on the 10-yard line, lower deck. We'd go to O's games, too. My favorite player was Paul Blair, because my brother already claimed Brooks Robinson and would not let me take the same guy. We'd also go to Westminster for Colts training camp. We have pictures with various players, and I have one with me wearing Johnny Unitas' helmet. I would always ask the Colts players if I could wear their helmets."

SASHI BROWN

PRESIDENT

COLLEGE: HAMPTON / HARVARD LAW SCHOOL

BORN: 5/15/76, BOSTON, MA

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 16/3

Entering his third year with the Baltimore Ravens, SASHI BROWN, 48, oversees and manages all business areas of the organization, including finances, legal, budgeting, corporate sales, operations, stadium activities, communications and business ventures. Brown was also appointed by Commissioner Roger Goodell to serve on the NFL's Stadium Committee.

"He's very smart and has good judgement," stated longtime Ravens president Dick Cass, whose role Brown assumed in April 2022. "He's thoughtful, and what you really notice are his people skills, poise and presence."

For the three years (2019-21) prior to his arrival in Baltimore, Brown worked at Monumental Sports & Entertainment, last serving as President of Monumental Basketball (Wizards, Mystics and Go-Go) and as a special advisor to the CEO.

Brown also previously accrued 13 years of NFL experience, including five seasons (2013-17) with the Cleveland Browns, where he served two years (2016-17) as executive vice president of football operations. Prior, he spent eight years (2005-12) with the Jacksonville Jaguars, last serving as senior vice president and general counsel.

In 2015, Brown was named to the Sports Business Journal's "Forty Under 40" list.

He began his career as an attorney at the Washington, D.C.-based law firm WilmerHale.

2022-24: (with Baltimore Ravens) 2024: Spearheaded by Brown, the Ravens announced in April the creation of the Ravens College Access Program, which is supported by $50 million in donations that benefit three organizations (College Bound, Bridges Baltimore & College Track) dedicated to providing access to higher education...The Stephen & Renee Bisciotti Foundation and the Ravens will contribute $30 million to the three college completion programs ($10 million to each), while M&T Bank and College Track will also provide $10 million investments each...In conjunction with this program, the Baltimore Ravens College Track Center is expected to open in the fall of 2025...In March, the Ravens entered a partnership with Levy to become the team's official food, beverage and hospitality (F&B) partner and the exclusive concessionaire at M&T Bank Stadium.

2023: Brown led the months-long planning and December unveiling of "The Next Evolution," a three-year (2024-26) upgrades project to significantly enhance the gameday and year-round fan offerings at M&T Bank Stadium...In addition to substantial developments on the exterior plazas, every level of the venue has undergone (or will undergo) renovations – thus completely transforming the stadium experience for all fans and ensuring that the stadium remains a world-class NFL and entertainment venue well into the future...In

"The Ravens serve as a beacon of excellence for the community and beyond. Our performance on the field must be matched by our investments off the field, which we've accomplished — tens of millions of dollars invested in the greater Baltimore community. It's a core part of our mission to be a great steward, not only a great football team on the field, which we've been, but also a great steward of the community in Maryland as a whole."

– Sashi Brown on the Ravens' 15-year lease agreement/extension with the Maryland Stadium Authority to remain playing at M&T Bank Stadium through at least 2037

November, Brown oversaw the completion of a significant agreement with the Fanatics Retail Group to assume all future M&T Bank Stadium retail operations, along with the continuation of e-commerce business...The new partnership creates an omni-channel experience for Ravens fans that seamlessly integrates online and in-venue shopping...In April, Brown's leadership helped secure a new 15-year strategic partnership extension with M&T Bank, which includes the continued stadium naming rights agreement. 2022: In his first year as president, Brown led the completion of a new stadium lease agreement between the Maryland Stadium Authority and the Ravens, extending the team's commitment to remain in Baltimore and support investment in M&T Bank Stadium through the end of the 2037 NFL season (with two five-year options to extend)...Through funds from state-issued bonds, the lease agreement paved the way for M&T Bank Stadium enhancement projects over the ensuing several years.

2019-21: (with Monumental Sports & Entertainment) In November 2021, Brown was promoted to President of Monumental Basketball and special advisor to the CEO...He oversaw various operations for the Wizards, Mystics and Go-Go, including research & information systems, technology, equipment, communications, finance, facilities, security and player engagement...Originally joined Monumental Basketball as chief planning and operations officer in July 2019.

2013-17: (with Cleveland Browns) Brown was promoted to EVP of football operations in January 2016, leading the development of an organizational vision and strategic plan for rebuilding football operations...He oversaw all football operation functions, including salary cap and contracts, scouting, medical, equipment, video, travel, security, facilities and athletic performance...Originally hired by Cleveland as its executive vice president and general counsel, Brown worked in both football and business capacities...Upon his arrival, he was responsible for overseeing the team's football administration functions and player contract negotiations...On the business side, his duties included commercial contracts, government affairs, risk management, intellectual property issues, litigation and stadium matters.

2005-12: (with Jacksonville Jaguars) Brown spent eight years as Jacksonville's senior vice president and general counsel...He was involved in both football and business operations, which included playing a key role in helping negotiate the naming rights deal for EverBank Field.

2002-05: (with WilmerHale) Brown represented clients in sports-related transactions, venture capital and private equity deals, as well as mergers and acquisitions.

COLLEGE: Brown earned his Bachelor of Arts degree (mass media) from Hampton University in 1998 and a juris doctorate degree from Harvard Law School in 2002.

PERSONAL: Brown has a longstanding history of civic involvement, having served on the boards of directors for the Cleveland Browns Foundation, Cleveland Development Advisors, Jacksonville Housing Authority, Jacksonville

Museum of Science & History and the MaliVai Washington Kids Foundation...He is currently on the Board of Trustees at Hampton University and is the Chairman of the Ravens Foundation, Inc....He's also a Board Member at Lafayette Square, an organization that aims to support working-class communities by creating investment and business opportunities....Though born in Boston, Brown mostly grew up in Middletown, CT...While attending Hampton University, he spent time as a radio play-by-play announcer and analyst for the football and basketball teams...He also hosted a radio show focused on jazz music, which he remains passionate about today...He and his wife, Paige, have two sons (Robeson & Ellison) and two daughters (Zora & Ananda).

"I want us to be a symbol of excellence. I want us to embody and embrace our community. We want our fans to embrace us. We want to show up in the places that are most needed throughout Baltimore and greater Maryland."

– Sashi Brown

BROWN MAKES IMMEDIATE IMPACT

Brown serves as Chairman of the Ravens Foundation, which in June 2024, helped transform and beautify The Historic Samuel Coleridge-Taylor Elementary School in Baltimore City. The Ravens Foundation fully funded the project, providing upgrades to the first Baltimore City school built specifically to educate African American children in 1926.

Brown, pictured with head coach John Harbaugh (left) and owner Steve Bisciotti (right), oversees and manages all business areas of the organization, including finances, legal, budgeting, non-football personnel, corporate sales, operations, stadium activities, communications and business ventures.

In December 2023, Brown unveiled a series of significant projects that evolve gameday and year-round fan offerings at M&T Bank Stadium. Initial upgrades come on-line for the 2024 season, with the remaining enhancements set for 2025 and 2026, ensuring the stadium remains a world-class NFL and entertainment venue for years to come.

The launch of the Baltimore Ravens College Track Center (targeted to open in 2025) was announced in 2024 by the Ravens, The Stephen and Renee Bisciotti Foundation, M&T Bank and College Track. Brown's vision was instrumental in developing the partnership and the future educational opportunities that will assist Baltimore City students.

ERIC DeCOSTA

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT & GENERAL MANAGER

COLLEGE: COLBY

BORN: 4/10/71, TAUNTON, MA

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 29/29

ERIC DeCOSTA's loyalty, love and pride for the Baltimore Ravens are unmatched. A pillar of the organization's well-laid foundation, DeCosta has been with the franchise since Day One, first beginning as an intern during the inaugural 1996 season and then ascending to the personnel department's chief decision-maker in 2019.

Prior to being named executive vice president and general manager – succeeding the legendary Ozzie Newsome – DeCosta, 53, received GM interview offers annually from multiple teams over the years.

Yet, he never seriously considered leaving Baltimore, because Eric's respect for – and thorough understanding of – the Ravens' culture aligned perfectly with his dream job.

"I'm the kind of person who appreciates people who stick with things," DeCosta admits. "Even when I think about athletes I've admired, people I've admired, they've had long tenures in different places. But I love this community. My family is from this community. I love the people I work with day to day. Anyone who knows me knows that."

In 2007, Ravens owner Steve Bisciotti first approached DeCosta about becoming general manager one day. Years later, they decided Eric would continue to serve as Newsome's top lieutenant through 2018, helping groom him for the GM role and setting up a seamless transition.

"Did I have chances [to leave]? Yes," DeCosta shares. "Did I have a lot? Yes. Did I ever really consider it? Not really, because every time I'd go to bed thinking that maybe I would consider something, I'd wake up and say, 'What are you, crazy? You know you're going to have the job someday that you've dreamed about, so just wait and make it perfect.'"

From an outside perspective, the imminent ascension might have spawned challenges in DeCosta's relationship with Newsome. That was never the case, however, because the duo has always had a remarkable connection – one that forged a rare professional partnership and an extraordinary friendship.

"He's an outside-the-box thinker, but his football beliefs are based on substance, history and collected wisdom. He can see the unintended consequences that come with certain big decisions. He'll push the envelope to make sure we're covering all possibilities."

– Ravens EVP Ozzie Newsome on Eric DeCosta

"Ozzie basically took a 25-year-old kid who had no experience in the NFL, who was so different from him, and gave me a chance and accepted me," DeCosta says fondly. "He and I have always been very different in a lot of ways, but so aligned. It's a special relationship in my life. I've learned a lot of football, but honestly, just a lot more about being a good person."

A graduate of the Ravens' "20/20 Club," which includes members of the personnel staff who started with the team as young assistants and grew into evaluators with more input, DeCosta quickly moved up the ranks. He was first a personnel intern (1996), then area scout (1997-2002), then director of college scouting (2003-08), then director of player personnel (2009-11) and then assistant GM (2012-18).

It became evident early in DeCosta's tenure that he was destined for NFL success. Brimming with passion, resourcefulness, a relentless attitude and an advanced aptitude, he quickly earned his co-workers' respect.

"When Ray Lewis walked into camp his first day, he never really was truly a rookie," former Ravens SVP of football operations Pat Moriarty recalls. "He was Ray Lewis, our starting linebacker. [That same year of 1996], I think Eric was never 'Eric the Intern.' He was more than a scout."

Raised in Taunton, MA, DeCosta set his sights on becoming an NFL GM from the age of 6. His interest first piqued in 1978, when, contrary to many of his friends who were Patriots and Broncos fans, he began to follow the Cowboys.

"I was fascinated by the Cowboys and Tom Landry, Gil Brandt, Tex Schramm – the whole notion of scouting and building a football team," DeCosta states. "Doing things differently than all the other teams did back then really appealed to me.”

Throughout much of his upbringing, Eric would study the NFL – particularly the draft – in a detailed manner that continuously amazed friends and family members.

His passion for the game of football was also quite evident on the field. Though, admittedly, he was never the biggest, fastest, smartest or most talented athlete, DeCosta was undoubtedly the hardest worker – someone always seeking ways to make himself better and gain a competitive edge.

While attending Colby College in Maine, the undersized linebacker went on to become a three-year starter and senior captain. He knew every assignment on the gridiron, holding himself to the highest of standards, all while inspiring teammates to reach new levels.

After graduating from Colby in 1992, DeCosta took part in a graduate coaching fellowship for the football team at Trinity University, where he would also earn a master's in English. But as time passed, he became uncertain about where a coaching path would lead. Looking to maximize his options, Eric applied to law school and prepared to pursue a new career, rather than cling to his football passion.

However, a chance encounter reinvigorated DeCosta's football pursuits in 1995, when he met someone who had completed an internship with Washington's NFL team. Upon learning of such NFL opportunities, Eric immediately sent resumes and letters to all 32 clubs. In response, he received rejection notices from all but one team – Washington – which hired him to serve as a training camp intern.

Thanks to that experience, DeCosta had finally – and successfully – broken into the NFL. The following year (1996), he landed the Ravens' personnel internship during their first-ever season. Coincidentally, he accepted Baltimore's offer the same day he learned that he had been placed on the University of Connecticut Law School waitlist.

"I was willing to take a chance," DeCosta affirms, "because I knew that once I got to Baltimore, I'd do everything to make the most of my opportunity."

The rest, as they say, is history – something bolstered by loyalty, love and pride from a man who helped build an organization, just as much as the organization built him.

1996-2024: (with Baltimore) 2023: Signed QB Lamar Jackson, who went on to earn a second NFL MVP honor and lead Baltimore to a league-best 13-4 record, to a historic five-year contract extension...Earning their fourth playoff berth in DeCosta's five seasons as GM, Ravens tallied an NFL-record 10 victories vs. teams that finished with a winning record... Led by All-Pros S Kyle Hamilton, DT Justin Madubuike, ILB Patrick Queen and ILB Roquan Smith, Baltimore became the first team in league history to finish a season ranking No. 1 in points allowed (16.5 ppg), sacks (60) and takeaways (31)... Super Bowl-winning head coach JOHN HARBAUGH is in his 17th season at the Ravens’ helm. The 2019 NFL Coach of the Year has led Baltimore to a playoff berth in 11 (2008-12, 2014, 2018-20 & 2022-23) of his 16 previous seasons, and in 2012, captured the franchise’s second World Championship.

Though he never wants it to be about him, it’s impossible to ignore Harbaugh’s significant success. Here’s a look at the NFL’s second-longest-tenured head coach (Mike Tomlin – 18 seasons), entering the 2024 campaign:

- Since Harbaugh’s 2008 Baltimore arrival, the Ravens have posted the NFL’s third-most total victories (172, including playoffs). He has also led the Ravens to 160 regular season wins since 2008, ranking as the NFL’s fourth most.
- Under Harbaugh, Baltimore is one of four teams (GB - 12, NE - 12 & KC - 11) to earn a playoff berth in at least 11 of the past 16 seasons. Baltimore (five) is also one of four teams (KC - 6, Buf. - 5 & Phi. - 5) to make the playoffs in at least five of the past six seasons (2018-23).
- The Ravens’ 12 playoff wins since 2008 tie (GB) for the NFL’s fourth most, trailing only Kansas City and New England (16 each) and San Francisco (13). Of those Baltimore victories, an NFL-best eight have come on the road.
- Harbaugh’s 12 playoff victories tie (Tom Coughlin & Bill Cowher) for the fifth most by a head coach in the first 16 seasons of an NFL coaching career (Joe Gibbs – 17, Bill Belichick – 15, Chuck Noll – 15 & Mike Holmgren – 13).
- Harbaugh owns the most road playoff wins (eight) by a head coach in NFL history. Tom Landry (Dal.) and Tom Coughlin (Jax./NYG) are second with seven each.
- Harbaugh is one of nine coaches to earn at least 11 playoff berths in his first 16 seasons (Bud Grant & Mike Holmgren – 12; Harbaugh, Pete Carroll, Tony Dungy, Chuck Knox, Mike McCarthy, Chuck Noll & Marty Schottenheimer – 11).
- The 2012 Ravens won Super Bowl XLVII, 34-31, over the San Francisco 49ers in one of the most dramatic games in NFL history. Baltimore jumped to a 28-6 lead, but needed a critical goal-line stand late in the fourth quarter to help seal the victory. The Ravens overcame a furious second-half comeback and a 34-minute power outage at the Mercedes-Benz Superdome in New Orleans to clinch the franchise’s second World Championship.

- Under Harbaugh’s guidance, the Ravens have appeared in four AFC Championship games (2008, 2011, 2012 & 2023) and have won at least one playoff game in eight of their 11 postseasons with him as head coach.
- Harbaugh is the only head coach in NFL history (since 1970 merger) to win a playoff game in each of his first five seasons. Notably, no other NFL coach has won a playoff game in each of their first four seasons at the helm. He is also the only head coach in NFL history to win a playoff game in six of the first seven seasons of a coaching career.
- John and his younger brother, Jim (2011, 2012 and 2013), the former 49ers head coach and current Chargers head coach, are the only NFL head coaches to reach three conference championships in the first five seasons of a coaching career.
- With Harbaugh, the Ravens have posted an 93-37 mark at M&T Bank Stadium over the past 16 seasons, ranking as the NFL’s third-best winning percentage (.715) during that span (2008-23).
- In 2019, the Ravens recorded a franchise-best 14-2 record. Baltimore won a team-record 12-straight games to close out the regular season, also earning the franchise’s first-ever No. 1 playoff seed.
- Coach Harbaugh has led the Ravens to five AFC North Division titles (2011-12, 2018-19 & 2023).

From his job interview with the Ravens, to his first press conference, to his consistent action and talk about Baltimore, it is all about “the team” for Harbaugh. Signs can be seen around the Ravens’ complex:

“The Team, The Team, The Team.”

JOHN HARBAUGH

Despite his continued success, "Harbs" diffuses accolades: "It's about us. It's about the team. It's about the players, the coaches, Steve [Bisciotti], Ozzie [Newsome], Eric [DeCosta] and the scouts. It's about Dick [Cass], Sashi [Brown] and the support staff. It's about all of us pulling together to win – to be the best."

Unlike other NFL head coaches, "Harbs" took the road less traveled. Most NFL field bosses graduate from pro jobs that include the word "coordinator" after "offensive" or "defensive," or they emerge from leading big-time college programs. Before becoming the Ravens' head coach in 2008, John was the Eagles' secondary coach (2007), and prior to that, Philadelphia's special teams coordinator (1998-2006) and a 14-year collegiate coach. (Harbaugh grew up learning about the game from his father, Jack, a longtime college coach.)

In 1998, then-Eagles head coach Ray Rhodes hired Harbaugh, who quickly established a reputation as one of the NFL's top special teams coaches. Subsequently, he was one of four assistants retained by Andy Reid in 1999.

Prior to hiring Harbaugh, the Ravens talked with over 40 people about the energetic coach. "Did we take a chance by hiring John? My belief is that you have to be willing to do things the masses don't, or you'll never separate yourself from the masses," team owner Steve Bisciotti stated. "We obviously picked the right person."

Simply put, Harbaugh strives to be the best. "We don't want to just win a championship. We want to be a championship team," he stated. "We seek the highest levels."

ADDITIONAL RAVENS NOTES DURING HARBAUGH ERA:

Maintaining a strong defensive tradition during his time in Baltimore (2008-23), Harbaugh's defense has allowed the NFL's fewest overall touchdowns (527), the fewest points per game (19.0) and the second-fewest net yards per game (318.2). Most recently in 2023, the Ravens allowed the NFL's fewest points per game (16.5), while in 2018, Baltimore produced the NFL's No. 1 defense (292.9 ypg) and the No. 2 scoring defense (17.9 ppg). The Ravens finished four-straight seasons (2008-11) as the NFL's No. 3 scoring defense (fewest points allowed) – tying an NFL record for consecutive seasons ranking in the Top 3 (record has since been eclipsed by Seattle, 2012-16). Additionally, from 2014-16, Baltimore's defense was one of three teams (Den. & Sea.) to rank in the NFL's Top 10 in yards allowed each season. Harbaugh's red zone defense has also finished in the Top 5 in nine of his 16 seasons, including first overall in 2011 and second in 2023, 2014, 2012 and 2008.

The Ravens' offense has also experienced record-setting success during the Harbaugh Era. In 2019, Baltimore finished No. 1 in the NFL in points (33.2) and rushing yards (206.0) per game, while it was No. 2 in total yards (407.6). In 2019, the Ravens also became the first team ever to average 200 passing and 200 rushing yards per game in a season. Baltimore also set a new NFL single-season rushing record (3,296 yards), besting the 1978 Patriots' 3,165. Additionally, in 2019, the Ravens set season team records for touchdowns (64), points (531), net yards (6,521), rushing yards (3,296) and first downs (386, eclipsed in 2021). This attack was led by unanimous NFL MVP QB Lamar Jackson, who accounted for a league-high 43 total TDs, including a league-best (and franchise-record) 36 passing scores. Jackson also rushed for 1,206 yards, setting a new NFL single-season record by a QB. A year later, in 2020, Baltimore's attack registered the second-most total TDs (55), points (468) and rushing yards (3,071) in franchise history. The 2020 Ravens also produced the NFL's No. 1 rushing attack (191.9 ypg), with their 3,071 rushing yards standing as the third most in a 16-game NFL season. (The Ravens own two of the Top 3 marks.) Producing a revolutionary rushing attack over the past several seasons, the Ravens have rushed for an NFL-high 16,668 yards (168.4 ypg) since QB Lamar Jackson's rookie campaign (2018).

On special teams, an impressive seven Ravens have earned 17 combined Pro Bowl honors while playing for Harbaugh: ST Brendon Ayanbadejo (2008), K Billy Cundiff (2010), RS Jacoby Jones (2012), K Justin Tucker (2013, 2016 & 2019-23), LS Morgan Cox (2015-16 & 2019-20), P Sam Koch (2015) and RS Devin Duvernay (2021-22). A byproduct of the Ravens consistently producing one of the NFL's top special teams units during Harbaugh's tenure, senior NFL writer Rick Gosselin ranked the Ravens in the Top 6 of his annual comprehensive ratings system in seven consecutive seasons (2012-18). (This includes a No. 1 ranking in 2015.) In 2021, Baltimore's special teams unit finished No. 1 in both Gosselin's rankings and Football Outsiders' DVOA ratings.

NFL ASSISTANT COACH: 1998-2007 (with Philadelphia)

Harbaugh's special teams in Philadelphia were consistently ranked among the NFL's best. From 2000-05, the Eagles' units finished in the Top 10 in five of those seasons in The

"What separates John from a lot of different coaches is that he watches every player. He has a tremendous work ethic, he has a passion for it, and he works well [with the scouts]. He has tremendous credibility with the scouts because they know he's done the work. That's what I love; that's a joy. He has a strong opinion, but it's always backed up by the tape and by what he wants on this team, and the scouts and coaches always respect that."

Dallas Morning News' special teams rankings. In 2001 and 2003, Philly ranked No. 1, according to senior NFL writer Rick Gosselin's composite ratings (includes 22 kicking-game categories).

Following the 2001 campaign, Harbaugh was voted the NFL's Special Teams Coach of the Year by his peers. He was also named The Dallas Morning News Special Teams Coach of the Year that season. In just four seasons (1998-2001), Harbaugh elevated the Eagles' special teams from 29th to first in the NFL.

In 1999, the Eagles signed K David Akers, who had been working as a part-time waiter after brief kicking stints with Carolina, Atlanta and Washington. With Harbaugh's help, Akers earned three Pro Bowl honors. Harbaugh also worked with P Dirk Johnson, another "street" free agent, helping him record the then-Top 2 punting averages (38.4 in 2005 and 37.4 in 2004) in Eagles history. Under "Harbs," 15 Eagles earned Special Teams Player of the Week awards, while snapper Mike Bartrum was named to the Pro Bowl, and return specialist Reno Mahe led the NFL with a 12.8-yard punt return average in 2005.

COLLEGE COACHING CAREER: Among John's 39 years of coaching is a two-year stint (1995-96) as the assistant head coach at the University of Cincinnati, finishing 6-5 both seasons with the Bearcats. He coached 10 years on offense and four on defense at the collegiate level, launching his coaching career in 1984 at the age of 21 as a graduate assistant for his father at Western Michigan. In his second position at the University of Pittsburgh (1987), he was mentored by the legendary Sid Gillman, a Pro Football Hall of Famer. John also coached the tight ends at Pitt under head coach Mike Gottfried. While at Cincinnati (1989-96), Harbaugh coached special teams, tight ends, outside linebackers and running backs, and he served as the recruiting coordinator.

Over eight years, Harbaugh recruited 27 starters for the Bearcats and tutored both the NCAA's top return man (former Raven Robert Tate, 34.3 KOR average in 1995) and the second-ranked returner (current Ravens assistant head coach/pass game coordinator Chris Hewitt, 31.5 KOR average in 1993).

John was part of a staff that helped Cincinnati produce three out of four winning seasons (1993, 1995-96) for the first time in 20 years.

"Harbs" also coached one season at Indiana in 1997 as the defensive backs coach/special teams coordinator, under former Ravens offensive coordinator Cam Cameron, and one year at Morehead State in 1988 as the defensive backs coach/special teams and strength and conditioning coordinator.

COACHING HONORS: Leading the 2019 Ravens to a franchise-record 14-2 season and No. 1 seed in the playoffs, Harbaugh was named the Associated Press and PFWA NFL Coach of the Year. He was also named AFC Coach of the Year by the NFL 101 Awards and "Greasy" Neale Pro Coach of the Year (Maxwell Football Club) in 2019. In April 2014, Harbaugh was inducted into Miami (Ohio) University's "Cradle of Coaches Association" and was immortalized with an on-campus statue. Harbaugh's statue joins existing Cradle of Coaches statues for Earl "Red" Blaik, Paul Brown, Carm Cozza, Paul Dietzel, Weeb Ewbank, Sean McVay, Ara Parseghian, John Pont and Bo Schembechler. The Cradle of Coaches honors Miami graduates who have earned recognition as national collegiate or professional Coaches of the Year, who have been inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame or the Pro Football Hall of Fame, or whose teams won national collegiate or professional/Super Bowl championships.

HARBAUGH COACHING FAMILY: Harbaugh is from a football family. His father, Jack, is a 41-year coaching veteran who won the 2002 NCAA Division I-AA football championship as the head coach at Western Kentucky. His younger brother, Jim, who was the Ravens' starting QB in 1998, played 14 seasons in the NFL, was the San Francisco 49ers' head coach from 2011-14 and led the University of Michigan to a National Championship in 2023. (The Los Angeles Chargers hired Jim as their head coach in 2024.) In a showdown that featured the first-ever NFL game between head coaches who are brothers, John's Ravens bested Jim's 49ers, 16-6, in a 2011 Thanksgiving Night primetime special. The Ravens, of course, then topped the 49ers, 34-31, in Super Bowl XLVII. The brothers' sister, Joani, is married to longtime collegiate basketball coach Tom Crean.

HARBAUGH IMMORTALIZED WITH STATUE AT ALMA MATER

In April 2014, Harbaugh was inducted into Miami (OH) University's "Cradle of Coaches Association" and was immortalized with an on-campus statue.

"I don't think you can even express what something like this means. I've been trying to figure it out," Harbaugh said. "There's nothing like Miami. There's nothing like being back here. Words can't describe my gratitude for being part of this."

The cross-country visit from Jim (then head coach of the 49ers) was a surprise: "There have been a lot of proud moments, but I've never been more proud of [John] than I am today," Jim said. "I always prided myself on being the tallest Harbaugh, but that all changed today when they unveiled that statue."

JOHN HARBAUGH

COLLEGE: Harbaugh earned a degree in political science at Miami (OH), where he won the Football Scholar Athlete Award as a defensive back for the Redhawks. He earned his master's in physical education at Western Michigan.

COMMUNITY IMPACT: Devoted to his family and Christian faith, John is most active in helping the Baltimore area be better for families. He earned the 2011 "Power of Excellence Award" from the (Ben) Carson Scholars for "demonstrating excellence in life and being a role model." He served on the board of the Port Discovery Children's Museum and is a contributor to numerous Baltimore-area events and charities. Also a willing volunteer, his wife, Ingrid, contributes to the Helping Up Mission and Sarah's House, and she is on the Board of Trustees at The Maryland Zoo in Baltimore. In 2020, the couple made significant donations to help fund the distribution of meals to healthcare workers serving on the frontlines of the COVID-19 pandemic. John and Ingrid also support Compassion International, which is an organization that aims to positively impact the long-term development of children living in poverty globally. Additionally, the couple is heavily involved in FCA Baltimore and has sponsored several Baltimore City girls' lacrosse teams, helping make the sport more available to youth who don't traditionally have much access.

Harbaugh is a strong advocate of the U.S. Military. The NFL awarded him its 2013 Salute to Service Award, acknowledging exceptional efforts by those in the league who honor and support military members. (He was also a finalist for the award in 2011.) In 2012, the late Army Chief of Staff General Raymond Odierno presented him with the Outstanding Civilian Service Award. Harbaugh has also visited numerous military installations, including bases in the Persian Gulf as part of the inaugural NFL USO Coaches Tour (2009), the Naval Special Warfare Center in Coronado, Calif., (2011), Andrews Air Force Base – just two days after the capture of Osama Bin Laden (2011) – and undisclosed locations in Turkey and Afghanistan.

In 2008, Harbaugh helped institute Military Appreciation Day – an annual event that takes place during Ravens training camp. Since its establishment, over 11,500 service members have enjoyed preferred seating and opportunities to meet Ravens players and coaches. Once the season begins, Harbaugh then invites wounded warriors to be his guests at every Ravens home game. In 2017, he donated New Era hats to soldiers in Afghanistan. The hats represented all four of the major professional sports leagues and several from the NCAA. Additionally, he has purchased school supplies for children whose parents are serving in the military and has sent care packages to troops overseas.

General Raymond Odierno, then-Chief of Staff of the Army, presented John Harbaugh with an Outstanding Civilian Service Award at Joint Base Myer-Henderson Hall, VA, on May 23, 2012.

HARBAUGH COACHING ACADEMY

The Harbaugh coaching family (Jack, John, Jim and Tom Crean) debuted their Harbaugh Coaching Academy (HCA) in 2024. The four men and their team of proven leaders joined together to help make a difference in the lives of athletes by way of the coaches who lead them. The academy starts by supporting coaches, teachers, instructors and even parents with the resources to bring out the best in their players both on and off the field. From tactical instruction and leadership skills to inspirational stories and the importance of mental health, HCA provides expert-backed content – filled with unique insights and techniques – to help improve team performance and change young lives for the better. For more information, please visit: <https://harbaughcoachingacademy.org/>.

PERSONAL: A history buff, Harbaugh has taken the Ravens to Gettysburg, Pa., during offseason team activities to learn about the Civil War. Near the end of the 2017 training camp, he surprised the entire team by cancelling practice on two occasions, loading everyone on buses to visit The Pentagon and Arlington National Cemetery and another day visit to the National Museum of African American History and Culture in Washington, D.C. The trips were opportunities for players, coaches and staff to receive behind-the-scenes tours of the historic locations and show appreciation for what each represents.

John attended Pioneer (Ann Arbor, MI) HS, where he and his brother, Jim, were inducted into the school's Hall of Fame in 2016. John and Ingrid have one daughter, Alison, a 2024 University of Notre Dame alum who played lacrosse for the Irish and is now enrolled as a graduate student at South Florida.

JOHN HARBAUGH

HARBAUGH FAST FACTS

John Harbaugh has led the Ravens to a playoff berth in 11 (2008-12, 2014, 2018-20 & 2022-23) of his 16 seasons, and in 2012, captured the franchise's second Super Bowl title. In 2019, Coach Harbaugh became the first Ravens coach ever to win Associated Press NFL Coach of the Year Award.

Here are several more Harbaugh quick hits:

Harbaugh owns the most road playoff wins (eight) by a HC in NFL history. Tom Landry (Dal.) and Tom Coughlin (Jax./NYG) are second with seven each.

Under Harbaugh, Baltimore (11) is one of four teams (NE - 12, GB - 12 & KC - 11) to earn a playoff berth in at least 11 of the past 16 seasons (2008-23). Baltimore (5) is also one of four teams (KC - 6, Buf. - 5 & Phi. - 5) to make the playoffs in at least five of the past six seasons (2018-23).

In 2019, the Ravens posted a franchise-best 14-2 record. Baltimore won a team-record 12 straight games to close out the regular season, earning its first-ever No. 1 playoff seed.

Coach Harbaugh has led the Ravens to five AFC North Division titles (2011-12, 2018-19 & 2023).

The Ravens' 12 playoff wins since 2008 tie (GB) for the fourth most in the NFL (KC - 16; NE - 16; SF - 13).

Under "Harbs," the Ravens have secured an appearance in four AFC Championship games (2008, 2011, 2012 & 2023).

"Harbs" is the only head coach in NFL history to win a playoff game in each of his first five seasons. Notably, no other NFL coach has won a playoff game in each of their first four seasons at the helm.

John and his brother, Jim (while with the 49ers), are the only head coaches to advance to three conference title games in the first five years as NFL bosses.

Harbaugh is the only coach in NFL history to win a playoff game in six of the first seven seasons of a coaching career.

In 2012, Harbaugh became the third coach (with Bill Cowher & Chuck Knox) since the 1970 merger to guide his team to the playoffs in each of his first five seasons.

With the Ravens' 2014 playoff berth, Harbaugh became one of eight coaches in NFL history to make the postseason in six of their first seven seasons coaching.

With his daughter, Alison, by his side, John celebrated the Ravens' 34-31 Super Bowl XLVII victory over the San Francisco 49ers at the Superdome in New Orleans (2/3/13). CBS Sports' Jim Nantz interviewed Harbaugh on the victory stage.

HARBS IN THE PLAYOFFS

The Ravens own an 12-10 playoff record under head coach John Harbaugh, a mark that includes a 34-31 victory in Super Bowl XLVII vs. the San Francisco 49ers.

CAREER PLAYOFF WINNING PERCENTAGE (Active Head Coaches / Min. 10 Games)

- The Ravens produced the NFL's No. 1 defense, allowing 292.9 yards per game...Baltimore also permitted the league's second-fewest points per game (17.9), just behind Chicago's 17.7...With 2018 Pro Bowlers LB C.J. Mosley (fourth), S Eric Weddle (sixth) and DT Brandon Williams (first), Baltimore ranked No. 1 in total defense for the second time (2006) in team history...The Ravens produced a Top 10 defense for the eighth time in Harbaugh's 11 seasons at the helm.
- Boasting the NFL's No. 2 rushing attack (152.6 ypg), the Ravens racked up the then-second-most rushing yards (2,441) in franchise history...Baltimore also produced a then-franchise-record 5,999 total yards...Over the team's final seven games (with Jackson as starter), Baltimore piled up an NFL-high 1,607 rushing yards (229.6 ypg)...RG Marshal Yanda earned his seventh Pro Bowl nod, helping Jackson finish with the NFL's most rushing yards (695) by a QB.
- K Justin Tucker (a Pro Bowl first alternate) made 35-of-39 FGAs and scored a franchise-record 141 points for the third-straight season, becoming the NFL's only kicker to surpass the 140 mark in each of the past three years (2016-18)...Baltimore ranked fifth in the NFL in punt return average (11.5), with RS Cyrus Jones posting the league's fourth-best mark (13.2).

- Winning six of its last nine games, Baltimore finished second in the AFC North with a 9-7 record, falling one game short of earning a playoff berth (lost on tiebreaker with Buffalo) for the seventh time in Harbaugh's 10-year tenure...The Ravens needed a home win over Cincinnati in Week 17 to make the 2017 playoffs...However, Baltimore's hopes were dashed when the Bengals produced a 49-yard touchdown pass on fourth-and-12 with just 44 seconds remaining to earn a hard-fought, 31-27 victory that closed out the season in heartbreaking fashion.
- The Ravens produced NFL bests in interceptions (22), takeaways (34) and shutouts (3 – the most in a season since the 2003 Patriots)...Baltimore's +17 turnover differential ranked No. 1 in the NFL, while its defensive passer rating (72.4) and 5 defensive touchdowns (tied with Det. & Phi.) were each second best...Baltimore allowed just 18.9 points per game, which ranked sixth best in the league...It marked the seventh time during the John Harbaugh Era (since 2008) that the Ravens produced a Top 10 scoring "D"...Behind Pro Bowlers LB C.J. Mosley, OLB Terrell Suggs and S Eric Weddle, Baltimore's defense ranked 12th overall (325.1 ypg).
- Over the season's last nine games, Baltimore scored the NFL's second-most points per contest (29.4)...During this span, the Ravens also ranked No. 1 in fewest giveaways (5) and No. 2 in sacks allowed (10)...Baltimore finished the year ranking ninth overall in points per game (24.7) and seventh (tied) in both giveaways (17) and sacks allowed (27).
- Football Outsiders tabbed Baltimore's special teams as the NFL's No. 1 overall unit in 2017...The Ravens' ranking (9.2%) was the NFL's eighth highest in a season since 1986...In the annual special teams report from senior NFL writer Rick Gosselin, Baltimore ranked in the league's Top 5 for six-straight seasons (No. 4 in 2017)...The most accurate kicker in NFL history, K Justin Tucker connected on 34-of-37 FGAs and all 39 PATs to earn first-alternate Pro Bowl honors...P Sam Koch posted NFL bests in both punts inside the 10 (16) & 20 (40), with the 40 boots inside the 20 setting a new franchise record...Baltimore also ranked No. 1 in kickoff return average (27.5), No. 5 in punt return average (10.1) and No. 1 in opponent KOR average (18.6).

- The Ravens finished second in the AFC North with an 8-8 record (4-2 in division play) behind the 11-5 Pittsburgh Steelers...The Ravens entered Game 15 at Pittsburgh with the opportunity to tie for first in the division, but dropped a dramatic 31-27 decision when the Steelers scored the winning TD with 9 seconds left...Baltimore played the NFL's second-most games (12) that were decided by 8 points or fewer...In posting a 6-2 record at M&T Bank Stadium, the Ravens boasted the NFL's No. 1 defense in both points (14.8) and yards allowed (260.3) at home.
- Through the first 12 games, Baltimore's defense ranked No. 1 in the NFL in yards allowed, and the unit finished seventh overall (322.1 ypg). (The Ravens became one of three teams – Den. & Sea. – to rank in the NFL's Top 10 defenses from 2014-16.)...Allowing 89.4 rushing yards per game, the Ravens ranked No. 5 vs. the run... Baltimore's ninth-ranked pass defense (232.8 ypg) tied (KC & SD) to produce the NFL's most INTs (18)... Earning his second Pro Bowl in three seasons, ILB C.J. Mosley helped the Ravens allow the league's ninth-fewest points (20.1 ppg), while free agent acquisition S Eric Weddle was spectacular in registering a team-high 4 INTs (tied with Mosley) and a career-high 13 PD.

- QB Joe Flacco set a single-season franchise record by throwing for 4,317 yards, adding 20 TDs... TE Dennis Pitta produced 729 receiving yards while leading the NFL in catches (86) by a TE. (Pitta also set the Ravens' single-season TE record for receptions.)... Pro Bowl FB Kyle Juszczyk led the league in receptions (37) and receiving yards (266) by a fullback, while also serving as a lead blocker for RB Terrance West (774 yards)... G Marshal Yanda earned his sixth-consecutive Pro Bowl honor, marking the longest active streak among NFL guards, and C Jeremy Zuttah was selected to the All-Star game as an alternate.
- In earning his second Pro Bowl and becoming a unanimous first-team All-Pro selection, K Justin Tucker produced perhaps the greatest season ever by an NFL kicker... Tucker scored a single-season franchise-record 141 points, connecting on 38-of-39 FGs (lone miss was a block) and 27-of-27 PATs... Tucker's 38 FGs ranked first in the NFL, while he was 10-for-10 from 50-plus yards, tying (Blair Walsh, 2012) for the most such kicks in NFL single-season history... Amazingly, an NFL single-season record 24 of Tucker's 38 FGs made came from 40 yards or beyond (he was 24-of-24 on such boots)... LS Morgan Cox earned his second-straight Pro Bowl invitation.

- The Ravens finished third in the highly-competitive AFC North, posting a 5-11 record... It marked just the second time Baltimore did not make the playoffs in Harbaugh's eight seasons... The Ravens had 20 players on Injured Reserve (NFL's second most), including eight key starters (DE Chris Canty, QB Joe Flacco, RB Justin Forsett, TE Crockett Gillmore, T Eugene Monroe, WR Steve Smith Sr., OLB Terrell Suggs and C Jeremy Zuttah)... Baltimore played an NFL-record 14 games decided by 8 points or fewer (tied, 1994 NY Giants) and played an NFL-high (tied, Chicago) seven games decided by 3 points or fewer (4-3 record).
- Despite starting four different QBs (Joe Flacco, Matt Schaub, Jimmy Clausen & Ryan Mallett) for the first time in franchise history, Baltimore posted the then-second-most total net yards (5,749) in team annals... The Ravens also set a franchise record by averaging 266.9 passing yards per game, thanks in part to a unit that allowed the NFL's third-fewest sacks (24)... Leading the O-line was G Marshal Yanda, who earned his fifth-straight Pro Bowl nod... WR Kamar Aiken finished with team highs in catches (75), receiving yards (944) and receiving TDs (5).
- The Ravens boasted the NFL's top overall special teams unit, ranking No. 1 in both senior NFL writer Rick Gosselin's annual comprehensive ratings system and the Pro Football Focus rankings – It was Baltimore's fourth-straight ranking in Gosselin's Top 5... P Sam Koch and LS Morgan Cox (a "need" player) earned their first Pro Bowl honors, with Koch posting a 42.9 net average (second in the NFL) and allowing 5.0 yards per return (the NFL's second-best figure)... The Ravens blocked a kick (2 PATs, 2 FGs and 1 punt) in five-straight contests, a feat that had not been accomplished since 1983 (Atlanta)... Baltimore's 5 blocked kicks in 2015 tied (Oakland) for the NFL's most.

- The Ravens ranked No. 8 in total defense, marking the 11th time the unit finished in the NFL's Top 10 in 13 seasons (2003-15)... In the season's final eight games, Baltimore posted the NFL's No. 2 overall defense and the No. 1 pass defense... Second-year LB C.J. Mosley tallied 116 tackles, 4 sacks and 7 PD, adding 1 FF and a 41-yard FR-TD... OLB Elvis Dumervil, whose leadership was valuable in the absence of OLB Terrell Suggs (Achilles tear), posted a team-high 6 sacks and made the Pro Bowl as an alternate.

- The Ravens produced a 10-6 regular season record, earning their sixth playoff berth in seven seasons... Baltimore, one of three AFC North teams to make the postseason, finished third in the division behind Pittsburgh (11-5) and Cincinnati (10-5-1), but advanced to the Divisional Playoff round after capturing a 30-17 Wild Card victory in the Steel City... The Ravens' bid to reach their fourth AFC Championship game under Harbaugh was cut short in New England, where Baltimore fell to the Patriots, 35-31, after holding two 14-point leads during a thrilling battle.
- The Ravens set single-season franchise records by scoring 409 points and producing 5,838 yards (since broken) of offense... Baltimore gave up just 19 sacks (second fewest in team history), which ranked only behind Denver's 17 as the NFL's fewest allowed... QB Joe Flacco tallied career bests in yards (3,986, since surpassed) and touchdown passes (27), while key free agent addition WR Steve Smith Sr. reached the 1,000-yard receiving milestone for the eighth time in his career (1,065 yards on 79 catches)... WR Torrey Smith posted 11 receiving TDs, the second most in Ravens single-season history... First-time Pro Bowl RB Justin Forsett produced a career-high 1,266 rushing yards (the NFL's fifth most) and led the league in runs of 20-plus yards (a team-record 17); Forsett's single-season franchise-record 5.4 rushing average also ranked as the NFL's No. 1 mark among running backs.
- Led by OLB Terrell Suggs and 2014 Pro Bowl selections OLB Elvis Dumervil and rookie LB C.J. Mosley, Baltimore racked up the NFL's second-most sacks (49, tied with Philadelphia), boasted the No. 2 red zone defense (42.6) and allowed the fourth-fewest rushing yards per game (88.3).
- P Sam Koch produced the NFL's No. 3 gross average (47.4) and No. 1 net average (43.3), setting the Ravens' single-season records for each... Highlighted by his third-career 108-yard KOR-TD, RS Jacoby Jones ranked second in the NFL in KOR average (30.6)... As a team, the Ravens were No. 1 in the league with a 28.3-yard KOR mark.

HEAD COACH JOHN HARBAUGH: YEAR-BY-YEAR

- For the first time since Harbaugh's 2008 arrival, Baltimore did not make the playoffs, falling one game short with an 8-8 mark and placing third in the AFC North...Baltimore played an NFL-high nine games decided by 3 points or fewer, compiling a 5-4 record in those contests...How close were the Ravens to making the playoffs? They were tied 17-17 near the end of the third quarter in the season-ending loss at Cincinnati, needing a victory to secure what would have been their sixth-straight postseason berth.
- OLB Terrell Suggs (10) and OLB Elvis Dumervil (9.5) combined for 19.5 sacks, with Suggs earning his sixth Pro Bowl invite... NT Haloti Ngata was elected to his fifth Pro Bowl, while CB Lardarius Webb's 22 PD ranked as the NFL's second most.
- WR Torrey Smith tallied 1,128 receiving yards, the second most in single-season team history (Michael Jackson - 1,201 in 1996) and had a career-high 65 catches, posting the NFL's fifth-best yards-per-catch average (17.4)...Undrafted rookie WR Marlon Brown's 7 receiving TDs tied (Torrey Smith, 2011) for the most by a rookie in team history, while he also finished second (Smith, 2011) in catches (49) and receiving yards (524) by a Ravens' rookie...G Marshal Yanda also earned his third Pro Bowl honor.
- Pro Bowl K Justin Tucker set franchise records in FGs made (38) and FGs attempted (41) and produced a then-franchise-record 140 points (tied for sixth in NFL)...Tucker also had 6 FGs of 50-plus yards and kicked 3 game-winning FGs, including a team-record 61-yarder at Detroit.

- The Ravens captured a second-consecutive AFC North title with a 10-6 mark before sweeping four playoff games to win Super Bowl XLVII: 24-9 over the visiting Colts on Wild Card weekend; 38-35 in double overtime at Denver in the Divisional Round; 28-13 at New England in the AFC Championship – shutting out the Patriots, who owned the league's top offense, in the second half; and then topping the 49ers, 34-31, in New Orleans at the Mercedes-Benz Superdome after jumping to a 28-6 third-quarter lead...Showing a resolve that was a hallmark of that championship team, the Ravens overcame a three-game December losing streak and 53 games lost to defensive starters to win the title.

- Baltimore set a then-franchise record by scoring 398 points, averaging the NFL's 10th-most points per game (24.9)...The Ravens scored a team-record 254 points at home, producing the NFL's fourth-best home average of 31.8 ppg...Baltimore also surrendered just 16 give-aways, setting a franchise single-season record low.
- The Ravens' special teams units were spectacular: In addition to posting a league-best (tied, Darius Reynaud) 3 kick return TDs (108- & 105-yard KORs and 63-yard PR), WR/RS Jacoby Jones led the NFL in KOR average (30.7)...Rookie K Justin Tucker, an undrafted free agent signing, made 30-of-33 FGAs (90.9%), producing the second-best success rate in Ravens single-season history and the second-best mark by a rookie kicker in NFL history.
- Six Ravens earned Pro Bowl honors: S Ed Reed (ninth), DT Haloti Ngata (fourth), FB Vonta Leach (third), RB Ray Rice (third), G Marshal Yanda (second) and Jones (first).
- En route to winning Super Bowl XLVII, the Ravens produced one of the most electrifying postseasons in NFL history by averaging 410.3 yards of offense per game (134.8 rush & 275.5 pass), scoring 31.0 points per contest and allowing just 22.0... WR Anquan Boldin recorded 22 catches for 380 yards and 4 TDs, while Jones posted a 29.4-yard receiving average (5 for 147), catching TDs of 70 and 56 yards (Jones also had a 108-yard KOR-TD in the Super Bowl)...With a 3-TD performance vs. the 49ers, QB Joe Flacco threw 11 TD passes in the postseason, tying the NFL single-postseason record shared by Joe Montana (1989) and Kurt Warner (2008)...Flacco finished the Super Bowl 22-of-33 for 287 yards to produce a 124.2 rating (eighth-best mark in SB history) and earned game MVP honors...The Ravens' defense was also stout during the playoffs, registering 10 takeaways (6 INTs and 4 FRs) to produce a +6 turnover differential.

- Producing a second-straight 12-4 record (13-5 overall), Baltimore won the AFC North, sweeping the division for the first time in team history...The Ravens were 6-0 against playoff teams (7-1 including postseason), matching Green Bay as the only clubs to go undefeated in division play and against other postseason qualifiers...In what was a franchise first, the Ravens also went unbeaten at home (9-0 with a playoff win over Houston)...Baltimore earned a 20-13 Divisional Round victory over the Texans, and then fell, 23-20, in a heartbreaking AFC Championship thriller at New England.
- The Ravens' defense, which finished No. 3 in the league in fewest points permitted (16.6) for the fourth-straight year, tied an NFL record for consecutive seasons of being in the Top 3 for points allowed.
- RB Ray Rice produced a career-high and NFL-best 2,068 yards from scrimmage, ranking second in rushing (1,364)...Rice also set a team mark with 15 total TDs...WR Torrey Smith was third among NFL rookies with 841 receiving yards (50 catches); his receptions and yards, plus 7 TDs, set new Ravens first-year standards.

HEAD COACH JOHN HARBAUGH: YEAR-BY-YEAR

- Eight Ravens earned Pro Bowl honors: LB Ray Lewis (13th), S Ed Reed (eighth), OLB Terrell Suggs (fifth), DT Haloti Ngata (third), FB Vonta Leach (second), Rice (second), G Ben Grubbs (first) and G Marshal Yanda (first)...Suggs was also named the 2011 Associated Press Defensive Player of the Year, marking the fourth time a Raven has won the honor (Reed - 2004 and Lewis - 2003 & 2000).
- For the first time in team history, Baltimore had a 3,000-yard passer (Joe Flacco - 3,613), 1,000-yard rusher (Ray Rice - 1,339) and 1,000-yard receiver (Derrick Mason - 1,028) in the same season.
- Five Ravens were voted into the Pro Bowl, including LB Ray Lewis (11th), FB Le'Ron McClain (second), DT Haloti Ngata (first), S Ed Reed (sixth) and Rice (first), who tallied the NFL's second-most yards from scrimmage (2,041)...Rookie T Michael Oher, who started all 16 games, finished second for Diet Pepsi Rookie of the Year (NFL.com fan vote) and earned All-Rookie team honors.

- Baltimore tied Pittsburgh for the best record in the division at 12-4, but lost the AFC North on the division-record tiebreaker (5-1 to 4-2)...Baltimore, Indianapolis (a then-NFL record nine in a row) and Philadelphia became the only teams to make the playoffs from 2008-10...The 2010 campaign also marked the first time the Ravens ever earned the postseason three years in a row (the Ravens later extended their record to five years in 2012).
- In the Wild Card game at Kansas City, the Ravens prevailed 30-7...Baltimore then dropped a 31-24 Divisional Round contest at Pittsburgh, which advanced to the Super Bowl...Harbaugh became the first head coach in NFL history to take over a sub-.500 team and then win a playoff game in each of his first three seasons (2008-10).
- Five Ravens earned Pro Bowl honors: K Billy Cundiff (first), LB Ray Lewis (12th), DT Haloti Ngata (second), S Ed Reed (seventh) and OLB Terrell Suggs (fourth)...WR Anquan Boldin tallied team highs with 64 catches and 837 receiving yards, while QB Joe Flacco threw 25 TD passes and a career-high passer rating (93.6)...RB Ray Rice finished with 1,776 yards from scrimmage, the NFL's third most.

2009

- After posting a 9-7 record, the Ravens produced their sixth playoff team of the decade (2000-09)...Behind the NFL's ninth-ranked scoring offense (24.4 ppg) and a defense that finished third in total yards (300.5 ypg) and points allowed (16.3 ppg), the Ravens upended the Patriots (33-14) in the Wild Card round, becoming the first road team to win a playoff game at New England since 1978.

- In Harbaugh's initial Baltimore season, the Ravens produced an 11-5 record and advanced to the AFC Championship game... Baltimore won the Wild Card game at Miami (27-9) and the Divisional game at the AFC's top-seeded Tennessee Titans, 13-10...Pittsburgh, the eventual Super Bowl champion, stopped the Ravens (23-14) in the AFC title matchup at Heinz Field...This first Harbaugh/Ravens team tied the NFL record (since 1978) for turnarounds by a head coach taking over a sub-.500 team... The Ravens' 2-1 playoff record following that regular season campaign established a new league standard in this same category...With the 13 total victories in 2008, Harbaugh set the NFL record for the most wins ever by a rookie head coach starting a rookie quarterback (Joe Flacco).
- Baltimore's stifling defense ranked No. 2 in the NFL by allowing 261.1 yards per game and was No. 3 in points allowed per game (15.3)...The Ravens also produced an NFL-best 26 INTs, including five returned for touchdowns...S Ed Reed tied his career high (2004) with a league-leading 9 INTs.
- Five players earned Pro Bowl honors: LB Ray Lewis (10th), Reed (fifth), ST Brendon Ayanbadejo (third), OLB Terrell Suggs (third) and FB Le'Ron McClain (first)...Flacco, who became the first rookie QB ever to win two playoff games, was named the Diet Pepsi Rookie of the Year (NFL.com fan vote).

MAKING HIS MARK

Entering 2024, John Harbaugh owns the fifth-best winning percentage (.612) among active NFL head coaches (minimum 100 games), compiling a strong 172-109 record (including playoffs).

CHRIS HEWITT

ASSISTANT HEAD COACH / PASS GAME COORDINATOR

COLLEGE: CINCINNATI

BORN: 7/22/74, KINGSTON, JAMAICA

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 16/13 (3 PLAYING, 13 COACHING)

CHRIS HEWITT enters his 10th season leading Baltimore's secondary, adding the assistant head coach title in 2024. He joined the Ravens as an assistant special teams coach in 2012, a post he held for two years, before earning a promotion to assistant secondary coach in 2014. Hewitt has led Baltimore's secondary since the 2015 campaign, helping the team consistently earn standout defensive rankings. Prior to his Baltimore arrival, Hewitt spent time coaching at the collegiate level, including one year (2003) as Notre Dame's assistant strength and conditioning coach and an eight-year stint (2004-11) at Rutgers.

- With Hewitt at the helm of the secondary (2015-23), Baltimore's defense has ranked at or near the top of the NFL in several categories, including points allowed per game (second – 19.6), yards allowed per game (first – 322.0) and opponent third-down conversion percentage (first – 36.0)...The secondary has also contributed to the NFL's third-ranked opponent passer rating (85.2) and fifth-ranked opponent completion percentage (62.1%).
- Hewitt has coached several Pro Bowl DBs since 2015, when he started leading Baltimore's group, including Kyle Hamilton (2023), Marlon Humphrey (2019-20 & 2022), Marcus Peters (2019), Earl Thomas III (2019) and Eric Weddle (2016-18).

CHRIS HORTON

SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR

COLLEGE: UCLA

BORN: 12/29/84, LOS ANGELES, CA

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 14/11 (3 PLAYING, 11 COACHING)

CHRIS HORTON is in his sixth season leading the Ravens' exceptional special teams group. Since joining the team in 2014, Horton has helped Baltimore's units perform at a consistently high level. Prior to coaching, Horton, a seventh-round selection in the 2008 NFL Draft, played safety for three seasons with Washington (2008-10).

- Horton has helped coach four Pro Bowl Ravens: LS Morgan Cox (2015, 2016, 2019-20), RS Devin Duvernay (2021-22), K Justin Tucker (2013, 2016, 2019-23) and P Sam Koch (2015).
- Since 2019, with Horton leading the group, Baltimore's special teams rank first in yards per punt return (11.3) and fifth in opponent yards per kickoff return (20.9).
- In Football Outsiders' annual special teams DVOA ratings, a metric for analyzing each play against NFL averages based on several variables, Baltimore finished in the Top 10 each year from 2012-23, with 10 Top 5 finishes, nine Top 3 finishes and the No. 1-overall spot four times...Since 2015, when Horton joined the special teams staff, the unit has posted seven Top 5 marks and six Top 3 marks, with three No. 1 finishes...Baltimore's special teams finished ninth in Horton's first year leading the group (2019) and posted a Top 3 mark in each of the next four seasons – with a No. 2 ranking in 2020, No. 1 ranking in 2021, No. 3 ranking in 2022 and No. 3 ranking in 2023.

ZACH ORR

DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

COLLEGE: NORTH TEXAS

BORN: 9/9/92, DESOTO, TX

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 12/11 (3 PLAYING, 8 COACHING)

ZACH ORR enters his eighth year as an NFL coach and first as the Ravens' defensive coordinator after two seasons (2022-23) as the team's inside linebackers coach. Prior to rejoining Baltimore, Orr spent one season (2021) as the Jacksonville Jaguars' outside linebackers coach. He has served in various roles on Baltimore's coaching staff since he transitioned to coaching in 2017, following his retirement from the NFL due to a congenital neck/spine condition. Orr originally signed as a rookie free agent ILB with the Ravens in 2014 and went on to earn second-team All-Pro honors in 2016.

- Over the past two seasons (2022-23), Orr guided ILBs Roquan Smith and Patrick Queen to career years, also helping them become anchors of Baltimore's defense. During this two-season span, the Ravens' unit ranked Top 10 in yards allowed per game (312.8, sixth), rushing yards allowed per game (100.8, fifth), passing yards allowed per game (212.1, ninth), points allowed per game (17.5, second), opponent third-down conversion percentage (35.7%, third), opponent red zone efficiency (43.8%, first) and takeaways (56, fourth).
- The 2023 Ravens' defense became the first unit in NFL history to lead the league in scoring (16.5 ppg), sacks (60) and takeaways (31). ILB Roquan Smith became just the third player in NFL history to register at least 100 tackles and 1 INT in each of the first six seasons of a career (2018-23).
- In 2022, ILBs Roquan Smith and Patrick Queen were one of only two sets of LB teammates to record at least 60 tackles, 1 sack and 1 INT after Week 9, when Smith was acquired by Baltimore (Houston – Christian Kirksey & Christian Harris). Queen registered a career- and team-high 117 tackles, along with career highs in sacks (5) QBHs (14), INTs (2) and PD (6).
- Under Orr's tutelage, Jaguars OLB Josh Allen became the NFL's only player in 2021 to register a FR, INT and sack in the same game, earning AFC Defensive Player of the Week honors (Week 9 vs. Bills).
- In 2020, the Ravens allowed the NFL's second-fewest points per game (18.9) and produced the No. 2 third-down defense (34.0%), also registering a league-high 25 FFs.
- The 2019 Ravens allowed the NFL's third-fewest points (17.6) and fourth-fewest net yards (300.6) per game...Baltimore notched the league's fifth-ranked run "D" (93.4 ypg) and was sixth against the pass (207.2 ypg).
- The Ravens were the NFL's No. 1-ranked defense in 2018, allowing an NFL-low 292.9 yards per game as well as the league's second-fewest points per game (17.9).
- Orr worked with a Ravens' defensive unit that led the league in both takeaways (34) and INTs (22) in 2017.

2022-23: (with Baltimore) 2023: ILBs Roquan Smith and Patrick Queen formed the NFL's only duo to each post at least 130 tackles while manning the middle of a historic Ravens defense that became the first unit ever to lead the league in scoring (16.5 ppg), sacks (60) and takeaways (31)...Smith earned his second-consecutive Pro Bowl nod and 2023 AP first-team All-Pro honors, while Queen was selected to the Pro Bowl for the first time in his career. 2022: The Ravens' inside linebackers unit helped Baltimore's "D" rank in the Top 5 in multiple categories, including No. 3 in points allowed per game (18.5)...Smith, acquired midseason by the Ravens, registered 86 tackles, 2 sacks, 1 INT and 3 PD in nine games for Baltimore, en route to his first Pro Bowl and first-team All-Pro honors...Queen set career highs in tackles (117), sacks (5) QBHs (14), INTs (2) and PD (6).

2021: (with Jacksonville) The Jaguars finished in the AFC's Top 10 in total defense (353.1 ypg) and pass defense (227.9 ypg), while also producing the fourth-most QBHs (81) in franchise history...OLB Josh Allen registered 71 tackles, a team-high 7.5 sacks and career-high 12 TFL...Orr joined the Jaguars' coaching staff as outside linebackers coach.

2017-20: (with Baltimore) 2020: Baltimore was among the NFL's Top 10 defensive units, ranking seventh in total defense (329.8 ypg). 2019: Named coaching analyst...Ravens produced a franchise-best 14-2 record, winning a second-straight AFC North title...OLB Matthew Judon led the team with a then-career-high 9.5 sacks, earning his first trip to the Pro Bowl. 2018: Ravens were the NFL's No. 1 defensive unit (292.9 ypg) and among the best in several other key defensive categories: third in third-down defense (34.1), fourth in rushing yards allowed (82.9 ypg) and fifth in passing yards permitted (210.0 ypg). 2017: Helped coach a defensive unit that featured OLB Terrell Suggs, who earned his seventh Pro Bowl nod and led the team with 11 sacks...Named coaching and personnel assistant.

NFL PLAYER: (2014-16) Originally signed with the Ravens in 2014 as an undrafted rookie free agent from North Texas...Orr played in 46 career games (2014-16), posting 163 tackles, 1 sack, 8 TFL, 6 PD, 3 INTs, 1 FF and 2 FRs...In 2016, appeared in 15 games (all starts), tallying career highs in tackles (133), TFL (6), PD (5), INTs (3), FRs (2) and FFs (1), en route to earning AP second-team All-Pro honors.

COLLEGE: Graduated from the University of North Texas, where he played in 46 career games, posting 365 tackles (then-third most in school history), 5 sacks, 25 TFL, 3 INTs, 4 FFs and 9 FRs during his four-year career (2010-13)...Received first- (2013) and second-team (2012) All-Conference USA accolades...Graduated with a degree in kinesiology in 2013.

PERSONAL: Attended DeSoto (TX) HS, where he recorded over 100 tackles in eight games during an injury-limited senior season...Posted 157 tackles, 24 TFL, 11 sacks, 1 INT and 3 FRs as a junior in 2008...His father, Terry Orr, was a tight end for the now-Washington Commanders from 1986-93, while his younger brother, Chris, is a former NFL linebacker who currently plays for the New Jersey Generals of the USFL...His older brother, Terrance, is the offensive coordinator at Hebron (Carrollton, TX) HS, and his younger brother, Nick, played college football at TCU from 2014-17...Zach and his wife, Chanel, were married in June, 2024.

RANDY BROWN

SENIOR SPECIAL TEAMS COACH

COLLEGE: CATAWBA

BORN: 7/30/67, MARLTON, NJ

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 21/17

RANDY BROWN enters his 17th season on the Ravens' special teams staff. Originally joining Baltimore in 2008 as a kicking consultant, Brown has worked with John Harbaugh since beginning his coaching career with the Eagles in 2004.

- Brown has helped coach six Pro Bowl Ravens: LS Morgan Cox (2015, 2016, 2019-20), RS Devin Duvernay (2021-22), K Justin Tucker (2013, 2016, 2019-23), P Sam Koch (2015), K Billy Cundiff (2010) and K Matt Stover (last kicked for the Ravens in 2008 but earned All-Star honors in 2000 prior to Brown's arrival).
- Under Brown's guidance, Tucker ranks as the most accurate kicker in NFL history (395-of-438 — 90.2%). ...Tucker's 395 FGM and 1,649 career points are the most in Ravens history... Since his initial NFL campaign in 2012 (Baltimore's Super Bowl XLVII Championship season), Tucker owns the NFL's most FGM (395) and points scored (1,649).
- In the annual special teams DVOA (Defense-adjusted Value Over Average) ratings from Football Outsiders, a popular metric for analyzing and comparing each play to the league average based on a number of variables, Baltimore finished in the Top 10 each year from 2012-23, including the No. 1 overall rating in an NFL-high four seasons (2012, 2015, 2017 & 2021) and a current streak of four consecutive Top 3 marks (2020-23).

JOE D'ALESSANDRIS

OFFENSIVE LINE COACH

COLLEGE: WESTERN CAROLINA

BORN: 4/29/54, SEWICKLEY, PA

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 16/8

JOE D'ALESSANDRIS (pronounced dell-ah-SAN-dress), a 45-year coaching veteran, enters his eighth season as Baltimore's offensive line coach. "Joe D" has extensive experience guiding and developing linemen, both in the collegiate ranks and pros. Since transitioning into the NFL in 2008, D'Alessandris has mentored players for the Chiefs, Bills, Chargers and Ravens. Prior to his time in the NFL, he tutored players in the NCAA, Canadian Football League and World League.

- In his seven full seasons in Baltimore, D'Alessandris has mentored several young O-linemen, including Pro Bowlers Tyler Linderbaum, Ronnie Stanley and Orlando Brown Jr., and veterans such as Pro Bowlers Marshal Yanda and Kevin Zeitler.
- In 2023, the Ravens set a single-season franchise record with 26 rushing TDs, eclipsed 100 yards on the ground in all 17 regular season contests and finished with the fifth-highest rushing total (2,661) in team history.
- During the 2021 season, the Ravens tied the all-time record for most consecutive games producing 100-plus rushing yards (43 games – 2018-21) in NFL history (Pittsburgh, 43 games – 1974-77).
- In 2020, the Ravens finished as the NFL's top-rated rushing attack (191.9 ypg) for the second-straight season and registered the third-most rushing yards (3,071) in a 16-game season... Baltimore's 24 rushing TDs ranked third in the NFL and set a new single-season franchise record.
- In 2019, the Ravens set a new NFL single-season rushing record (3,296), besting the 1978 Patriots (3,165)... Baltimore became the first team ever to average 200 passing and 200 rushing yards per game in a season.

2017-23: (with Baltimore) 2023: Ravens led the league in rushing offense (156.6 ypg) and ranked fourth in scoring offense (28.4 ppg)... C Tyler Linderbaum and G Kevin Zeitler earned their first Pro Bowl nods. 2022: Ravens ranked No. 2 in rushing yards per game (160.0), leading the league in rushes of 10+ yards (88) and games with at least 150+ rushing yards (12)... C Tyler Linderbaum was named to PFWA's All-Rookie team after becoming the fourth rookie O-lineman (Jonathan Ogden – 1996; Michael Oher – 2009 & Kelechi Osemele – 2012) in Ravens history to start every game. 2021: Ravens produced the league's No. 3 rushing attack (145.8 ypg) for an offense that ranked No. 6 in total yards (378.8 ypg)... According to ESPN analytics, G Kevin Zeitler registered a 95% pass-block win rate, which tied for the fourth-best mark amongst all NFL guards... Within the same metric, C Bradley Bozeman produced a pass-block win rate of 97% and a run-block win rate of 72%, both tied for the second-highest percentages amongst NFL centers. 2020: Baltimore finished with the NFL's No. 1 rushing attack (191.9 ypg) and an NFL-best six games with at least 200 rushing yards, including a franchise record 404-yard output in a Week 17 victory at Cincinnati... The Ravens' 3,071 rushing yards are the third most in a 16-game NFL season... RT Orlando Brown Jr. started 10 games at left tackle and earned his second Pro Bowl honor after LT Ronnie Stanley suffered a season-ending ankle injury in Week 8.

2019: Ravens ranked No. 1 in points (33.2) and rushing yards (206.0) per game, while they finished No. 2 in total yards (407.6) en route to a franchise-best 14-2 record and a second-straight AFC North title... Three Ravens O-linemen earned Pro Bowl honors: Brown Jr. (first), LT Ronnie Stanley (first) and RG Marshal Yanda (eighth). 2018: Coached an O-line that helped Baltimore produce the NFL's No. 2 rushing attack (152.6 ypg) and record the then-second-most rushing yards (2,441) in Ravens history... Yanda earned his seventh Pro Bowl, helping the team win the AFC North division title. 2017: Baltimore finished ninth in points (24.7 ppg) and seventh (tied) in both fewest giveaways (17) and sacks allowed (27) despite early season injuries on the O-line.

2013-15: (with San Diego) Led the Chargers' O-line for three seasons, developing talented linemen LT King Dunlap and G/T D.J. Fluker. 2014: Despite being riddled with injuries, the line protected QB Philip Rivers, who threw for 4,286 yards and 31 TDs. 2013: Chargers made the playoffs and allowed only 30 sacks, tying for the NFL's fourth fewest... Team also ran for over 100 yards in 12 of 16 games.

2010-12: (with Buffalo) Spent three seasons as the O-line coach, during a span in which the Bills allowed the NFL's fifth-fewest sacks (87)... Buffalo also registered the league's fourth-best rushing average (4.8). 2012: Buffalo produced the NFL's No. 6 ground attack (138.6 ypg)... RB C.J. Spiller rushed for 1,244 yards. 2011: Bills led the NFL in fewest sacks allowed (23), which also marked Buffalo's third fewest during a 16-game season... RB Fred Jackson (934) and Spiller (561) combined to produce 1,495 rushing yards and 10 TDs. 2010: Tutored an O-line unit that helped Jackson rush for 927 yards.

2008-09: (with Kansas City) Spent two seasons as assistant O-line coach. 2009: G Brian Waters earned his first Pro Bowl, and RB Jamaal Charles collected his first 1,000-yard rushing season.

2002-07: (with Georgia Tech) Developed a number of standout linemen, including T Nat Dorsey, who was drafted by Minnesota (2004), G Mansfield Wrotto (Seattle, 2007) and G Andrew Gardner (Miami, 2009)... Behind its O-line, Tech posted an ACC-best 2,591 rushing yards (199.3 ypg) in 2007... RBs P.J. Daniels (1,447 in 2003) and Tashard Choice (1,473 in 2006 & 1,379 in 2007) led the ACC in rushing... In 2005, Tech allowed an ACC-low 10 sacks.

1997-2001: (with Duke) Tutored several O-linemen who went on to play in the NFL, including G Lenny Friedman, who was drafted in the second round by Denver (1999) and enjoyed a 10-year pro career, and T Drew Strojny (a 2004 pick by NYG)... Also coached future NFL players C Troy Andrew (Miami) and C Shawn Lynch (Arizona), who signed as rookie free agents.

1977-96: D'Alessandris spent the early part of his career coaching the offensive line position both in the collegiate ranks, CFL and World League... Entered the full-time coaching ranks as the O-line coach for Livingston University, following two years as a graduate assistant at his alma mater (Western Carolina)... In 1994 with Texas A&M, the Aggies finished 10-0-1 and averaged 172.0 rushing yards per game.

DOUG MALLORY

SECONDARY COACH

COLLEGE: MICHIGAN

BORN: 11/2/64, BOWLING GREEN, OH

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 7/1

DOUG MALLORY, 59, brings extensive experience into his first season with Baltimore, where he works alongside assistant head coach/pass game coordinator Chris Hewitt in guiding Baltimore's secondary. A coaching veteran with over 30 years of experience, Mallory most recently served as Michigan's defensive analyst from 2021-23, aiding the Wolverines' 2023 national championship unit that allowed 10.4 points and 247.0 yards per game. Mallory originally joined the NFL ranks as a defensive assistant with the Atlanta Falcons in 2015, where he worked with linebackers and defensive backs. He spent his first 26 years in the industry (1988-2013) as a coach at various college programs, including Indiana (1988, 2011-13 & 1994-96), New Mexico (2009-10), LSU (2005-08), Oklahoma State (2001-04), Maryland (1997-2000), Western Kentucky (1990-93) and Army (1989).

- During his tenure as a defensive analyst at Michigan (2021-23), the Wolverines won three Big Ten titles and appeared in three College Football Playoffs, culminating with a National Championship in 2023 – the program's first since 1997.
- With the Falcons in 2016, Mallory helped guide the defensive backs for the NFC South division champions...That season, Atlanta represented the NFC in Super Bowl LI against New England.
- Served as the defensive backs coach for LSU when the Tigers won their third National Championship (2007).

2021-23: (with Michigan) 2023: Helped guide the Wolverines to a 15-0 record and their first national title since 1997, serving as a defense analyst for a unit that ranked No. 1 nationally in yards allowed per game (247.0) and points allowed per game (10.4). 2022: Michigan won its second-consecutive Big Ten title, with the defense ranking Top 10 nationally in rushing (97.9, sixth), scoring (16.1, seventh) and yards (292.1, fifth) per game. 2021: Led defensively by All-American OLBs Aidan Hutchinson and current Raven David Ojabo, the Wolverines earned their first Big Ten title since 2004.

2015-20: (with Atlanta) 2020: Helped guide S Keanu Neal to a career-best 9 TFL, while the defense permitted the NFL's sixth-fewest rushing yards per game (104.8). 2019: Assisted on a defense that finished strong following its Week 9 bye, posting the NFL's No. 1 third-down percentage (25.8%), No. 5 goal-to-go percentage (52.9%) and No. 6 red zone defense (42.9%) from Weeks 10-17...The Falcons finished 6-2 over the final eight games of the regular season. 2018: Had a helping hand in the emergence of S Damontae Kazee, who tied for a league-high 7 INTs. 2017: Atlanta ranked in the Top 10 in total defense (318.4 ypg, ninth), scoring (19.7 ppg, eighth) and red zone efficiency (45.8%, fifth)...Helped guide S Keanu Neal to his first-career Pro Bowl. 2016: Atlanta won the NFC South and reached the Super Bowl for only the second time in franchise history...S Keanu Neal made an immediate impact as rookie, posting 105 tackles (72 solo), 2 TFL, 5 FFs, 1 FR and 8 PD. 2015: Served as a defensive assistant and spent time with the linebackers during his first season in Atlanta.

2011-13: (with Indiana) Third stint at Indiana...Mentored DB Greg Heban, who became the first player in Indiana history to lead the team in INTs for three consecutive seasons.

TRAVELLE WHARTON

ASSISTANT OFFENSIVE LINE COACH

COLLEGE: SOUTH CAROLINA

BORN: 5/19/81, GREENVILLE, SC

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 17/1 (10 PLAYING, 7 COACHING)

TRAVELLE WHARTON is in his seventh season coaching NFL offensive linemen and his first as Baltimore's assistant offensive line coach. He most recently served as the O-line coach for the Washington Commanders (2023), being promoted to that role after assisting Washington's unit for three seasons (2020-22). Prior to that, Wharton was the assistant offensive line coach for the Carolina Panthers (2018-19), the same organization for which he spent nine years (2004-11, 2013) blocking during his playing career. He began his coaching career as offensive quality control coach at his alma mater, South Carolina, in 2015, before being elevated to the Gamecocks offensive line coach midway through that season.

- In 2023, under Wharton's leadership, Washington's rushing attack posted the league's seventh-most yards per rush (4.4) and ranked fourth in first downs per rush (27.6%).
- In 2022, Washington's offensive line paved the way for RB Brian Robinson Jr. to become the fifth player in team history to record 5 rushing TDs and 5 receiving TDs in a season.
- Wharton's unit blocked for RB Christian McCaffrey, who led the league in scrimmage touches (403) and yards (2,392), while tying for most scrimmage TDs (19) in 2019.
- As Carolina's assistant offensive line coach in 2018, Wharton's unit helped the offense rank No. 1 in yards per rush (5.1) and No. 4 in rush yards per game (133.5).
- Started 111 of the 115 regular season games he played in with the Carolina Panthers, both of which still mark the third-highest totals by an offensive lineman in franchise history.

2020-23: (with Washington) 2023: The Commanders rushing attack posted the league's seventh-most yards per rush (4.4) and ranked fourth in first downs per rush (27.6%)...The unit also posted the league's fifth-best red zone efficiency mark (63.3%)...The offensive line paved the way for RB Brian Robinson Jr. who became the fifth player in Washington's history to record 5 rushing and 5 receiving TDs in a single season. 2022: Led an offensive line that paved way for the league's 12th-most productive rushing unit (126.1 ypg). 2021: Assisted an offensive line that helped produce Washington's first 1,000-yard rusher since 2018 (RB Antonio Gibson – 1,037)...The run game ranked sixth in the NFC in both rushing yards (2,061) and rushing ypg (121.2). 2020: Helped Washington claim its first NFC East title since 2015 as a part of Ron Rivera's staff, whom he also coached with for the previous three seasons in Carolina...His unit helped rookie RB Antonio Gibson post 11 TDs rushing TDs, the second most by a rookie in franchise history (Alfred Morris 13 in 2012).

2017-19: (with Carolina) 2019: The Panthers ground game averaged 4.7 yards per rush (sixth in NFL) and posted 20 TDs (fourth in NFL)...Wharton's unit blocked for RB Christian McCaffrey, who led the league in scrimmage touches (403) and yards (2,392), while tying for most scrimmage TDs (19). 2018: In his first season as a full-time NFL coach, Wharton's unit helped the offense rank No. 1 in yards per rush (5.1) and No. 4 in rush yards per game (133.5)...The offensive line paved the way for RB Christian McCaffrey to post his first 1,000-rushing yard season (1,098) and 7 TDs. 2017: Assisted with Carolina's 2017 offseason workouts and training camp as part of the NFL's Bill Walsh Diversity Coaching Fellowship.

2015: (with South Carolina) Began his coaching career in offensive quality control at his alma mater before being elevated to offensive line coach midway through the season.

NFL PLAYER: (2004-13) Selected in the third round (94th overall) of the 2004 NFL Draft by the Carolina Panthers and played 10 seasons in the league – nine with the Panthers (2004-11, 2013) and one with the Bengals (2012)...Started 111 of the 115 regular season games he played in with Carolina, both of which still mark the third-highest totals by an offensive lineman in franchise history...Was a starter for each of the Top 3 rushing seasons in Panthers history (2008-09, 2011)...Helped the unit average 5.41 yards per carry in 2011, a mark that led the NFL and set a franchise record.

COLLEGE: Was a four-year letter-winning offensive lineman (2000-03) and appeared in 47 games (45 starts) at LT for South Carolina...Didn't allow a single sack after the second game of his freshman season (2000), a 45-contest streak...Earned second-team All-SEC honors and was named team captain his senior year...Also earned freshman All-America honors and a spot on the All-SEC freshman team.

PERSONAL: The Fountain Inn, SC, native, attended Hillcrest (Simpsonville, SC) HS, earning All-Area and All-State recognition as a senior...Participant of the Shrine Bowl following his senior year...In 2008, he was recognized by the State of South Carolina for being a role model and hero to the Greenville community and for his philanthropy among the youth of South Carolina...Hosted a free, family-run football camp for more than 500 kids each summer near Fountain Inn...Inducted into the Greenville County Schools Hall of Fame in 2017...Participated in the NFL's third-annual Personal Finance Bootcamp, to reinforce his financial fundamentals and model to his four children that learning never ends...He and his wife, Kashema, have three daughters, Gabrielle, Kaelyn and Kelsey, and a son, T.J.

COACHES

DANNY BREYER OFFENSIVE ASSISTANT COACH

COLLEGE: AKRON

BORN: 6/2/90, CINCINNATI, OH

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 8/2

Danny Breyer enters his second season in Baltimore and first as an offensive assistant coach. In 2023, he performed duties in an offensive quality control capacity with the Ravens, joining the club after three seasons with the Atlanta Falcons as an offensive assistant (2020-21) and run game specialist (2022). He previously served as a Tampa Bay Buccaneers' analytics assistant (2016) before being promoted to defensive assistant coach (2017-18). He also worked with the Miami Dolphins coaching staff during OTAs in 2015. Before entering the NFL ranks, he was the assistant to the head coach/assistant director of player personnel at Indiana (2013). Breyer earned a bachelor's degree in history from Akron. He spent time as a defensive undergraduate assistant at Illinois (2009) and Akron (2010-2011), rejoining the Zips as a graduate assistant in 2012 and 2014 while pursuing his master's degree.

BRENDAN CLARK DEFENSIVE QUALITY CONTROL COACH

COLLEGE: PENN STATE

BORN: 10/1/96, SOUTH ORANGE, NJ

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 3/3

Brendan Clark enters his third season with the Ravens and first as defensive quality control coach, where he works most closely with the linebackers, after spending the 2022-23 campaigns as a coaching fellow on the team's defensive staff. Before entering the NFL ranks, he coached safeties at St. Peters Prep (Jersey City, NJ) in 2021. Clark also spent four years working in insurance, serving as a senior resolutions manager at Gallagher Bassett and professional associate and senior claims manager at Chubb. Clark graduated from Penn State with a bachelor's degree in macroeconomics in 2018.

ADAM SCHRACK OFFENSIVE QUALITY CONTROL COACH

COLLEGE: KENT STATE

BORN: 8/24/92, MOGADORE, OH

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 4/4

Adam Schrack is entering his fourth year with the Ravens and first as an offensive quality control coach. Schrack spent two years as Baltimore's coaching research intern before being elevated to coaching analyst in 2023, supporting the team's football research department in formulating weekly reports for opponent preparation and aiding self-scouting processes. Prior to his Baltimore arrival, Schrack served as the special teams coordinator and running backs coach for Notre Dame College (2020), adding special teams responsibilities after three years (2017-19) guiding exclusively the program's running backs. Schrack also spent time as a recruiting operations coordinator at Michigan (2016), coached wide receivers for USA Football during the National Development Games and aided both sides of the ball at Archbishop Hoban (Akron, OH) HS and his alma mater, Mogadore (OH) HS. He first entered the coaching ranks as an undergraduate student assistant at Kent State University, earning his bachelor's degree in education in 2015.

TRAVIS SWITZER RUN GAME COORDINATOR

COLLEGE: AKRON

BORN: 11/10/92, LANCASTER, PA

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 8/8

Travis Switzer is in his eighth season in Baltimore and first as run game coordinator. After earning an invitation to the Miami Dolphins' rookie minicamp as an offensive lineman in 2015, Switzer soon transitioned into the coaching ranks. He originally joined the Ravens in an administrative – performance role for the 2017 season. From 2019-20, Switzer served as an offensive coaching analyst, where he helped guide the wide receivers group, before working closely with the tight ends in his elevated role as offensive quality control coach in 2021. He continued to help guide Baltimore's tight ends as an offensive assistant in 2022 and offensive quality control coach again in 2023. Switzer played four seasons (2011-14) along the offensive line – with 36 consecutive starts at center – for the Akron Zips, for whom he was an Academic All-MAC selection (2014) and a two-time offensive recipient of the Harry "Doc" Smith Award (2013-14), which recognizes the most outstanding player of each class. He earned a bachelor's degree in sports management from Akron.

MEGAN MCLAUGHLIN

SR. DIRECTOR OF FOOTBALL INFORMATION

COLLEGE: ST. MARY'S COLLEGE

BORN: 4/28/76, DESTREHAN, LA

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 23/20

In her 20th year with the Ravens, Megan McLaughlin was promoted to senior director of football information in 2024. She supports the coaching staff in all of its daily operations. Among her many duties, McLaughlin manages the updates for the players' iPad playbooks, making sure they have the latest information, including daily schedules and gameplans from the coaches. McLaughlin previously served as the administrative assistant to player personnel for the Saints (1999-2001), and she was also an office manager for the University of Florida football team (2002-04). McLaughlin was a student manager for football and women's lacrosse at Notre Dame (1995-98). She earned a bachelor's degree from St. Mary's College in Notre Dame, IN.

NEXT WOMAN UP: MEGAN MCLAUGHLIN

In 2021, Ravens Sr. Director of Football Information Megan McLaughlin was featured in the NFL's Next Woman Up, a Q&A series with some of the most influential women in the league. Below are excerpts from McLaughlin's Q&A, which can be found in its entirety at: <https://www.nfl.com/news/next-woman-up-megan-mclaughlin-director-of-football-information-of-the-baltimore>

What's next in line of things you want to accomplish?

"I'm happy where I am and I love what I do. I don't feel the need to push for something else. Nothing that's above me interests me enough to have to give up something I love. Yes, it's a lot of work, and there are days when I'm frazzled, but I don't feel the need or pressure to go to a higher position. I'm happy where I am and still find a lot of value in my job."

I like that you are so sure about your role and the value it brings to the organization. So, lastly, what are you most proud of?

"I still get phone calls and texts from people I've worked with -- players, coaches, staff -- either checking in or asking me for help, because they know I'll be able to help them figure out whatever they're missing. It's my reputation that I'm most proud of, because people still want to reach out, talk to or come see me."

MEGAN ROSBURG

ASSISTANT TO THE HEAD COACH / DEFENSIVE ASSISTANT

COLLEGE: AMERICAN UNIVERSITY

BORN: 1/9/93, CINCINNATI, OH

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 3/3

Megan Rosburg assists head coach John Harbaugh in all areas, including football operations, scheduling, communications and staff management. Additionally, she has worked with the defensive line and outside linebackers for the past three seasons, officially adding defensive assistant to her title in 2024. While earning her bachelor's degree in business administration from American University in 2014, she served as captain of the volleyball team, helping lead the Eagles to three Patriot League Championships and the program's first-ever Sweet 16 appearance in the NCAA Division I Tournament (2014). A local phenom, Rosburg prepped at River Hill (Clarksville, MD) HS, where she was named 2010-11's Gatorade Maryland Volleyball Player of the Year, recognizing her outstanding athletic excellence, high standards of academic achievement and exemplary character demonstrated on and off the court. Her brother, Jerad, is a professional hockey player in the NHL, while her sister, Margaret, is a nurse and former volleyball player at St. Louis University. Megan's father is former Ravens special teams coordinator/associate head coach Jerry Rosburg.

NEW YORK TIMES PIECE ON MEGAN ROSBURG

In 2024, Ravens Assistant to the Head Coach/Defensive Assistant Megan Rosburg was the subject of a New York Times profile written by Tashan Reed. Below are excerpts from Reed's piece on Rosburg, which can be found in its entirety at: <https://www.nytimes.com/athletic/5598386/2024/08/05/megan-rosburg-ravens-assistant-coach/>

Rosburg, now 31, is one of 12 full-time female coaches in the NFL. Seeing the players galvanize around her message affirmed to Rosburg that they respected her just like any other coach on staff.

"At the end of the day, it's all about the players. Whether you're a female coach or a male coach, your resume is what they do on tape," Rosburg said. "If you can give the players information or give them an advantage to help them win on Sunday, they will trust you, and they will respect you. If you're genuine, and you do things that will help them win and help them prolong their career, it doesn't matter what you look like. ... If you're real with them and you can help them, they'll trust you as their coach."

OZZIE NEWSOME

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

COLLEGE: ALABAMA

BORN: 3/16/56, MUSCLE SHOALS, AL

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 47/29 (13 PLAYING, 34 FRONT OFFICE)

OZZIE NEWSOME's legacy is unlike any the game of football has produced. Simply put, "The Wizard" will forever remain in a class of his own.

Flourishing at every point of his football career, Newsome has not just followed a successful path, he has blazed the trail. Known throughout all of sports as a premier leader, Newsome is a Hall of Fame player, the architect of Baltimore's Super Bowl XXXV and Super Bowl XLVII championship teams and an elite personnel evaluator who became the NFL's first African American general manager in 2002.

(In 2019, Newsome's longtime top lieutenant, Eric DeCosta, took over as the Ravens' EVP & GM. However, Newsome maintains a significant role within the organization as its executive vice president.)

"If Ozzie wasn't already in the Hall of Fame as a tight end, they would be putting him in as a general manager," Hall of Fame GM Bill Polian stated.

"Ozzie is special as a person," head coach John Harbaugh states. "Obviously, he's great at what he does – that's proven. He's been great at everything that he's done. If you look at his history, he's a Hall of Famer; he's in every Hall of Fame there is and still counting. For me, it goes beyond that; it goes to who he is as a person – the type of husband he is, the type of father he is, the type of friend he is, confidant, advisor, just all-around good person with a great heart and a strong faith."

Newsome's remarkable football journey began in Leighton, AL, where he first stepped onto the gridiron with the hope of playing college football. That dream turned into a reality when he became a standout at Alabama under Bear Bryant from 1974-77. "Coach Bryant helped me grow up," states Newsome, who has a sideline portrait of the legendary coach and mentor on his office wall. "He pushed me further than I thought I could go, both on and off the field."

In 1978, Cleveland selected Newsome in the first round (23rd overall) of the NFL Draft. Playing 13 years for the Browns, he authored the most productive career for a tight end in the game's history. A three-time Pro Bowler, his 662 receptions for 7,980 yards and 47 TDs stood as NFL records by a TE until Hall of Famer Shannon Sharpe surpassed those marks in 2001 (HOFer Tony Gonzalez now owns the catches and receiving yards marks, while Antonio Gates holds the TDs record).

Following his storied playing days, Ozzie joined Cleveland's front office. His initial non-player position came as an assignment scout in 1991. Two years later, he was promoted to a comprehensive role – assistant to the head coach/offense/pro personnel. "I had to find out which direction my career would go," Newsome explains. "Art [Modell] gave me the opportunity to work with the coaches, and I enjoyed that. At the same time, I increased my experience with the personnel department and decided that's where I wanted my career to head."

In 1994, Newsome was named the Browns' director of pro personnel. Although he continued to help on the field, Ozzie provided detailed studies on other NFL players and recommended which players the Browns should try to acquire. When the franchise moved to Baltimore in 1996, Mr. Modell invited Newsome and promoted him to vice president of player personnel. From that point, Ozzie's reputation as a supreme talent assessor grew quickly.

In the Ravens' first-ever draft, Newsome tabbed T Jonathan Ogden and LB Ray Lewis (fourth and 26th selections, respectively). Combining to produce an amazing 24 Pro Bowl honors, Ogden became the first Ravens' draft choice elected into the Pro Football Hall of Fame (2013), while Lewis was enshrined in 2018. Fittingly, the duo joined Newsome, who was inducted into the Hall as a Brown in 1999.

Another top Newsome draft pick, S Ed Reed (2002), received a gold jacket in 2019, giving the Ravens three first-ballot Hall of Famers – all selected by "The Wizard."

Starting with Ogden and Lewis, Newsome consistently

"He and I have always been very different in a lot of ways, but so aligned. It's a special relationship in my life. I've learned a lot of football, but honestly, just a lot more about being a good person. So, I am extremely happy that Ozzie is going to play such a significant role moving forward for this organization."

– Ravens EVP & GM Eric DeCosta on Ozzie Newsome

compiled impressive draft classes for the Ravens. In the team's first 23 drafts (1996-2018) – all led by Newsome – Baltimore tabbed 24 first-rounders who have earned a total of 68 Pro Bowl honors. When the Ravens had a high pick, they didn't miss. Of the eight players chosen in the Top 10 by Baltimore, five (Ogden, OLB Peter Boulware, CB Chris McAlister, RB Jamal Lewis, the 2003 NFL Offensive POTY, and OLB Terrell Suggs, the 2011 NFL Defensive POTY) earned Pro Bowl accolades. Additionally, Baltimore picked in the bottom half of the first round with uncanny success: Lewis was twice named the NFL Defensive Player of the Year; TE Todd Heap (31st) went to two Pro Bowls as a Raven; Reed (24th) was chosen an All-Star nine times and earned NFL Defensive Player of the Year in 2004; QB Joe Flacco (18th) was named Super Bowl XLVII MVP, leading the Ravens to their second World Championship in 2012; LB C.J. Mosley (17th) became the first Ravens rookie to garner Pro Bowl honors following an exceptional 2014 season (and again in 2016-18); and three-time Pro Bowler QB Lamar Jackson (32nd) has twice been named NFL MVP (2019 & 2023).

Amazingly, in the Ravens' brief history with Newsome at the helm, he drafted 25 players who earned Pro Bowl honors in Baltimore. When including 2006 Pro Bowl LB Bart Scott, Pro Bowl K Justin Tucker (2013, 2016 & 2019-23), Pro Bowl LS Morgan Cox (2015-16 & 2019-20) and Pro Bowl FB Patrick Ricard (2019-22), who signed as rookie free agents in 2002, 2012, 2010 and 2017, respectively, Baltimore produced 29 homegrown Pro Bowlers under Newsome's leadership.

In addition to his knack for evaluating talent on the field, Ozzie has also mastered the ability to develop and share insight with scouts who work under him. Over time, Newsome developed the Ravens' methodical and disciplined draft process, one that's foundation is laid years in advance. Now led by DeCosta, the "process" includes 28 members of the scouting department, but also has feedback from Ravens coaches. Much of Baltimore's staff has been with the team since the franchise started in 1996 or has graduated from the "20/20 Club," a group that consists of members who began with the Ravens as young assistants and grew into evaluators with more input. (The term "20/20" refers to hiring "20-year-olds for $20,000." "Actually, the guys started when they were a little older than 20 and for more than $20,000, but that's what we call them," Newsome adds.)

DeCosta and Newsome, who is on the NFL's Competition Committee and the NFL Player Care Foundation Board, encourage all scouts and coaches to have strong opinions, noting specifically that they want to hear what everyone in the room has to say. Because of this philosophy, one of the biggest strengths of the Ravens' personnel team is that "we respect and listen to each other."

"We've been fortunate to have guys who cut their teeth right here in Baltimore, and our methods and philosophies have become engrained," Newsome affirms. "We have had great guys with Phil Savage, 'Shack' [James Harris], George Kokinis, Eric DeCosta and other people who were helping these young scouts along the way. I think that's the secret. It's the way we do things, and the way these guys gravitate to the process of the Baltimore Ravens."

With leadership from Newsome, Baltimore also fosters an environment that breeds standout coaches. By bringing in individuals who embrace the "Raven Way," Baltimore creates a synergy that manufactures success among scouts, coaches and players. As a result, the Ravens have had many assistants move on to become or return as head coaches, both on the collegiate and NFL level: Jim Caldwell (Lions), David Culley (Texans), Jack Del Rio (Jaguars/Raiders), Vic Fangio (Broncos), Kirk Ferentz (Iowa), Thomas Hammock (Northern Illinois), Pat Hill (Fresno State), Hue Jackson (Raiders/Browns), Gary Kubiak (Broncos), Marvin Lewis (Bengals), Mike

"[Ravens] guys love to play the game, and those are the guys you surround yourself with," states Ryan, who worked with Newsome from 1999-2008. "That's why you have a chance to be successful [in Baltimore]."

Dr. Tucker has accrued nearly 35 years of experience providing primary medical care to professional, collegiate, scholastic and recreational athletes – most recently serving as medical director of the MedStar Health Sports Medicine program at MedStar Union Memorial Hospital.

Reporting to EVP & GM Eric DeCosta for all matters related to player care, Dr. Tucker oversees day-to-day player wellness. Even with his CMO position for the Ravens, he maintains his clinical practice at MedStar.

In addition to his role as the Ravens' CMO, Dr. Tucker has served on several NFL medical committees and most recently was Chair of the NFL Medical Committee, while he's also a past president of the NFL Physicians' Society.

Dr. Tucker's clinical research includes cardiovascular health and screening in athletes and sports concussions in pediatric and adult athletes. He is published in multiple medical journals and has written book chapters on a variety of sports health topics, including concussions, pre-participation examinations, and musculoskeletal injuries and disorders.

Prior to joining MedStar in 2004, Dr. Tucker was the director of primary care sports medicine at the University of Maryland Medical Center and an assistant professor for the Department of Family Medicine at the University of Maryland School of Medicine (1996-2004).

He has also served as a staff physician in the Department of Orthopedics at the Cleveland Clinic Foundation and as an assistant clinical professor at Case Western Reserve University in Cleveland.

After receiving his medical degree from Southern Illinois University, he completed two fellowships in sports medicine.

Andrew and his wife, Sheldon, have three children: daughters, Caroline and Sally, and a son, Drew.

MICHELLE ANDRES

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT OF RAVENS MEDIA

COLLEGE: FURMAN

BORN: 1/21, MADISON, WI

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 19/19

MICHELLE ANDRES, who joined the Ravens in 2006, is in her 19th season with the team after being promoted to senior vice president of Ravens Media in 2015. She leads the franchise's digital media, productions, and strategy and analytics departments.

Andres is responsible for digital fan engagement, including social media, mobile, web, online sales, email, photography and television programming. She also oversees fan-centric digital technology like VR, AR, AI, CTV/OTT and more.

Lastly, Andres leads business intelligence initiatives, including fan research, business analytics and data management.

Prior to working for the Ravens, Andres spent nine seasons with the NBA's Orlando Magic – seven in public relations overseeing corporate communications and government relations and two leading the franchise's newly-formed interactive marketing department.

Andres was a lecturer at Georgetown University's Sports Industry Management Graduate Program for four years (2013-16), teaching sports digital media and enhanced consumer engagement.

A native of Gainesville, FL, Andres earned her master's degree in political campaign management from the University of Florida and her bachelor's degree in political science from Furman University.

BRAD DOWNS

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT OF MARKETING

COLLEGE: ROBERT MORRIS

BORN: 2/22/77, WILLIAMSPORT, MD

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 23/23

BRAD DOWNS, who is in his 23rd season with the Ravens, was elevated to senior vice president of marketing in 2020. He leads the team's advertising, branding, game entertainment, fan development, promotions and partnership activation efforts. In 2023, Downs also assumed a leading role in "The Next Evolution," which is a three-year upgrades project to significantly enhance the gameday and year-round fan offerings at M&T Bank Stadium.

Under Downs' guidance, the team's youth initiatives were revamped, led by the creation of RISE, a first-of-its-kind youth football platform to encourage participation in the sport and engage with youth through high school football players. In 2023, the Ravens and Under Armour partnered with Frederick County Public Schools (FCPS) to provide grant funding and uniforms for the development of high school girls' flag football programs. The success of this launch has led to partnerships with Baltimore City Public Schools (City Schools), Montgomery County Public Schools (MCPS) and Washington County Public Schools (WCPS) to provide grant funding and uniforms for those high school girls' flag football programs in the fall of 2024.

Under Downs, the Ravens have been widely recognized as a leader in fan engagement, due in large part to the continued success of its Purple fan club for women, in addition to numerous fan affinity programs that cultivate excitement and create top-notch experiences.

The organization's gameday experience has consistently ranked among the NFL's best, with 2023 yielding a No. 3 overall satisfaction score, including the No. 1 spot for game entertainment (according to the NFL's annual Voice of the Fan Survey). Downs also oversees the Ravens' premier pre-game destination, RavensWalk, which has routinely ranked among the league's best for pre-game entertainment outside the stadium.

Prior to joining the Ravens, Downs was a regional marketing manager with Adelphia Business Solutions, where a key part of his role was leading the naming rights partnership of Adelphia Coliseum when it was the name of the Tennessee Titans' home stadium.

In 2016, Downs was named one of Baltimore Business Journal's "40 Under 40" honorees, and in 2017, he was inducted into the Sport Management Hall of Fame at his alma mater, Robert Morris University.

Downs was a longtime board member of the Ravens Foundation, Inc. and currently serves on the board for The Family Tree in Baltimore. He and his wife, Amy, have two sons, Zachary (10) and Carter (8).

BRANDON ETHERIDGE

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT / GENERAL COUNSEL

COLLEGE: YALE / HARVARD LAW SCHOOL

BORN: 6/5/85, BALTIMORE, MD

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 11/9

BRANDON ETHERIDGE is in his ninth season as the Ravens' general counsel, following a 2021 promotion to senior vice president. He is responsible for oversight of all legal, compliance and risk management matters for the Ravens. Etheridge also leads the organization's government affairs efforts and plays a significant role in the Ravens' social justice reform work, helping strengthen governmental, law enforcement and community relations. He is a member of the Maryland and D.C. Bar Associations.

Etheridge was instrumental in helping complete the new 2023 stadium lease agreement between the Maryland Stadium Authority (MSA) and the Ravens that extended the team's commitment to remain in Baltimore and support investment in M&T Bank Stadium through the end of the 2037 NFL season, with two five-year options to extend.

In 2019, Etheridge advised on legal matters during the three-year, $120 million M&T Bank Stadium improvements project, also coordinating with the Department of Homeland Security to help the stadium secure SAFETY Act designation. In 2018, he was instrumental in the administration and initial distribution of funds for the Ravens' Social Justice Fund.

From 2014-16, Etheridge was part of the NFL Management Council, providing counsel to teams on matters like the Collective Bargaining Agreement, player contracts, discipline and healthcare. He also represented clubs in arbitration proceedings and advised on employment matters.

Prior to his time at the NFL, Etheridge worked from 2011-14 for the international law firm of Covington & Burling in Washington, D.C. He represented numerous clients in the sports industry, including the NFL.

Etheridge earned his Bachelor of Arts in Political Science from Yale University, where he was also a two-time letterman as an OLB/DE. He then attended Harvard Law School, where he earned a J.D. in 2011. Born in Baltimore and raised in Maryland's Prince George's and Howard Counties, for much of his youth, he attended the McDonogh School, which is located just a few miles from the Ravens' training facility.

In 2014, Etheridge was named to Forbes' "30 Under 30" list as one of the "Sports World's Brightest Young Stars." In 2018, he was honored as a member of the Baltimore Business Journal's "40 Under 40" class, while in 2024 he was tabbed a Sports Business Journal "40 Under 40" honoree.

Etheridge serves on the Board of Trustees for the Baltimore Community Foundation and the McDonogh School. During the COVID-19 pandemic, he was selected by Maryland Attorney General Brian Frosh to serve on the Attorney General's COVID-19 Access to Justice Task Force.

COLLEGE: MORGAN STATE

BORN: 3/19/83, COLLEGE PARK, MD

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 15/3

SIMON GELAN, who was promoted to senior vice president of operations in 2024, returned to the Baltimore Ravens for his second stint with the club after rejoining the organization in July 2022. Gelan is responsible for directing the team's day-to-day operations, including at the Under Armour Performance Center, summer training camp and minicamps, team travel, team services, grounds, facility maintenance, and game operations and food operations for players, coaches and staff. Gelan previously spent three seasons (2019-21) as the director of team logistics and business process liaison for the Chicago Bears, where his responsibilities included home game operations, team travel, budgeting and master planning. Gelan also spent nine seasons (2010-2018) with the Cleveland Browns in numerous roles, most recently as the director of football operations. In his first role with Baltimore, Gelan worked for one season (2009) in the operations department. Prior to that, he spent time with the Chicago Bears (2008) and San Francisco 49ers (2007) in their respective equipment departments. In June 2024, Gelan attended "NFL League of Leaders," which is an executive education program at the Stanford Graduate School of Business that brings together leaders from both the clubs and league office to accelerate leadership development among the NFL's senior level talent. A native of College Park, MD, Gelan is a graduate of Morgan State University. He and his wife, Lywanda, have two daughters, Camille and Savannah.

JEFF GOERING

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT / CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER

COLLEGE: ROCKHURST (KANSAS CITY, MO)

BORN: 12/29/67, TULSA, OK

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 26/26

JEFF GOERING, who joined the club in 1999, oversees the Ravens' finance and information technology departments. He also works with the team's insurance and risk management matters. In terms of financial operations, Goering leads the strategic planning, budgeting, financial reporting, tax and audit processes. He also serves as the primary financial liaison with the Maryland Stadium Authority, working with various stadium contractors and event promoters. In overseeing the I.T. department, he focuses on matters such as hardware/software applications and network security/infrastructure.

Prior to being named SVP of finance in 2015, Goering served as the Ravens' VP of finance/chief financial officer (2008-14). He was elevated to senior director of finance in 2004 after spending five years as the organization's controller.

Previously, as a PricewaterhouseCoopers senior consultant in Dallas, Goering worked with many sports entities, preparing financial feasibility studies, market assessments and economic impact analyses for proposed new or expanded sports venues.

He received his Master of Science in sports management from the University of Massachusetts in 1998. During that time, he also served as a consultant in the evaluation and preparation of Boston Red Sox salary arbitration cases.

Goering spent a year in the Philippines as a community development volunteer for the Presbyterian Church, USA, in 1995-96. He received a B.S. in business administration from Rockhurst (Kansas City, MO) University.

Jeff, who previously served on the board of the Ravens Foundation, earned his CPA certificate in 1992. He and his wife, Sheryl, have two daughters, Olivia (23) and Carly (21), and a son, Daniel (18).

BAKER KOPPELMAN

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT OF TICKET SALES & OPERATIONS

COLLEGE: GUILFORD (GREENSBORO, NC)

BORN: 2/7/67, BALTIMORE, MD

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 29/29

BAKER KOPPELMAN has been with the Ravens since their 1996 inception. He oversees the team's PSL, season ticket and hospitality sales, ticket operations, ticket distribution, customer service, club level concierge service and upper level programming, and he assists with attracting events to M&T Bank Stadium. In relation to his roles, Koppelman contributes to internal committees tasked with reviewing and improving overall fan experience.

Koppelman has worked in professional sports ticketing operations since 1987, selling Baltimore Orioles tickets at Memorial Stadium during the summer while earning his sports management and economics degrees at Guilford College (Greensboro, NC), where he graduated in 1990.

He worked his way to a full-time position with the Orioles in 1991, helping manage the stadium box office and contributing with the seating relocation from Memorial Stadium to Oriole Park at Camden Yards in 1992. He then spent a season with the San Diego Padres in 1995, before returning to his hometown to join the Ravens prior to their inaugural 1996 season.

Koppelman has helped M&T Bank Stadium and the Ravens host a Billy Joel/Stevie Nicks concert (2023), Metallica concert (May 2017), Beyonce's World Formation Tour (June 2016), Billy Joel and One Direction concerts (both July 2015), Jay-Z and Beyonce's On the Run Tour (July 2014), and The Legends of The Summer Tour, featuring Justin Timberlake and Jay-Z (August 2013). Baltimore also hosted a U2 concert in June 2011, Monster Jam in June of 2011-13, a Kenny Chesney concert in 2008, international soccer matches between Chelsea and AC Milan (2009), Manchester City and Inter Milan (2010), Tottenham and Liverpool (2012), Arsenal and Everton (2022), FC Barcelona and AC Milan (2024), and the CONCACAF Gold Cup (2013 and 2015). M&T Bank Stadium has also hosted several premier college football games, including the annual Army-Navy showdown on four occasions (2000, 2007, 2014, 2016) and six NCAA Lacrosse Final Four tournaments (2003, 2004, 2007, 2010, 2011, 2014).

Koppelman is a graduate of St. Paul's School (Baltimore) and was inducted into its Athletic Hall of Fame in 2016 for his contributions as a team manager (football, wrestling and basketball) and a four-year member of the varsity baseball team. He is also a board member of the Baltimore chapter of the American Heart Association. Baker's wife, Reba, is the Ravens' senior director of finance.

ELIZABETH MEARMAN

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT OF PEOPLE, CULTURE & INCLUSION

COLLEGE: MARYLAND, BALTIMORE COUNTY (UMBC)

BORN: 5/25, BALTIMORE MD

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 21/21

ELIZABETH MEARMAN joined the Ravens in 2004 and was promoted to senior vice president in 2020. Originally hired as the organization's first-ever director of human resources, Mearman designed, developed and implemented many of the HR methods currently in use for the team. In 2023, she led rebranding efforts to create the Ravens' People, Culture and Inclusion Department, further strengthening diversity, equity and empowerment for the organization's hiring and employee engagement practices.

For the past 20 years, Mearman has been responsible for onboarding, benefits administration, performance management, compensation management, employee relations, organizational development and employee satisfaction. In 2020, she was tasked with leading the Ravens' internal DEIB efforts to enhance team dynamics, productivity and innovation within the organization.

Additionally, Mearman partnered with several other NFL teams to implement the first-of-their-kind NFL human resources meetings. The event has become an annual gathering, where HR leaders from nearly every team meet to discuss HR strategy, develop best practices and tackle issues that are unique to professional sports.

In 2019, Mearman and her team created/hosted the first-ever HBCU Career Combine, and in 2021, they took the Combine virtual when eight NFL teams participated to provide students from HBCU's a look into the world of working in sports.

Prior to the joining the Ravens, Mearman worked five years as an HR manager for the Allegis Group, a private staffing firm in Baltimore, MD. She holds her bachelor's degree in psychology from UMBC and her PHR.

Mearman previously served on the Board of the Ravens Foundation, Inc. and was a longtime member of The One Love Foundation's Regional Advisory Board.

Mearman lives in Millersville with her husband, Joe, their two children, Taylor (6) and Joseph (3), and their three rescue dogs, Sammi, Charlie and Frankie.

KEVIN ROCHLITZ

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT / CHIEF SALES OFFICER

COLLEGE: WYOMING

BORN: 1/5/71, CASPER, WY

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 22/22

KEVIN ROCHLITZ joined the Ravens in 2003 and was named senior vice president/chief sales officer in 2019. He leads the corporate sales department, which includes national and regional partnerships, broadcasting contracts – including WBAL-TV, WBAL Radio and 98Rock – and M&T Bank Stadium suite sales.

In 2023, Rochlitz led negotiations for the substantial 15-year M&T Bank strategic partnership and stadium naming rights extension. In 2024, he helped create and sell the brand-new Blackwing suites at M&T Bank Stadium, featuring 10 individual suites all connected to a private club that provides fans the NFL's most premium gameday experience.

Among other contracts completed by Rochlitz are partnerships with MedStar Health, Safeway, Visa, Coca-Cola, MillerCoors, Anheuser-Busch, Verizon, Southwest Airlines, Maryland Lottery and McCormick. He also led negotiations with sports gaming partners Caesars/Horseshoe Casino, BetMGM and Draft Kings.

In 2022, Rochlitz led the sale of the Advance Business Systems Suite Level at M&T Bank Stadium, while in 2014, he guided a team that completed a 10-year, $60 million partnership extension with M&T Bank, including the continuation of the stadium naming rights and several community-focused programs. In 2012, Rochlitz coordinated a partnership that led to the team's training facility being named the Under Armour Performance Center.

Rochlitz also spent five years as SVP of sales for Mandalay Sports and Entertainment/Mandalay Pictures, owners of the Dayton Dragons and Frisco Rough Riders. He coordinated the new stadium construction and sold naming rights for each venue (Fifth Third Field in Dayton, Ohio, and Dr Pepper Ballpark in Frisco, Texas). From 1996-97, he was one of the youngest assistant athletic directors in NCAA D-I for the University of Miami.

Rochlitz serves on the Syracuse University Sports Management Advisory Board and on the Maryland SPCA Advisory Board. He is also a member of the Signal 13 Foundation with the Baltimore City Police Department.

Named a Baltimore Smart CEO Executive of the Year in 2016, Rochlitz was also chosen to participate in the Leadership Baltimore County program from 2015-16. In 2011, he was selected by the U.S. Department of Defense and Secretary Robert Gates to join the Joint Civilian Orientation Conference to better understand and promote the U.S. military.

Rochlitz earned a degree in marketing from the University of Wyoming, where he sits on the Business Advisory Board. In May of 2021, he was named the Distinguished Alum for the university's College of Business. Rochlitz and his wife, Melissa, have a daughter, Riley (21), who is in her senior year at Wyoming.

CHAD STEELE

COLLEGE: WINTHROP

BORN: 10/11/74, WEST POINT, NY

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 26/23

CHAD STEELE, who is in his 23rd season with the Ravens, oversees the public and community relations departments. Steele is the organization's primary contact and spokesman for the team's communications efforts, and he directs strategic efforts promoting brand communication endeavors in coordination with football and business operations.

Steele and the Ravens' public relations department are three-time recipients of the Pete Rozelle Award (2010, 2012 & 2016), a prestigious annual honor that is voted on by the 300-member Pro Football Writers of America and given to the NFL P.R. staff that consistently strives for excellence in its dealings and relationships with the media. (The Ravens have also been finalists seven other times during Steele's tenure.)

Steele has been invited to assist the NFL's PR operations at six Super Bowls and currently serves as chairperson of the NFL's Football Publicity Committee. He was the first person ever chosen by the league office as a conference PR director for two consecutive Pro Bowls in Honolulu, HI.

Originally a 1998 season-long intern with the Ravens, he rejoined the team in 2002 following three seasons with the San Francisco 49ers' media relations department. Steele also worked two training camp internships with the Carolina Panthers (1996-97).

Steele, who was selected to attend Stanford University's Executive Education Program for NFL Managers in 2005, was also asked by the NFL league office, along with veteran NFL players and team player development directors, to lead discussions on media professionalism with the 2007 NFL draft class. In May 2016, he was chosen by the University of Maryland to be the keynote speaker at its Communications School graduation.

Steele serves on the boards of the Irvine Nature Center, Sutton Scholars and Stevenson University Brown School of Business and Leadership. In 2024, he was named an Honorary Commander for the 316th Helicopter Wing at Joint Base Andrews.

Steele, who is a 1997 graduate of Winthrop University (business administration), led the Eagles' basketball team as co-captain. He and his wife, Wendy, have a daughter, Dylan (14), and a son, Colton (10).

RICH TAMAYO

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT OF STADIUM OPERATIONS & GUEST EXP.

COLLEGE: STATE UNIVERSITY AT STONY BROOK

BORN: 5/13/91, QUEENS, NY

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 9/9

RICH TAMAYO is in his ninth season with the Ravens after being promoted to senior vice president of stadium operations and guest experience in 2022, following the retirement of longtime executive Roy Sommerhof. Originally hired as the Ravens' first-ever director of guest experience in 2016, Tamayo oversees all aspects of M&T Bank Stadium, including gameday parking and transportation, security, guest services, custodial services, catering, medical services and stadium maintenance.

In 2023, he assumed a leading role in "The Next Evolution," which is a three-year venue upgrades project to significantly enhance gameday and year-round fan offerings at M&T Bank Stadium.

While serving as the Ravens' director of guest experience, Tamayo was responsible for creating and developing standard-bearing initiatives that ensure the best experiences for fans on gameday.

Under Tamayo's leadership, the Ravens partnered with the Disney Institute to roll out the "Common Purpose and Quality Standards" program to over 2,500 gameday employees. He helped lead the hiring, onboarding and managing of both full-time and gameday team members, while also overseeing the service relationship of all operating partners at M&T Bank Stadium.

During his time in that role, Tamayo was responsible for the creation of the first comprehensive and all-inclusive employee Rewards/Recognition Program. He also created the "Welcome to the Flock" and "Season Kickoff" trainings to greet new and returning gameday team members each year. (Both programs are now considered NFL best practices.) Additionally, Tamayo is a valued contributor to the NFL's Guest Services and Security Committee.

Impressively, in 2019, Tamayo and his team were rated the NFL's No. 1 gameday staff by the league's annual Voice of the Fan survey.

Prior to joining the Ravens, Tamayo spent 14 years working for Disney, holding several positions that focused on maximizing guest experience initiatives.

A native of Queens, NY, Tamayo earned a B.A. in social science from State University at Stony Brook. He and his wife, Ashley, have one son (Zak) and three daughters (Madison, Reagan & McKinley).

TERESA ABATO

VICE PRESIDENT OF SUITE SALES & SERVICE

COLLEGE: COLLEGE OF NOTRE DAME

BORN: 2/26, BALTIMORE, MD

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 27/27

For 27 NFL seasons, Theresa Abato has been responsible for all aspects of the Ravens' private suite business, including sales, client relations and operations for both Ravens games and third-party events. She manages suite inventory/ticketing, sets revenue/expense budgets and oversees the contracts and fulfillment for 132 suites. Abato, along with her suites team of Hayward Caswell, Jillian Magnotta and Chris Lisle, are committed to reinforcing the first-class standards of the Ravens. Since M&T Bank Stadium's 1998 opening, Abato has been charged with creating and executing the valuable amenities and experiences suite owners receive. She has been instrumental in growing the suite business from 95 season-owned in 1998 to 132 full-season current suite relationships.

After completing an internship with the Maryland Stadium Authority in 1997, he was hired by the Ravens in July 1998. Cline helped open M&T Bank Stadium by providing countless tours to stadium partners to familiarize gameday team members with the new facility. Along with set-up and break-down of gameday executions, Cline staffed and managed the Ravens' Guest Services locations. After the terrorist attacks on 9/11/01, Cline was asked to manage the security implementation at M&T Bank Stadium. Working with local, state and federal security partners, measures were implemented and have been updated accordingly under Cline's direction for the last two decades. Cline was an integral part in M&T Bank Stadium becoming LEED-Certified in November 2013. It marked the first existing stadium, at the time, in the U.S. to receive this U.S. Green Building Council Award. M&T Bank Stadium received DHS Safety Act Designation in April 2020 and was awarded the National Center for Spectator Sports Safety and Security (NCS4) 2022 Facility of Merit Award by the National Football League's Security Directors. In addition to the security footprint, Cline is responsible for leading all gameday and stadium event logistics. Cline and his wife, Dana, have two children, Connor (15) and Kennedy (13).

JIM COLLER

VICE PRESIDENT OF FINANCE

COLLEGE: PENN STATE

BORN: 11/30/71, PHILADELPHIA, PA

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 26/26

Jim Coller is in his 26th season with the Ravens. During his time with the organization, Jim has served a variety of roles for the finance department, with responsibilities that have included overseeing day-to-day accounting functions of the team, assisting in the systematization of key financial activities, coordinating third-party audits and serving as a liaison with various team partners. Jim is a proud Penn State Nittany Lion alum and worked as an auditor with KPMG LLP in his native Philadelphia before joining the Ravens. When he is not playing with numbers, Jim enjoys spending time with his family, coaching youth sports and volunteering as treasurer on the PTO board of the local elementary school. He and his wife, Hope, reside in Hanover, PA, with their two boys, Alex and Evan, and dog, Bailey.

HEATHER DARNEY

VP OF COMMUNITY RELATIONS / EXEC. DIR. RAVENS FOUNDATION

COLLEGE: TOWSON

BORN: 5/19, BALTIMORE, MD

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 14/14

A Towson University graduate and Baltimore native, Heather Darney is in her 14th season with the Ravens. After working for the Baltimore Orioles for four years in special event management, she joined the Ravens in 2011 to provide oversight of the team's philanthropic initiatives. In her role as vice president of community relations, Darney is responsible for developing, implementing and administering the team's overall strategic charitable outreach efforts. This includes orchestrating over 300 player appearances annually that include hospital and school visits, food, toy and book drives, and fitness, education and literacy events. Additionally, Darney continues to serve as the executive director of the Ravens Foundation, Inc., where she manages and directs all fundraising, grant programs and initiatives executed by the team's charitable arm. Through this dual role, Darney annually manages the distribution of millions of dollars in combined contributions to over 2,000 nonprofit organizations throughout the Baltimore area. In 2019, Darney was named one of Baltimore Business Journal's "40 Under 40" honorees. Darney and her husband, Ed, have two daughters, Ava (10) and Julia (7).

JOAN FENNEKOHL VICE PRESIDENT OF TEAM TRAVEL

COLLEGE: MILLERSVILLE

BORN: 5/4, COATESVILLE, PA

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 25/25

Joan (Sieracki) Fennekohl is in her 25th season with the Ravens. She oversees all aspects of team travel, including contracting with hotels, charter aircrafts and buses. Additionally, Fennekohl is responsible for all logistical details related to team travel, including aircraft manifests, catering, hotel room assignments and itineraries. She also oversees the team's commercial travel, which includes events such as the NFL Combine, college pro days, the player offseason program and training camp. A two-time Super Bowl champion, Fennekohl was part of the Ravens' operations team during both their 2000 and 2012 championship victories. Prior to joining the Ravens, her extensive travel background includes work as a corporate travel agent as well as a customer service agent and supervisor for various airlines at BWI Airport. Fennekohl graduated from Millersville University with a bachelor's degree in communications. She resides in Baltimore with her husband, Eric.

PATRICK GLEASON VICE PRESIDENT OF PUBLIC RELATIONS

COLLEGE: COLORADO

BORN: 7/21/82, DENVER, CO

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 20/20

Patrick Gleason is in his 20th season with the Ravens, serving as the primary point of contact for player and assistant coach interview requests. He is responsible for the development and execution of all football publicity efforts, also working closely with the organization's digital media, broadcasting and marketing departments. Additionally, Gleason plays a significant role in organizational messaging and communication to Ravens stakeholders. He is part of a Ravens' staff that has earned three (2010, 2012 & 2016) Pete Rozelle Awards, an honor given by the Professional Football Writers of America to the NFL PR team that strives for excellence in its relationships with the media. (The Ravens have also been finalists six other times during his tenure.) Gleason has been invited by the NFL to help direct PR efforts for five

Pro Bowls. He originally joined the franchise as an intern in 2005 after graduating from the University of Colorado, where he spent four years working in the sports information office. Gleason currently sits on the board of the Ravens Foundation, Inc. He and his wife, Erin, have two sons, Jackson (6) and Cullen (2).

CHRIS INOUE VICE PRESIDENT OF RETAIL AND FOOD & BEVERAGE OPERATIONS

COLLEGE: HOUSTON

BORN: 11/6/70, HOUSTON, TX

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 12/12

Chris Inouye is in his 12th season with the team and oversees the retail experience and food & beverage operations at M&T Bank Stadium. Serving in a leadership role in the Ravens' strategic partnerships with Fanatics and Levy, Inouye has been responsible for buying, designing, and merchandising products, as well as conceptualizing new food and beverage menus and options. Before joining the Ravens, Inouye spent four years (2009-12) with Aramark at NRG Stadium (Houston, TX) and four years (2005-08) with Facility Merchandising, Inc. at M&T Bank Stadium, working in retail at both locations. He's also guided retail or food and beverage operations at several other venues, including Harry Grove Stadium (Frederick, MD), EagleBank Arena (George Mason University) and Thomas Run Park (Bel Air, MD), and served as the assistant general manager of the Melbourne Reds (former baseball team in the Australian Baseball League) for one season. A Houston, TX, native, Inouye graduated from the University of Houston (1993) with a bachelor's degree in both marketing and finance. He and his wife, Erin Pierce-Inouye, are the proud parents of a Dogo Argentino named Atticus MacArthur.

KATE KASABULA

VICE PRESIDENT OF CLIENT SERVICES

COLLEGE: DUKE

BORN: 3/12, BALTIMORE, MD

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 22/22

Kate (Kaiser) Kasabula is in her 22nd season with the Ravens. She oversees a team that ensures the execution and fulfillment of all corporate partnerships, totaling over 150 contracts. Kasabula and her team serve as liaisons between partners and internal departments to fulfill assets such as media, hospitality, signage and promotions. During her time with the Ravens, Kasabula has served in various roles within the corporate sales department, both in sales service and as an account executive, and she was a staff member during the Ravens' 2012 Super Bowl season. Prior to the Ravens, she attended Duke University, where she played on the women's lacrosse team. At Duke, Kasabula was a four-time All-American, a Tewaaron Trophy finalist, given annually to the most outstanding college lacrosse player, and an ACC 50th Anniversary Team selection. Additionally, she earned a silver medal with the United States Women's World Cup Lacrosse Team in 2005. Prior to her collegiate endeavors, Kasabula attended Notre Dame Prep in Towson, MD, and was inducted into its Athletic Hall of Fame in 2010. She was also honored by the US Lacrosse Baltimore Chapter and was inducted into its Hall of Fame in 2014. Kasabula and her husband, Brian, have two children, Connor (11) and Caroline (9).

ASHEESH KINRA

VICE PRESIDENT OF INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY

COLLEGE: CTREC

BORN: 10/16/78, BANGALORE, INDIA

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 19/4

Asheesh Kinra is in his fourth season with the Ravens after joining the team in June 2021. Prior to moving to Baltimore, he served for 12 years as the vice president of information technology for the Washington Commanders. In that role, he worked with both the Commanders' business and football departments helping to ensure their IT systems were efficient and productive. He also led the rebrand process to acquire the domain and update all technology to the new brand name for the then-Washington Football Team. Kinra also managed IT for former team owner Daniel Snyder's ancillary businesses. In addition to his time with Washington, he has worked in law firms, software security companies, an IT consultant company assisting biotechnology, real estate and financial firms. In June 2022, Kinra attended Stanford University's "NFL League of Leaders," an executive education program that brings together 40 leaders from both the clubs and the league office to accelerate the leadership development of the NFL's senior-level talent at Stanford Graduate School of Business. He currently lives in downtown Baltimore.

ROSS LUCIANO

VICE PRESIDENT OF SECURITY

COLLEGE: IONA

BORN: 7/15/73, YONKERS, NY

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 2/2

Ross Luciano oversees all security-related matters for the organization, including ownership, players, coaches and staff. He is responsible for security measures taken at the team hotels, serves as a personal security escort, directs security at the team's training facility and provides personal safety/security outside of work-related functions. Luciano also provides education on the NFL's personal conduct policy, as well as training and best practices related to state, traffic and weapons laws. Prior to joining the Ravens, Luciano enjoyed a decorated career in law enforcement that spanned over 25 years. He began as an officer in the New York City Police Department in 1997, a post he held for three years, before spending over 20 years in the United States Secret Service, where he served as a special agent in charge (SAIC) on numerous cases and supervised the protection of four U.S. presidents (George W. Bush, Barack Obama, Donald Trump and Joe Biden). Luciano's focus areas throughout his career in law enforcement also included cyber-enabled financial crime investigations, protective intelligence investigations and top-secret clearance. Born to Dominican parents in New York City, Luciano, a first-generation American, is fluid in both English and Spanish. He was raised in Yonkers, NY, and attended Roosevelt High School. Luciano studied criminal justice at Iona College in New Rochelle, NY, becoming the first in his family to receive a college degree. He and his wife, Mary, have been married for 15 years. The couple has two sons, Ethan (13) and Eliot (11), and two English Bulldogs (Justice & Judge).

ADAM NEUMAN

CHIEF OF STAFF, SPECIAL ADVISOR TO THE PRESIDENT

COLLEGE: YESHIVA UNIVERSITY

BORN: 6/3/90, BALTIMORE, MD

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 5/2

Adam Neuman, who joined the club in 2023, serves as strategic counsel and manages all administrative, operational, financial and legal activities for President Sashi Brown, touching almost every area of business within the organization. He plays a leadership role in developing ownership presentations and organization-wide strategic initiatives, constructing annual reports and bridging Baltimore's football operations and corporate strategy. Before joining the Ravens, Neuman served as chief of staff, strategy & operations and deputy general counsel at the Big Ten Conference. In this role, he aided the conference's historic expansion efforts with UCLA, USC, Oregon and Washington, assisted negotiations in the league's record-breaking $8 billion media rights deal with FOX, CBS and NBC, and inspired the development of the Mental Health & Wellness Cabinet for over 10,000 student-athletes. Neuman was recognized in The Athletic's College Sports 40 Under 40 and Modern Counsel's 35 under 35. He was appointed to the Maryland Port Commission as Port Commissioner, serves on the Board of Advisors for Israel Baseball Americas, and teaches a Masters level course in Intercollegiate Athletic Administration at Columbia University. Neuman is a licensed attorney with the State Bar of the District of Columbia, Illinois, Maryland, New York and the United States Supreme Court. Born and raised in Baltimore, MD, Neuman prepped locally at Yeshivat Rambam High School. He attended Yeshiva University for his undergraduate degree, University of Pennsylvania Law School for his Juris Doctor and the Fels Institute of Government at the University of Pennsylvania for his master's degree in public administration.

JAY O'BRIEN

VICE PRESIDENT OF BROADCASTING & GAMEDAY PRODUCTIONS

COLLEGE: LOYOLA (BALTIMORE)

BORN: 2/11/83, HELMETTA, NJ

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 21/21

Jay O'Brien leads Ravens Productions, an award-winning team responsible for all brand video and audio, including social and digital video content, in-stadium game presentation, television shows, preseason game broadcasts, podcasts and gameday radio. He also serves as executive producer of the Ravens' gameday production, which was recognized by the NFL's Voice of the Fan survey as the league's No. 1-ranked game entertainment in 2023 and for the top video board content each of the past four seasons. O'Brien was the Ravens' lead to debut the team's Mixed Reality Raven in partnership with The Famous Group in 2019 and received the 2020 Sports Business Award for Best in Sports Technology. He also played lead roles in the Ravens' pioneering partnerships with Skycam and Intel True View to enhance the team's fan experience. O'Brien and Ravens Productions received the team's first-ever national Sports Emmys Award for Outstanding Long Feature for their NFL Network co-production of "The Gift of Gaba" in 2021. More recently, Ravens Productions earned a team-record 11 regional Emmy Awards and 17 nominations in 2024. O'Brien has earned 25 regional Emmy Awards, and in 2017, the Baltimore Business Journal named him to its "40 Under 40" list. In his professional career, he has also produced numerous other live sporting events including the 2023 Army-Navy Game at Gillette Stadium, the 2021 Army-Navy game at MetLife Stadium, Navy football at Navy-Marine Corps Memorial Stadium, international soccer, Navy-Notre Dame football and ESPN college basketball games. He serves on the Loyola University Communication and Media Advisory Board and previously served on the Ravens Foundation Board. O'Brien earned an undergraduate degree in journalism from Loyola College and a master's in business administration from Towson University and the University of Baltimore. He and his wife, Alex, have a daughter, Siena (9), and a son, Shea (7).

CODY WILLIAMS

VICE PRESIDENT OF STRATEGY & ANALYTICS

COLLEGE: DELAWARE

BORN: 3/21/87, GLEN COVE, NY

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 13/13

Cody Williams is in his 13th season with the Ravens and leads a business intelligence team that is responsible for data analytics, insights and strategy for all business functions of the organization. In working closely with internal stakeholders, Williams helps identify and implement data-driven strategies that help achieve business goals. He originally joined the Ravens as a digital media intern in 2012 and is proud to have been a member of the organization during its Super Bowl XLVII championship run. Williams and his wife, Aubrey, have three sons, Connor (6), Keegan (4) and Charlie (2).

DICK CASS

PRESIDENT EMERITUS

COLLEGE: PRINCETON / YALE LAW SCHOOL

BORN: 1/13/46, WASHINGTON, D.C.

EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 20/20

Following 18 years as the Ravens' team president, DICK CASS retired on April 1, 2022. Throughout his impressive career, Cass made an indelible impression while overseeing all business areas for the Ravens, including finances, budgeting, non-football personnel, corporate sales, operations, communications and business ventures.

When Steve Bisciotti became the team's majority owner in 2004, his first hire was Cass as president. For the nearly two decades after, Cass provided a wealth of business knowledge, legal and negotiating expertise, philanthropic principles, and a calm and consistent leadership style.

Under his direction, Cass helped create the organizational culture for which the Ravens are known today. Most recently, he led the organization through challenges created by the COVID-19 pandemic and worked at the forefront of the team's social justice reform efforts, engaging local and federal legislators to enact policy change. With roots deeply entrenched throughout the Baltimore community, Cass has overseen countless initiatives with the goal of creating better opportunities and circumstances for those most in need. An impactful presence on the board of the Ravens Foundation, Inc., Cass has also served on boards for the Greater Baltimore Committee, Kennedy Krieger Institute and Baltimore Community Foundation.

Understanding the value of creating a world-class gameday experience for Ravens fans, Cass spearheaded multiple M&T Bank Stadium improvement/enhancement projects, reaching investment levels over $200 million. Through these efforts, the Ravens have consistently ranked among the NFL's best in gameday experience, as recognized by the annual Voice of the Fan survey. Cass also led the construction and subsequent expansion, at a total cost of more than $90 million, of the Ravens' Under Armour Performance Center, which continues as one of the NFL's best training facilities.

From 2004-21, Cass helped guide Ravens teams that won five AFC North titles, clinched 10 postseason berths, appeared in three AFC Championship games and won one Super Bowl (XLVII in 2012). During his tenure, Baltimore produced the NFL's fifth-best overall winning percentage (.586), including the league's third-best mark at home (.713).

In 2023, Cass was inducted into the Baltimore Sun's Business and Civic Hall of Fame, honoring the achievements of leaders who have spent their careers working to transform and improve Maryland.

Prior to joining the Ravens, Cass spent 31 years (1972-2003) as a partner at D.C.-based law firm Wilmer, Cutler and Pickering. He served as chairman of the firm's Business Transactions Section and was a member of its Management Committee. Some of his significant contributions to WC&P included: counsel to the Independent Commission of the US Olympics Committee (2003); counsel to the owner of the NBA's Charlotte Hornets during the team's relocation to New Orleans (2002); counsel to Steve Bisciotti in the purchase of the Ravens from the Modell family (2000 and 2004); counsel to the estate of Jack Kent Cooke in the sale of the Washington Commanders to Daniel Snyder (1999); counsel to Dallas Cowboys owner Jerry Jones in the acquisition of the team and Texas Stadium (1980s); and advisor to the NFL in connection with the Collective Bargaining Agreement that brought free agency and a salary cap to the NFL (1992-93).

Born in Washington D.C., Cass graduated Phi Beta Kappa from Princeton in 1968 before graduating from Yale Law School in 1971. He and his wife, Heather, have two children: a daughter, Courtney (Ryland Sumner), and son, Willy (Madelaine), and three grandchildren.
